MINER'S LIFE QUICKLY ENDED BY SHOT FIRED FROM AMBUSH AFTER HE DECIDED TO WORK

Mitchell Does Not Accept Winder's Arbitration Offer—Anthracite Operators in Consultation. First Bloodshed in Westmoreland County.

FOUR STATE POLICE ARE ARRESTED AT PITTSTON

FIRST BLOODSHED OF THE STRIKE IS NEAR ADAMSBURG

GREENSBURG, PA., April 6.—The first bloodshed of the strike in Westmoreland county occurred at the Edna No. 1 plant of the Baltimore and Pittsburgh Coal Company, near Adamsburg, tonight. While going from his home to an outbuilding, John Wessell was shot down from ambush. The bullet from a 38-calibre revolver passed completely through his body and he died two minutes afterward. Wessel was a striker and had not worked since the men went out. It is alleged that he had weakened and had promised the superintendent to return to work in the morning. He was a Hungarian, 40 years old, and left a widow and four children. His widow is ill and in a serious condition.

The greatest excitement prevails at Edna. Sheriff Seanor is gathering together deputies tonight and will rush them to the coal works when they are called for on a special engine from the county home junction.

OPERATOR WINDER TO MITCHELL AND PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

"I propose that, subject to the approval of a convention of the bituminous operators of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, which shall be called at the earliest date possible, the differences betwen us be referred for determination and settlement, to a board of arbitration composed of the members of the present board of conciliation provided for in the award of the Anthracite Coal strike commission, with Judge Gray, or any person he may appoint, to act as chairman and umpire, the decision of this tribunal, or the majority of members thereof, insofar as it influences wages, to be effective from April 1, 1906, and to continue in force until March 31, 1908, which decision is to be final and binding on all parties interested, the employes of the bituminous mines in the territory named to resume work immediately and to continue work pending the decision of said board."

PRESIDENT MITCHELL TO JOHN H. WINDER.

New York, April 6, 1906.

Mr. J. H. Winder, General Manager Sunday Creek Coal Co., Columbus, O.:

I have no authority either to accept or decline the proposition you make to arbitrate differences between bituminous operators and miners. The international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America will convene at Indianapolis on th 17th instant, at which time your telegram will be laid before it and the decision communicated to you. JOHN MITCHELL,

NO REPLY FROM PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—President Roosevelt has received a telegram from John H. Winder, president of the bituminous operators of Ohio, a duplicate of which was sent to President Mitchell of the miners' union, proposing arbitration. At the White House today it was stated that the telegram was sent to the President for his information; that no reply was expected and none will be sent.

FORCES IN ANTHRACITE FIGHT JUST WAITING.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Nothing developed in the anthracite situation today to clearly indicate what the outcome of next Monday's meeting between the subcommittees of the mine owners and the union leaders will be. There was no formal meeting of the operators. It was reported that the arbitration offer of the miners would be flatly refused, but it was denied by those in authority that a final decision had been reached. It was also reported that the operators may accept arbitration, but with a different sort of a tribunal. President Mitchell today concerned himself almost exclusively with the soft coal situation, and had no information to impart regarding the hard coal miners. He said his side has nothing to do now but wait for the operators' answer. It has practically been settled that if the operators refuse the arbitration offer, a call will go out at once for a convention.

In the Bituminous Field.

CLEARFIELD, PA., April 6.—The joint scale committee of the operators and miners failing to reach an agreement adjourned until next Tuesday evening when they will reconvene here.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., April 6.—The scale committee to which was referred the matters in dispute between miners and operators of the Seventeenth district has reached no agreement. It adjourned to meet here next Wednesday.

IRWIN, PA., April 6.—It is said that the striking miners in the field will make a demonstration in Irwin tomorrow. They claim that they will come here with a brass band and 1,000 men to show the miners at work that their ranks are still unbroken. The company at Edna tomorrow morning will make its first attempt to resume operations. About 20 deputies are there to step any interference with work, a large number, operators state, being ready to go into the mine.

GREENSBURG, PA., April 6.—Late tonight Edward E. Robbins on behalf of the Pittsburgh & Baltimore Railroad Coal Company was granted an injunction to restrain the strikers at the Edna No. 1 and Edna No. 2 plants from interfering with the miners who want to continue at work.

The injunction will be served tomorrow morning by Sheriff Seanor.

Herman Ales, a striker, was arrested this afternoon on the charge of threatening men who were on their way home from the pit. A charge of disorderly conduct was preferred against him before Justice J. Frank Beatty.

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—John H. Winder returned this evening from West Virginia. When asked regarding President Mitchell's reply that the matter could not be taken up by the national executive board until April 17, he declared that the delay would be immaterial, as the operators are in no hurry to resume operations. Mr. Winder and other operators of this city will attend a conference of Ohio operators at Cleveland tomorrow.

Regarding the report that the operators would attempt to employ non-union miners, he said such a thing was not contemplated by him and that he would not support such proceedings.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., April 6.—State President of the Miners Perry tonight said: "I think that by May 1 most Illinois operators will have signed the 1906 scale and the strike will be at an end."

Gas Explosion Hurts Ten.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Ten persons were injured by an explosion of gas in sewers at Fifty-first street and Eighth avenue tonight. A theory is that the refuse from automobile garages flowing into the sewers generates the gas and is responsible for the combustion.

In Anthracite Field.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Interest in the labor troubles in the anthracite regions was overshadowed today by the proposition that came out of the west for the arbitration of the differences existing between the soft coal operators who have not yet agreed to the 1903 scale and their miners.

The offer of the soft coal operators is identical, word for word, except where the term bituminous is substituted for anthracite, with the one President Mitchell presented to the hard coal operators here yesterday. There was considerable speculation as to how the miners' leader would receive his own arbitration plan for another field. He maintained his usual silence when asked what he would do. Within an hour of the receipt of the offer from J. H. Winder, the head of the Ohio soft coal operators, Mitchell sent a reply to the effect that he had no power to act on the proposition, but would submit it to the international

INDEPENDENTS READY TO SIGN SCALE OF 1903

The backbone of the strike in the bituminous coal fields throughout the country was broken last night by the action of the independent operators of the Pittsburgh district, representing an annual tonnage of 20,000,000 tons, when they agreed to dissolve their previous mutual agreement not to sign the scale of 1903. This action leaves it optional with the independents to sign, and before all the members had left the place of the meeting, officials of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo Company, one of the largest independent operators in this field, sent for President-elect Frank Feehan of the district organization of miners, and made arrangements to sign the new scale. Other independent interests will follow today.

Three reasons are assigned for the action of the independents last night. Probably the chief cause for forcing the hands of the local independent operators at this time is due to the attitude taken by the "stand pat" operators of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, whom local independents have been supporting by refusing to sign the new scale. These interests are reported to have taken advantage of the action of the local independents by demanding differentials from the miners against the Pittsburgh district, which is an attack upon the very local interests which have been helping them in their fight.

Reasons for Action Given.

The Pittsburgh district now enjoys differential advantages over these states, and in order not to sacrifice these by strengthening the position of the western operators, the action taken last night was decided on.

Other reasons assigned are that some

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LONDON, April 6.—The Pilgrims society tonight gave a banquet at the Savoy to Lord Curzon of Kedleston, in honor of the conclusion of his service as viceroy of India. Lord Roberts, who presided, proposed the toast to King Edward and President Roosevelt, which was enthusiastically received.

Mr. Justice Darling in the course of a short speech said he was glad to learn the British people were planning to return to the United States a picture of Benjamin Franklin which was captured during the War of Independence. The speaker was greeted with shouts of laughter when he suggested that Americans might reciprocate by returning what they had won as the result of that war.

Among the guests were Ambassador Whitelaw Reid, Consul-General Robert J. Wynne, Major General Miles, Major Beacom, U. S. military attache.

SNAKE CREATES PANIC AT RELIGIOUS MEETING

Reptile Winds Itself About Woman's Ankle and Causes Shrieks and Fainting.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 6.—During much talk about the renunciation of strong drink, in a Salvation Army meeting in East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street tonight, Mrs. Sophie Roeser shrilly shrieked that a snake had wound itself about her ankle. Then she fainted. Panic came to the 600 men and women present, until a policeman vanquished the reptile, which was of the garter species.

Maj. William Sheppard, who is head of the Salvation Army in the Bronx, had just called upon persons in the meeting to tell of the error of their ways. An aged man was telling of his wicked past and good resolves to keep away from drink in the future, when Mrs. Roeser's snake made trouble. Leaping upon chairs and tables men and women clung to each other and cried for help.

Taking up again the awful story of his life, the self-confessed bad man took a fresh start and the meeting went on as usual.

PASS FOR THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. Roosevelt Is to Receive an Annual from Officials of the American League.

CHICAGO, April 6.—(Special.)—Theodore Roosevelt, his family and friends are to be officially invited by President Ban Johnson and the officials of the Washington club, to attend the baseball games of the American league. A costly and artistic annual pass has been made for presentation to the President.

It is a "party" pass, and is good for the President and any number of friends. This pass, embossed in gold and inclosed in a seal case, on the outside of which is a monogram of the President, "T. R.," in solid gold. The pass bears the legend: "Theodore Roosevelt and Party. Complimentary."

GAME SO REALISTIC IT STARTS TROUBLE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 6.—(Special.)—Warrants have been issued by Justice Miskell for eight boys who are charged with having attempted to hang Robert Litz, aged 8. The children were playing Indian, and it is said, made Litz take the role of captive. They tied a rope around his neck and it is said dragged him through a field to a tree.

MAY REFUSE TO CONFIRM CLARK FOR DIRECTOR

Select Councilmen Plan Investigation of Charges Against Member of Cabinet.

Select council may refuse to confirm the appointment of James W. Clark as director of public works on Monday, when Mayor Guthrie will officially announce to that body the names of the members of his cabinet. At a meeting of a committee from the Republican caucus of select last night the proposition to withhold the indorsement of Director Clark's appointment was discussed.

The opposition to Director Clark is based on charges that he made threats to members of both select and common councils to discharge certain city employes whom the councilman had placed on the payroll unless they voted for the candidates whom Clark put up for presidents of the councils. In some instances these threats are alleged to have been communicated by letters. The names of the members who are said to have received these letters are known, and some of the letters may be produced if an investigation is made by select council.

Members who attended the committee caucus last night said that it would be finally determined today whether action would be taken in select council on Monday to hold up Director Clark's appointment. This may be done by the appointment of a committee to make an investigation and suspending action on the appointment until the committee reports.

Director Clark was very active in the organization of the new councils. While Mayor Guthrie announced that he would not interefere in the contest for the control of councils, it is stated that Clark made wholesale promises of jobs and in some cases used threats to get votes. He failed only by a slight margin in both branches to elect his candidates.

HE SAVES A VETERAN.

McKeesport Policeman Snatches Aged Soldier from Path of Speeding Engine.

Bernard Barncord, a civil war veteran of Allegheny, owes his life to Patrolman Flaherty of McKeesport. Barncord had been visiting friends in McKeesport and was awaiting at the Baltimore & Ohio station yesterday to take a train for Pittsburgh. The station platform was crowded and Barncord was pushed in front of an engine. When the train was within a few feet of him Flaherty jumped directly in the path of the engine and lifted the aged man from the tracks just as the engine grazed his clothing.

MIND READER FINDS BOY FOR HIS PARENTS

TRENTON, N. J., April 6.—(Special.)—George P. Nutt, the 12-year-old son of William M. Nutt, steward of the city almshouse, was returned to his home today after being mysteriously absent since Wednesday, when he ran away because his average at school was lower than he had hoped to obtain. His parents learned he was in Asbury Park by consulting Anna Eva Fay, a mindreader, now giving entertainments here.

Families Like Each Other.

BLOOMSBURG, PA., April 6.—(Special.)—Miss Margaret Gillespie of Spruce Run, the third sister to marry the third brother of the Larimer family of White Hall, was wedded today to Clyde Kramer. His two brothers married two sisters of his bride last year.

CLAIMS DOWIE LOST MONEY BY PLUNGING

Accusations Continue to Be Made Against the "First Apostle."

PROMISES A MIRACLE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 6—On top of all the accusations against "Elijah III," "Moses II," "First Apostle," "General Overseer" John Alexander Dowie comes the charge—a relatively mild one—that he gambled away enormous sums in Wall street. The private vault at the administration building and private deed boxes planted in places of safety about Zion City are to be opened in courts of law if necessary. His successor, Voliva, holds the key to the situation. A brown leather ledger, manufactured in London and fastened with a patent brass lock, reveals the heavy speculation on the New York stock exchange.

It is roughly estimated that $1,500,000 was lost by the "Prophet" during the slump of 1903. It is not known where this money was obtained, although entries in the book show $145,000 was received by checks from a Mrs. Des Forge, a Mrs. Minnie Coleman and a Mrs. H. Gershon.

The report that Dowie will signalize his entry into Zion City by some great miracle which will confound his enemies and rally the people to him once more caused excitement in Zion City today. Knowing Dowie's love for the spectacular, the citizens took the report seriously.

Promises to Bring Money.

Among other things Dowie promises to bring $10,000,000 in gold. He wired also he would bring several scrolls of parchment on which are written the five books of Moses. These are said by Dowie to have cost $2,000, and they are to be allowed to repose in Chicago to be viewed by "the faithful." Arrayed in his new robes to represent a reincarnation of Moses and with the scroll in his hand, he will step from the train at Zion City, and there, he says, the miracle will occur.

The $10,000,000 Dowie says he is bringing with him he represents to be a bequest from the estate of the late Baron Hirsch, left to him to assist in the delivery of the Jews from Russia, which he says he long has planned.

Just what shape the "miracle" will take is not known, but it is certain the deposed overseer will make his return to Zion a striking event. Meantime the Voliva forces solemnly vowed at morning prayer today to stand by the newly-appointed general overseer and if necessary, to prevent by force, the entry into Zion of the late "first apostle."

Mrs. Dowie Remains Faithful.

Dowie in secret messages to a deacon who still remains loyal and receives his cables at some distance from Zion City, promises to rout the rebellious forces even though "every drop of his blood be sacrificed."

It was declared from Zion City that at a meeting of the women of Zion church held today Mrs. Dowie, who has repeatedly declared that she had left her husband, announced her intention of standing by him. She declared in the meeting that while Dowie had unquestionably sinned, it was the work of an unclean spirit that had entered into him and asked the prayers of the women present to aid in the casting out of the evil spirit.

Dowie Cancels Voliva's Power.

SAN LUIS POTOSI, MEXICO, April 6.—(Special.)—John Alexander Dowie reached here tonight on his way to Chicago. He said: "I cancelled the power of attorney held by Voliva on Saturday. Every step he has taken has been illegal. I will come into my own and as God's chosen land deal out vengeance to the unworthy."

GHOST AMONG JOCKIES.

Strange Figure Is Said to Patrol Portsmouth Navy Yard During the Night.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., April 6.—(Special.)—According to good authority the navy yard is being patrolled by a ghost. Private Cleveland, of the marine guard prison ship Southerly, early this morning declares he saw the spook at the foot of the ship's gangway. So real was the vision that the sentry ordered the uncanny visitor to halt.

ENGINEMAN DIES IN A WRECK ON THE B. & O.

CUMBERLAND, MD., April 6.—(Special.)—Baltimore & Ohio passenger train No. 12 on the main line crashed into a freight wreck on the 1-mile grade just east of Swanton, Md., 35 miles west of here, tonight, and George W. Riley, an extra passenger engineman, was caught in the wreckage and killed. Riley was 38 years old and lived in Keyser, W. Va. A westbound freight train had been derailed and piled in a heap on both tracks just before train No. 12, eastbound, started down the grade. The passenger engine was thrown on its side. No one but the engineer was injured.

Depew Has Nearly Recovered.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(Special.)—Chauncey M. Depew is improving in health and expects to resume his seat in the senate sometime next week. In a letter written to Charles G. Bennett Senator Depew speaks with confidence of his steady improvement.

PITTSBURGH GRAFT TOO SMALL TO SUPPORT THE HEP SING TONG

Mock Duck, Famous Chinese Agitator, Regrets That He Cannot Operate in Grant Street—He Cannot Get Protection from Police.

Accompanying a wee Chinese bride and her husband, Lee Yum, who married her last week in San Francisco, Mock Duck, a Chinese agitator, passed through the B. & O. station last night en route to New York. Mock Duck is the acknowledged leader of the Hep Sing Tong, a society that permeates the country and the erstwhile ally of the Parkhurst society. Mock Duck has been figuring in an Oriental war between his society and the On Leong Tong that has already a death roll of 30 Chinese and several white men.

"I've just taken a little trip west—for my health," said the Chinese tong man in fairly good English, and he smiled blandly and significantly. He is still suffering from bullet wounds received last year at the hands of the rival gambling-graft society and the constant parade through New York courts which seem to leave him unscathed because of lack of reliable Chinese witnesses.

"Why are there no local Chinaman, members of your tong, here to meet you?"

"In Pittsburgh it is nearly all On Leong Tong, my enemies. I was here before to organize the Hep Sing Tong, but, as you say, 'nothing doing.' There are very few pie-gow and fan-tans games going in Pittsburgh, though your Chinaman have more money than the ordinary New York laundrymen. Police are too strict, and I have not heard that there is any "divvy" with the 'lobbygows' or detectives. The Chinese gamblers can't get protection, so what's the use of starting up the Hep Sings here."

Mrs. Lee Yum, who was in all the glory of brocaded jacket and bloomers hidden by a long overcoat, has been a resident of San Francisco only three months. She claims to be a cousin of Tom Lee, the millionaire "mayor of Chinatown," who is her escort's mortal enemy. Therefore a reconciliation between the tongs or an Oriental revenge may be in prospect.

ELKINS DECLARES FOR COURT REVIEW

WOULD AMEND THE RATE BILL

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Senator Elkins of West Virginia made the principal speech in the senate today on the Hepburn railroad rate bill. He declared that he is in sympathy with President Roosevelt in his desire to secure correction of all abuses by railroads and quoted from the President's message of December, 1904, recommending that power to fix rates be given to some competent administrative body whose decisions should be subject to review by the courts. Mr. Elkins said he prepared a bill in accordance with the President's recommendation, which he offered as a substitute for the pending rate bill. Mr. Elkins, in the course of his long speech, said:

Because of my supposed interest in railroads, it is charged and believed that I favor the railroad side of this question. This has been so often repeated that I am sure it will be pardonable if I say, in justice to myself, that my interest on the side of the shipper is 10 times greater than on the side of the railroads, and that my interest in railroads is confined to those in my own state.

The bill now under consideration, known as the Hepburn bill, reached the senate in the form that it was reported to the house by the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce. No amendments were allowed in the house and none were allowed in the senate committee on interstate commerce, although there were some 50 submitted to the committee by its members.

Wishes It Made Stronger.

I favor heartily the objects and purposes of the bill, but I want to make it better and stronger.

My chief objection to the bill is that it does not go far enough. It makes no attempt to provide remedies for many existing abuses by railroads. If the bill becomes a law without amendment it will disappoint the people, and they will justly cry out against congress for not doing its duty, especially against those now most vehement in their denunciation of railroads and their unjust practices, and still refuse to put anything in the bill to correct them.

I believe in the right of review by the courts of any order of the interstate commerce commission affecting the rights and interests of carriers, shippers, and localities alike, and in the right to suspend the order of the comssion by the court upon a proper showing; but this suspension to be allowed only upon the condition that the rights and interests of the shipper shall be absolutely safeguarded by requiring a deposit of money in the court pending the suspension, to be paid to the shipper in case the court sustains the order of the commission reducing the rate. Railway corporations are mere creatures of the law and exist by the will and consent of the people and in the interest of the people; I believe interstate carriers should be prohibited from transacting any other business in competition with shippers; that they should make a fair distribution of cars, put in upon reasonable terms necessary switches and sidings to accommodate the needs of shippers, and promptly make connections and fair and just pro-rating arrangements with branch and lateral lines. The time has come when the people demand that railroads shall be law-abiding.

Where the Bill Falls Short.

Mr. Elkins then indicated the following points in which, according to his opinion, the Hepburn bill as passed by the house falls short in accomplishing all that should be accomplished by railroad legislation:

A prohibition against railroads producing, selling or shipping their own coal and other like articles in competition with other owners; a requirement that switches shall be built where needed to accommodate business; a requirement compelling interstate roads to make connections with connecting lines, and a requirement for the fair and just distribution of cars among shippers.

Commenting on these omissions, Mr. Elkins made reply to the contention that they could be covered by state legislation. He said:

In the state of West Virginia and nearly all the states there has been legislation on these subjects, but for many reasons the law is not invoked. In the first place a shipper single-handed and alone, cannot afford to sue a great interstate railroad; in doing so he is bound to incur large expense, great delay and is sure to incur the hostility of the great through lines, which may work irreparable injury to his interests.

After considering the question of court review at some length, Mr. Elkins announced his conclusion in the following language:

First—That any legislation attempting to confer upon the interstate commerce commission the power to fix the rates will be unconstitutional unless it prescribes the standard of charges which shall control, and requires the commission to conform therein in fixing rates.

Second—That any legislation attempting to fix rates would be unconstitutional whose practical effect is to deny to common carriers the right to invoke and obtain, in due time, the protection of the courts from being compelled to transport persons or property at rates which violate the carriers' constitutional rights.

Mr. Elkins entered upon a long argument to show that no procedure is possible under the bill whereby the carrier may initiate any proceeding in which it can obtain adequate relief against an order of the committee.

Mr. Tillman made another ineffectual effort to secure an agreement upon a time for taking a vote on the rate bill. He said that so far as he had been able to ascertain the set speeches would be exhausted by the end of next week.

Mr. Aldrich replied that it was necessary to consider amendments and expressed the hope that the measure would be so amended that he and Mr. Tillman might unite in the support of it. He had, he said, been pleased to vote in committee to place the bill in the South Carolina senator's hands, but that he had been impressed with the view that that senator was not yet quite convinced of his own position on the bill.

While Mr. Elkins was speaking Mr. Tillman several times interrupted him and once in replying to Tillman, Mr. Elkins referred to the pending bill as Mr. Tillman's bill.

Mr. Tillman earnestly disavowed responsibility for the measure and Mr. Elkins responded "you have got it fastened on you with all the disgrace attending it."

Mr. Elkins also said that Mr. Tillman had an undue idea of his responsibility to the public and thought he carried the people in his vest pocket and must take them out every morning and assure them of his continued protection.

Later in the day Mr. Elkins said he had meant merely as a jest his remark to the effect that handling of the rate bill was a disgrace to anyone.

"I accept the apology," said Mr. Tillman.

New Ordinance for Oval.

Director Clark will present to councils an ordinance authorizing a contract for a steel grand stand and judges' stand and a fence at the Schenley park oval to cost $2,500. A similar ordinance was held up in the public works committee and died in the old councils. The money for the new grand stand was provided in the regular appropriations this year.

MINER'S LIFE IS ENDED

executive board of the union at its meeting in Indianapolis week after next. Mr. Mitchell was asked what he thought of Mr. Winder's literary ability, and he jokingly replied that he "admired it very much."

Leaders of the miners' union who were at headquarters today did not think the international executive board would favor the proposition. A member of the board said that conditions in the soft coal regions are much different from those in the anthracite fields. He pointed out that many operators had already signed the 1903 scale and that the number is increasing each day.

From the Operators' Viewpoint.

President E. B. Thomas of the Lehigh Valley Company said today that the operators did not want a strike but would not submit to the dictation of the miners' union. "We hope for a peaceful settlement of the questions at issue," he said. "We realize the importance of doing everything within reason and justice to prevent a repetition of the great strike of 1902."

"'Arbitration' is a word that has a popular sound to the public. But the public should understand that practically all the questions Mr. Mitchell desires to submit to arbitration were gone over by a commission which devoted five months to the task and whose findings were largely in favor of the miners. Why go over this again?"

The Shamokin scale committee will hold a meeting next Monday night to receive a report of the sub-committee which will call on the operators Monday afternoon for an answer to the proposition to arbitrate.

WILKES-BARRE, April 6.—A meeting of the Independent Coal Operators' association was held in this city this afternoon. Thirty operators, representing the independent mine owners of the entire anthracite region were present. The meeting was to consider President Mitchell's proposition for arbitration, but its results were not made public.

Say Proposition Was Refused.

SCRANTON, April 6.—It was learned here tonight on indisputable authority, that the independent operators in session at Wilkes-Barre this afternoon, decided against the acceptance of the arbitration provision made by President John Mitchell. While some of them would have favored its acceptance had it been made before the cessation order was issued, they were practically unanimous in opposing its acceptance at the present time. All of the superintendents of the big coal companies hereabouts predict that the proposition will be rejected at the conference to be held on Monday next. There was no disorder reported in this end of the region today. All the companies continued to operate their washeries.

MAHANOY CITY, PA., April 6.—Chief Burgess Thomas Tanner of Gilberton has refused the request of the Brookwood Anthracite Coal Company to protect the property of the company by assigning policemen to guard the place. The company alleges that the stripping at the Stanton colliery at Mahanoy Plane was damaged several nights ago by dynamite. Chief Burgess Tanner is said to have replied that it was the duty of the company to provide its own watchman.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—At the offices of the Lackawanna company today it was stated that 100 men are cutting coal in the Bellevue colliery, and that it was the intention of the company to put the coal through the breaker.

Squads of the state police are daily traversing the region, and report no disturbances of moment. Warrants were issued in Pittston today for the arrest of four members of the state police. They are charged with entering the homes of mine workers and confiscating guns.

WANT ICEMEN RESTRAINED.

Judge Shafer Hears Application of Ice Companies for Permanent Injunction Against Striking Drivers.

Striking icemen and their friends crowded common pleas court room No. 3 yesterday afternoon when Judge Shafer heard the application of the Consolidated and Citizens Ice companies for a permanent injunction to restrain officers and members of local union No. 444, Ice Wagon Drivers and Helpers, from interfering with their business. These proceedings grew out of the strike of the icemen on Monday, and the subsequent hiring of non-union men by the companies.

Nearly a score of witnesses present told of the troubles they have met with in delivering ice, due to the interference of the strikers. All said they had met with no violence, but insisted that the attitude of the union men was such that they were led to believe trouble might follow if they continued working.

Yesterday was an unusually quiet one, the men being in court nearly all day, and all the companies said they were able to make their deliveries fully as well as before the strike.

CRUSH AT CONCERT.

Audience Could Not All Gain Entrance to East Liberty Carnegie Library. Program Is Enjoyed.

About 1,200 people tried to gain entrance to the peoples concert, in the East Liberty Carnegie hall last night. It was the second of the free concerts given to the people, inaugurated by the business and professional men of the East Liberty district. When the doors were opened over 500 were given seats, and the streets around the library were blocked by those waiting to get in. It was almost 9 o'clock before the audience was seated.

Jean de Backer of the Pittsburgh orchestra, had volunteered his services, and with 25 members of the orchestra conducted the concert. Frank Kohler was concertmaster and soloist. The program embraced eight numbers, ending with the march from the "Folkunger." The next concert will be given next Friday, when members of the Pittsburgh orchestra will again be present. Other features will be the Mendelssohn Trio, and the soloists will be Gertrude Clark, soprano, and Carl Bernthaler, pianist.

RAYNER PROMISES VOTES TO PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Special Telegram From
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Senator Rayner of Maryland, after a visit to the White House today, during which he conferred with the President on the railroad rate bill, returned to the capitol and placed in circulation a petition among the Democratic members for a caucus to bind the minority upon the bill with the administration amendment for a court review. Yesterday such a petition was passed around among the Democrats asking for a caucus on the Bailey proposition for prohibiting the issuing of temporary restraining orders and the signatures of 12 Democratic senators were secured. It was this petition that Mr. Rayner today again started in circulation and by the addition of his own name brought the number up to 13.

It is understood that Senator Rayner in his interview with the President assured him that there would be sufficient votes to pass the Hepburn bill with the Long amendment and a provision that no temporary restraining orders shall be granted by the court without notice and hearing to the commission. This is a promise that few senators believe can be fulfilled. There is no question whatever about the bill passing eventually, but there is a great difference of opinion as to the form of the amendment providing for judicial review of the findings of the interstate commerce commission.

Senator Aldrich is authority for the statement that 40 Republican senators are now committed to vote for a broad judicial review amendment and in addition to these five Democratic senators will vote likewise. These Democrats are McEnery, Pettus, Morgan, Gorman and Teller. It is also claimed that there are at least seven other Democrats who will vote with them, although 45 votes are sufficient to guarantee the adoption of the conservatives' amendment.

INDEPENDENTS READY TO SIGN

of the independent operators, who at previous sessions of the operators were wavering in their attitude against signing the new scale, were absent from the meeting last night, and it was thought advisable not to tie up these interests any longer, and that others, who for sentiment sake would have gladly held out, have little or no coal left on hand and are facing large unfilled orders and contracts, which they fear to lose to the opposition, should they maintain their stand against the new wage scale.

The impression is general that such independent operators who still have a surplus of coal on hand will continue to keep their mines closed until necessity demands reopening them. At the Indianapolis convention, during the final vote, when the independent interests of this district voted against the new scale, they reserved the right to sign if other competitive interests did so. At the adjournment of the meeting of the independents last night, the following statement was given out:

Statement by Independents.

A large number of the independent operators of the Pittsburgh district have signified their intention of signing the 1903 scale in justice to their customers. In so doing they fully believe that the action taken by the joint convention in January at Indianapolis, Ind., was the correct position to take, in view of the conditions of the coal trade for the past two years. They believe that conditions have in no way changed since that January convention that would warrant an advance in the wage scale at this time. Mr. Robbins, chairman of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, at that convention, and at the recent convention, stated that the conditions did not justify an advance in the wage scale; the independent operators further believe that in signing this scale it may work an injury to the Pittsburgh district. It may have the effect of ultimately establishing a differential against the Pittsburgh district in favor of the western states; and by increasing the wage scale in a depressed market and against the conditions of the coal trade it may ultimately work an injury to the miners organization itself.

The action taken by the independent operators last night not only clears up the situation in the local district, but will have great bearing in settling the difficulties now existing between miners and operators in the Indiana, Illinois and Ohio fields. Full operation in the Pittsburgh district to the exclusion of the other three states will permit the operators of this district to enjoy the trade of the operators in the states where the strike is on, and it is not believed that these "stand pat" operators will long permit the trade to be taken from their very doorsteps.

Irwin Strike Is Broken.

Further information pointing to harmonious conditions in the local district was received at the headquarters of the miners' district organization yesterday to the effect that the striking miners in the non-union Irwin fields would return to work today. About 800 men have been idle in this field on the claim that some of their number had been discharged because they had joined the labor union. Organizers and other officials from the United Mine Workers of America have been doing much missionary work in the Irwin field within recent weeks in an effort to keep the miners in line for the purpose of organizing them. National President John Mitchell and National Vice President Thomas L. Lewis had on divers occasions promised to visit and address the striking miners in the Irwin field, but were unable to do so, and it is now announced that the miners' patience has yielded, and they will return to work as before—as non-union men. However, they will receive the same scale rate as the union miners.

It was reported yesterday that the mines of the Pittsburgh Coal Company were being operated with a little more success than during previous days, owing to the return of the delegates to the local convention to their respective mines and urging the men to return to work. The action of the independents last night is expected to bring the men out in full force today, as some of those who had been denied work by the independents were inclined to consider the workers strike-breakers. This applied chiefly to the foreign element.

Dolan Is Still Fighting.

Strife in the Pittsburgh district will now be concentrated upon the fight between the rival presidents of the district miners' organization. Impressions prevail that this controversy may yet be settled outside of the courts. Frank Feehan, the president-elect, has established headquarters with his vice president, secretary-treasurer and executive board, in Hotel Griswold, while Patrick Dolan still holds the fort at regular headquarters on the pretense that he is still president—disregarding his successor and the action of the convention in expelling him from the organization. Both Feehan and Dolan are sending out instructions to the miners as president of the organization.

Yesterday afternoon John Hurley, secretary-treasurer-elect, called at Dolan's headquarters with a bondsman, ready to qualify as secretary-treasurer. Dolan recognizes Hurley in this capacity on the ground that he had the next highest vote when retiring Secretary-Treasurer William Dodds was elected at the last regular election. Dodds has voluntarily resigned. However, Dodds explained that his books must be audited before he can turn them over to his successor, and that they will not be in shape for the auditors until Wednesday, at which time they have agreed to make the examination.

Will Hurley Recognize Feehan?

If Hurley, after gaining possession of the books and funds of the organization, recognizes Feehan as president, Feehan will not be compelled to fight Dolan in the courts, but can entirely disregard him, as he will practically be in possession of all district affairs.

However, there is some question in the minds of the miners as to whether Hurley will recognize Feehan, and he is up to the present non-committal on this point. Hurley was not elected on the same ticket as Feehan in the recent special election. "Tim" Donovan was the candidate for secretary-treasurer on the Feehan ticket, Hurley running with Edward McKay, the candidate for president.

McKay is still claiming that Feehan cannot qualify as president, as his local was three months in arrears of dues when he was elected, and if Hurley should choose to recognize McKay it is expected that Dolan will join him in making a bitter legal fight.

TYPHOID IS RAGING.

Of 52 New Cases Reported, 27 Are Developed in the East End Wards.

Typhoid fever is still severe in this city. Fifty-two new cases were reported to the bureau of health yesterday, making 233 new cases for the week, which exceeds all records for the last nine years. For the past six days there has been an average of 40 cases a day.

The disease seems to prevail more in the East End wards than in any other section of the city. In the Twenty-third ward 42 cases have developed since the first of the month. In the Twentieth ward 23 and in the Nineteenth ward 19 cases. In the Thirty-seventh ward 21 cases developed in the last six days. Dr. E. G. Matson, the city bacteriologist, believes the epidemic will reach its climax within the next week.

The cases reported yesterday were distributed as follows: Twenty-third ward, eight; Nineteenth, seven; Twenty-first, seven; Fourteenth, four; Eighteenth, five; Thirty-seventh, four; Eighth, two; Sixth, two; Eleventh, two; Seventeenth, two; Fifth, Ninth, Twelfth, Twentieth, Twenty-second and Thirty-second wards, one each.

Desire to Advance Window Glass Prices.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 6.—(Special.)—Window glass will be advanced 5 per cent April 19 if the plans of the Eastern Window Glass Jobbers' association, which met here today, are put into effect with the consent of the National Association of Window Glass Manufacturers, who are to meet in Pittsburgh on the same date. The jobbers were in secret session.

SMITH TO RUSH NEW ROAD THROUGH TO GOLDFIELD.

Says It Will Be Built Through Bullfrog to That Point, and Possibly through to Manhattan.

GOLDFIELD, NEV., April 6.—F. M. Smith, owner of the enormous borax deposits in Nevada, who is building a road from Ludlow, Cal., a point on the Santa Fe, through his borax fields to Bullfrog, was in Goldfield today. Much interest has been shown in Goldfield as to whether the Smith road would be extended as far north as Goldfield and Tonopah. Smith emphatically stated that the road would be continued from Bullfrog, and possibly further north, to Tonopah and Manhattan.

The construction work on the road, Mr. Smith says, is completed to a point about 60 miles out from Ludlow, in San Bernardino county, Cal., and the rails laid for a distance of 40 miles. Steel is being placed at the rate of a mile a day, and every effort made to get the road into Bullfrog at the earliest possible date.

He said that he had been hampered somewhat in the arrival of rails, due to washouts on the Santa Fe, but it is currently reported that a combination of railroad interests has obstructed Smith in the building of his road as much as possible, in order to let the Clark road from Las Vegas into Bullfrog months in advance of Smith.

VON BUELOW IS BETTER.

German Chancellor Evinces Desire to Dispose of Correspondence but Is Denied This.

BERLIN, April 6.—Chancellor von Buelow, who fainted while in the reichstag yesterday afternoon, slept throughout the night and awoke this morning fresh and clear-headed. Prof. Renvers and the physicians who are associated with him in the case say that no bad consequences are likely to result from the chancellor's illness.

Later in the day the chancellor seemed so much better that he disposed of some correspondence with his secretary and wished to receive the reports from the officials of the foreign office, but this was refused him. Princess von Buelow intended going yesterday to St. Margherita, a winter resort near Rapallo, on the gulf of Genoa, where her mother, Princess Minghetti, is stopping. The chancellor will probably go there with the princess as soon as he is strong enough to travel. He continues to improve in health.

YUN TONG IS UNPOPULAR.

Testifies Against Four Members of His Race Charged With Gambling.

Joe Ku Kong, Lon Pong, Qua Sim and Charlie Ging, Chinamen arrested Wednesday night at 306 Grant street, charged with gambling, were held for court in $500 each by Alderman S. J. Toole yesterday. Yun Tong, known as "Nigger Tom" among the local Chinamen, was the prosecuting witness. He alleged he had lost considerable money at cards at Joe Ku Kong's place in the past few months.

More than a score of Chinamen were at the hearing and they expressed their hatred of Yun Tong in no mild terms. They claim Tong is a disturbing element among their race in Pittsburgh, and that he has an armed organization under the guise of a reform association that is a menace. It is claimed this society has no charter, yet carries a complement of military arms in violation of the state statutes.

Yun Tong, it is claimed, was driven from eastern cities for actions similar to those here, and the Americanized Chinese say they intend laying the entire matter before the district attorney so they may have redress.

UNION LABOR PARTY IS FORMALLY CHRISTENED

HARRISBURG, April 6.—(Special.)—The "Union Labor party" was formally christened today by the filing in the Dauphin county court of the necessary papers pre-empting this title. The papers state that it is the purpose of the party to nominate candidates for state, city and county offices. The signers are Joseph Michael, Ferdinand W. Giffen, George R. McQuaid, Earl W. Hopgood and Frederick L. Kennedy, all of whom live in Philadelphia.

Will Operate Big Furnaces.

SHARON, PA., April 6.—(Special.)—Alexis W. Thompson, former president of the Republic Iron and Steel Company; Edwin N. Ohl of Pittsburgh, and Frank Pierce of Sharpsville, have formed a company and will apply for a state charter on May 1 to engage in the manufacture of iron and steel. They have acquired possession of the Sharpsville furnace and will place it in operation. It has been idle for many months.

WEAVER STARTS SUIT OVER FILTRATION JOB

Brings Action for $5,000,000 in Name of City Against Durham, Mack and Others.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—Civil proceedings were instituted today by the city against the contractors and former city officials interested in the construction of the municipal filtration plant to recover $5,000,000, which is alleged to have been wrongfully retained by the defendants. A bill in equity was filed with the prothonotary of the common pleas court by City Solicitor Kinzey, and former Judge James G. Gordon, Mayor Weaver's private counsel.

Those named in the bill are Israel W. Durham, State Senator James P. McNichol, Anastasia McNichol, his wife; Daniel J. McNichol, John M. Mack, all of whom were at one time members of the contracting firm of Daniel J. McNichol & Co.; Wm. O. Haddock and Peter E. Costello, former directors of public works, and John W. Hill, former chief of the filtration bureau. The prayer is sworn to by Mayor Weaver.

This bill is expected to give the public the facts upon which the mayor and his counsel rely to prove the charges that have been made from time to time against D. J. McNichol & Co. It is the first of the civil suits to be begun by the city since the beginning of the filtration investigation.

CANADIAN CLUB ENJOYS ITSELF AT FIRST BANQUET

Three hundred Canadians and their wives, members of the Canadian club in this city, enjoyed themselves at the first banquet given by this society in Pittsburgh at the Monongahela club rooms, last night. It developed during the night that there are about 5,000 Canadians in Allegheny county, and the attendance at the banquet, which was in the nature of an experiment, was flattering to the promoters. An American flag draped with the Union Jack decorated one side of the banquet room, while golden rod and roses were the table decorations, both flowers being the emblems of the respective countries.

One of the incidents of the evening was the farewell given to F. A. Butterworth, president of the society, who will leave in a few days for New York, where he will be the general eastern agent for the Pere Marquette railroad. He was presented with a traveling bag by the society in a speech by E. L. Hartwell. He expressed his regrets in departing.

Other speakers of the evening were Prof. John A. Brashear, J. I. Buchanan and C. E. E. Childers. Solos were sung by Miss Leila Stanley and Thomas Melville.

POLICE MUST BRACE UP.

Director Ridgway Directs That Military Discipline Be Strictly Enforced in the Bureau.

Military discipline is to be enforced in the police bureau. Director Ridgway said yesterday he intends that all the rules shall be rigidly enforced. He has observed that most of the patrolmen while on duty in the streets are inclined to be careless about their appearance and bearing.

The patrolmen hereafter will be required to salute their superior officers, and each officer will be required to return the salute. Officers must greet each other in a dignified manner. The superior officer will have to be addressed in his official title. The use of Christian names, abbreviations and nicknames of officers will not be tolerated by Director Ridgway. Patrolmen will make their reports to the lieutenants, the lieutenants will report to their captains, the captains to the inspectors and the inspectors to Superintendent McQuaide. All orders will be given by Director Ridgway to Superintendent McQuaide, and the director will hold McQuaide responsible for the conduct of the police force.

Director Ridgway visited Nos. 6 and 4 police stations last evening. He told the men he intended to treat every one in his department fairly and expected a square deal in return. He made inquiry as to the treatment of the sick, and said he was in favor of an ordinance giving full pay to the police while on sick report.

POPULATION PRAYS.

Churches in Towns Close to Vesuvius Are Crowded and Thousands Abandon Homes.

NAPLES, April 6.—The eruption of Mount Vesuvius is now most violent. On the Pompey side the main stream of lava has divided into two, one threatening Ottajamo, a commune of 20,000 inhabitants and the other threatening Lorre del Greco, with a population of 30,000. Many homes have been abandoned for the open air, although there has been a thick fog all day and the atmosphere has been dense with volcanic ashes and the fumes of subterranean fires.

The churches are crowded day and night with people praying for deliverance from an impending peril, manifestations of which are heard and felt in explosions which resemble a heavy cannonading and in the tremblings of the earth which are constantly recurring.

DR. RUSSELL'S SUCCESSOR.

Two Names Are Suggested, and a Selection Will Soon Be Made.

Two names have been suggested as possible successors to the Rev. Dr. R. M. Russell, who recently resigned the pastorate of the Sixth United Presbyterian church. They are the Rev. Charles Watson of Philadelphia, corresponding secretary of the board of foreign missions, and the Rev. Dr. W. E. McCulloch of the Hamilton Avenue United Presbyterian church.

Neither has been approached on the subject, and it is supposed that instead of extending a call and hearing a trial sermon, the committee of ten that will choose a pastor will go to the churches and learn something of the ministers in their own pulpits.

ONE-ARMED MAN IS ACTIVE IN AN ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP

Two men, at 10:45 o'clock last night, made a bold attempt to rob a man of a diamond shirt stud at Beaver and Washington avenue, Allegheny. The man, whose name was not learned, was walking along Beaver avenue when a one-armed man grabbed him by the back of the neck and held him while an accomplice tried to snatch the diamond stud from his shirt. The man cried for help and Policeman John Neville and a crowd of citizens ran to his assistance. Neville arrested the one-armed man, who says his name is James Brennen and his home is in Buffalo, N. Y. The other man in the excitement escaped by jumping on a passing street car.

May Operate on Gov. Pattison.

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—Though the physicians say that the object in taking Gov. Pattison to Christ hospital is merely to rest for the remaining part of the journey to Milford, it is believed that the intention is to perform an operation upon him. Before leaving for Cincinnati, Dr. O. P. Holt said it may be that an operation will be necessary. No one can predict the outcome of such an operation.

Mayor Guthrie to Speak.

Mayor Guthrie will be the speaker at the meeting of the Men's club of the Calvary Presbyterian church, Braddock, next Monday night. It will be the last meeting of the club until next autumn, and dinner will be served.

LONG PURSUIT ENDS.

Railroad Officers Arrest Man Charged With Cracking Safe at Morgantown Station.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., April 6.—(Special.)—Connellsville division officers of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad today lodged in jail at Morgantown, W. Va., Frank Howell of Bellaire, on the charge of cracking the safe in the Baltimore & Ohio passenger station at Morgantown and stealing $113. The robbery occurred in October, 1905. Howell, who was arrested at his home in Bellaire, has a bad record. The officers say they have collected enough evidence to convict him. He was unable to furnish $2,500 bail and was held for court.

HANDS RAW WITH TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Suffered for Ten Years—Spreading to Body and Limbs Despite Efforts of Three Doctors—Another Remarkable and Speedy

CURE BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I had eczema on my hands for ten years. At first it would break out only in winter. Then it finally came to stay. I had three good doctors to do all they could, but none of them did any good. I then used one box of Cuticura Ointment and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent and was completely cured. My hands were raw all over, inside and out, and the eczema was spreading all over my body and limbs. Before I had used one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, together with the Ointment, my sores were nearly healed over, and by the time I had used the third bottle, I was entirely well. I had a good appetite and was fleshier than I ever was. To any one who has any skin or blood disease I would honestly advise them to get the Cuticura Remedies and get well quicker than all the doctors in the State can cure you." Mrs. M. E. Falin, May 19, 1905. Speers Ferry, Va.

CURED OF ITCHING HUMOR

"I have been troubled with a humor on the back of my neck and head for four or five years. It had an itching and burning sensation, and was a very uncomfortable feeling. I have used the Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent Pills three months, and can say I am completely cured." Respectfully, Mrs. H. D. Ludlam, July 28, 1905. Ocean City, Md.

WIDE OBSERVANCE OF PALM SUNDAY

MANY RELIGIOUS MEETINGS

Tomorrow is Palm Sunday and as usual this solemn church day will be observed with special services in all the Catholic, Episcopalian and Lutheran churches of this section, revealing to the minds of the worshipers the story of Christ's entry into Jerusalem when his pathway was strewn with palms. In many churches of denominations other than those mentioned the day will be likewise specially observed.

Passion or Holy Week, the period between Palm Sunday and Easter Sunday, is always an important event in the ecclesiastical world, and this year it will be even more zealously observed than before by those churches whose ritual provides for special observances commemorating the great events at the close of the earthly career of the Man of Sorrows. Especially solemn will be the services on Holy Thursday and Good Friday. Following these observances will come the glorious services of next Sunday, the Joyous Easter, again marking all that the Risen Lord means to all mankind.

The third annual meeting of the Allegheny County Sabbath Observance association will be held in the chapel of the Young Men's Christian association building, Seventh street and Penn avenue, at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. The executive committee will make its report of the work of the year. For the special committees the Rev. C. L. Thurgood will report on "Sunday selling in stores in our cities;" the Rev. Dr. S. A. Hunter on "Sunday work in the mills and factories of the county;" the Rev. Dr. R. C. Wylie on "Sabbath reform efforts in other large cities," and the Rev. Dr. J. M. Thoburn on "The importance of organized effort in Allegheny county." The Rev. Dr. N. Luccock of St. Louis, formerly pastor of the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church, will deliver an address. In the evening Dr. Luccock will also speak at a mass meeting of Sabbath Observance workers at the Smithfield street church.

In consideration of his faithful pastorate of 35 years, the members of Trinity Lutheran church, Stockton avenue and Arch street, are raising funds for the purpose of placing in that church a bronze memorial tablet sacred to the memory of their deceased pastor, the Rev. John G. Goettman.

The various Methodist Episcopal church organizations of Pittsburgh will unite in conducting noonday meetings in the Smithfield Methodist Episcopal church next week. The following ministers will act as leaders: Monday, the Rev. Bishop J. F. Berry of Buffalo; Tuesday, the Rev. C. W. Blodgett, D. D.; Wednesday, the Rev. Dr. W. R. Wedderspoon; Thursday, the Rev. J. W. Hoffman; Friday, the Rev. Dr. J. M. Thoburn.

Amount to Be Sold This Year May Be Chopped in Half.

The amount of bonds to be issued this year for filtration will probably be reduced from $2,000,000 to $1,000,000 because, it is stated, there is remaining in the city treasury $1,500,000 from the $2,600,000 issue of filtration bonds last year. To cut the issue of bonds in half this year, as proposed, it will be necessary to ask councils to pass an ordinance amending the ordinance passed last year. The ordinance of last year provides that $2,000,000 should be issued in 1905, $2,000,000 in 1906 and $1,000,000 in 1907.

The administration has determined, as published in The Gazette on Wednesday, to reduce the cost of the filtration plant at least $1,000,000, and with this money to provide for needed water extensions for which former Director Bigelow recommended an extra issue of $1,000,000.

The saving in the cost of the filter plant will be made by a change in the specifications. It is claimed that the estimates of the cost of the filter plant made by former Director Bigelow were excessive. His estimates reached $6,000,000 for the filter plant and the South Side main, exclusive of the cost of the land for the filter site, the expense of maintaining the filtration bureau and the expense of water meters.

Controller Larkin claims he has killed the water meter project, but Superintendent A. B. Shepherd does not concede this. Superintendent Shepherd is a strong advocate of water meters and he will take the matter up with Mayor Guthrie in connection with the investigation which the mayor is making into the filtration problem.

A. H. LESLIE'S AT-HOME IS ABSOLUTELY IGNORED

Any section of the United States that claims to border on Utopia better look to its laurels. Allegheny county is about to lay claim to that name itself, and moral reformers and disciples of the simple life are elated. Not one prisoner was received at the Allegheny county workhouse yesterday. This does not include prisoners from the city, but from the entire county. Not for 20 years before has a day elapsed without some arrivals, but last night there was not one more inmate in the workhouse than there was the night preceding.

Superintendent A. H. Leslie felt as though his business was going to rack yesterday. Not to see some strange faces was the "new sensation" to him. There are from 5,000 to 5,500 inmates of the workhouse during the year. This is an average of 15 to 18 new prisoners every day, and when Mr. Leslie was "at home" all day and received no calls he felt he was being ostracised, and that his social star had started to wane.

All fortunes have their beginning in the same small way. Our prosperous and successful men attribute their good fortune to the early practice of systematic economy, and the placing of sums thus accumulated at interest. A savings account, bearing 4 per cent compound interest, with the Commonwealth Trust Company in Fourth avenue, is one of the most profitable investments for the man of small means.

George Ade and Mark Twain.

Never since Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad" has there been anything quite so funny as George Ade's "In Pastures New," an installment of which will appear tomorrow in The Sunday Gazette. Seeing Europe through the eyes of so refreshing a humorist is a treat no one should miss.

Wireless telegraphy annihilates space. With it you may talk to a ship in mid-ocean as though she were tied up to her dock.

The package is the wireless telegraphy of modern manufacture, because the package shortens the distance between the factory and the kitchen. The housewife buys her food stuffs of the manufacturer as if he were next door, the food coming intact from factory to kitchen.

Advertising mediums like THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL have made this great result possible, and such advertising is the wireless telegraphy of business.

Nervous Worn-Out

If you are in this condition, your nerve force is weak—the power is giving out, the organs of your body have "slowed up," and do their work imperfectly. This failure to do the work required, clogs the system and brings distress and disease. When the nerves are weak the heart is unable to force the life-giving blood through your veins; the stomach fails to digest food; the kidneys lack power to filter impurities from the blood, and the poisonous waste remains in the system to breed disease. Nerve energy must be restored. Dr. Miles' Nervine will do it, because it strengthens the nerves; it is a nerve medicine and tonic, that rebuilds the entire nervous system.

"Several years ago I was all broken down. I was nervous, worn-out, could not sleep, and was in constant pain. I doctored for months, and finally the doctor said he could do nothing for me. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine, and used altogether eight bottles, and I became strong and healthy, and now weigh 170 pounds."

103 Ellsworth Ave., Allegheny, Pa.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

EASTER SHOE STYLES

—And wherever good form calls for shoes of extra-faultless style and fit every one of these new Regals will be entirely appropriate. You could hardly go into any sort of fashionable gathering the week after Easter without finding a good many of these new Regals in evidence.

You can wear your new Regals anywhere from a Fifth Avenue reception to an Embassy ball in Washington, and your ease of mind will be made secure by that genial sense of being well-dressed which doubtful shoes would upset completely.

Never mind if Regals do cost $4 or $5 less than those you've been buying. You know shoe-style when you see it. You know a good fit when you get it. And whether you feel sure of knowing good shoe quality or not, we want to assure you that the little "Window of the Sole" would never go onto a Regal shoe until we were perfectly willing to stand back of the material and workmanship put into that shoe.

Regals are made from the finest materials all through,—and Regal workmanship is in every way equal to the materials. They look like specially well-made and well-finished made-to-order shoes, and they wear that way, too.

STATIONERY ENGRAVING DIVISION.

This division affords facilities for the correct and punctual execution of Stationery for Spring Weddings,
Invitations,
Announcements,
Reception and Breakfast Cards,
Church, At Home and Visiting Cards.
A specialty is Monogram Stationery.

Are you ready?

We are quite ready to show the newest fashions for men and women and boys and girls, and we will take pleasure in doing so to all who call today. Besides the mere matter of looking up what is new for this season, there are some attractions in our store which should not be missed today, especially as more people have leisure on Saturday than any other time. They are

The General Exhibit of Easter Apparel,
The Salon d'Exposition Parisien,
The Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone.

All these have been described many times this week, so it is not necessary to use any details. Each has its meed of attractions. Other things for consideration today are briefly mentioned below.

Sale Today of Men's Stiff Bosom Colored Shirts.

$1.00 Each.

From Lines That Sold for $1.50 and $2.00.

Don't read this bias—mind, they are stiff bosom colored shirts, not negligee.

These shirts are made of madras, both printed and woven effects, in light and dark colors.

This is a cleaning-house sale and you have unrestricted choice of any colored stiff bosom shirt in our stock at $1.00 each. They are all out for quick selection. Some of the shirts have attached cuffs, others have detached cuffs. A number of the shirts are in coat style.

All new goods, the only thing you have to consider is whether you will like a stiff bosom shirt. All neck sizes.

Men's Gloves $1.10 a Pair.

Compare them with any $1.25 or $1.50 glove that you have seen and tell us what you think.

Black Dress Goods, 60c Yd.

The Regular Price Is $1.25.

Sorry to say there are only 400 yards of these black goods.

If ever there was such another offer in this town we have yet to hear of it.

The Regular Price Is 85c.

The price is an exceptionally special one.

You would never buy this fine material for such a price were it not for the fact that we only have 300 yards of it.

Classes in Art Needlework and Paintography.

These two divisions of our third floor, West, being allied, it is quite interesting to watch the classes that work in both arts. Little children of five years may be seen following the designs in paintography; young ladies and mothers, even grandmothers, delight in taking up new ideas in needlework, and just now many people are taking lessons in view of preparing Easter gifts. All lessons are free in either art.

We have all requisites for the execution of paintography.

In the matter of fancy needlework pieces, both stamped and finished, our variety is always full.

An unusually large collection of Stamped Center Pieces, best quality linen, latest design, for coronation braid, eyelet, French or Richelieu embroidery. All sizes. Prices range from 10c up to 60c.

Latest ideas in Summer Scarfs and Lounging Pillows, admirable for wedding gifts or Easter gift. These are made of a fine quality of white fabric, beautifully trimmed with hand-made Princess Louise braid lace work in dainty designs. The edge of the outside ruffling is trimmed with fine narrow lace braid. Both scarfs and pillow slips are lined with blue or pink satine. Pillows, $2.95 each. Scarfs, $5.00 each.

New Belts for Women and Children.

Of new Washable Belts, we have them in plain linen and in embroidered effects, fastened either with neat harness buckle or mother of pearl buckle. Prices start at 25c, stop again at 50c, then to 75c, and on to $7.50.

New Elastic Belts, with steel trimmings—black, gray, red, white—$1.00 grade, our popular price, 50c.

Women's New Hand Bags.

At the Leather Goods Counter there are many new ideas in handbags. We have every new shape, and you can get bags in black, brown, tan, gray, navy blue, red, green, Alice blue, and still other tints.

Prices begin at $1.50 and reach to $15.00 by easy stages.

Easter Handkerchiefs for Women.

What a remarkable handkerchief gathering—handkerchiefs for as little as 10 cents, real lace handkerchiefs for as much as $75.00, and in between every good grade that one can conjure up. Let's snapshot a few of the less expensive ones.

Pure Linen Handkerchiefs, having dainty colored printed borders—many different colors and tints so the dress can be matched—prices 25c and 50c each.

New Handkerchiefs with a finish that looks like mercerized silk—all colors—white center with colored borders, also colored all-over effects, and the price is only 25c each.

Fine Linen Handkerchiefs, with finishes that are very Frenchy. All-over embroidery, giving a dainty setting to fleur de lis, bow knots, scrolls, clover leaves, etc. They are shown in both colored and white embroidery.

Those very neat Handkerchiefs now so much in demand—we speak of the handkerchief having an edge of Armenian lace—are here at $1.00 each.

It will be interesting to know that all Handkerchiefs of real duchess lace are offered for 20 per cent discount.

SPECIAL—We have for today a manufacturer's collection of plain hemstitched Handkerchiefs in both shamrock and genuine linen—worth 50c—Saturday's price, 6 for $1—or single 18c

Stocking News for Saturday

One of our aims is to always have something genuinely good at the Hosiery Counter for Saturday. Here's a specimen of today's offers:

Saturday, April 7, 1906.

Last night's action of the independent coal operators in the Pittsburgh district, dissolving their previous mutual agreement not to sign the scale of 1903, will have a widespread influence on the situation in other states. One of the largest independent interests in this field arranged immediately to sign the new scale and others will follow today. A powerful blow has been dealt the strike in the bituminous fields.

A record was broken at the Allegheny county workhouse yesterday in a negative, but none the less gratifying manner. For the first day in many years not one prisoner was received at the institution. Pittsburgh and the county have not suddenly become so good as to render the machinery of the law unnecessary, but it is refreshing to have one day on which there is no accession to the population behind the stone walls and iron bars of Claremont.

According to latest consular report, for the first time since the loss of her colonies the volume of Spain's exports exceeds the imports. It is asserted that conditions are favorable to American manufacturers. Spain is an inviting field for tools, appliances and machines of almost every description, and is evidencing a disposition to buy the best. By sending their agents to represent their wares American establishments should be able to build up an extensive and profitable trade with Spain.

Pittsburgh bureau of health officials are worried over the large number of new cases of typhoid, 221 having been reported during the week, which is unprecedented. In the entire month of March but 408 cases were reported. A timely warning is issued to boil the city water and to drink no water from wells. The disease has not yet reached such proportions as to warrant being termed epidemic, but the situation is sufficiently serious to render more than ordinary precautions necessary.

Speaker Cannon's declaration, contained in a letter to the president of the United States Potters' association, that tariff revision will come in the not distant future and that it will be effected by the Republican party in obedience to public opinion, is significant. Speaker Cannon does not recede from his former position, but recognizes the signs of the times. There can be no doubt of the increasing popular demand for such action. The Gazette has consistently urged revision of the tariff by its friends. Revision is inevitable, and the Republican party can accomplish it without disturbance to present prosperous conditions.

A Kansas City correspondent has been rhapsodizing over the fresh cleanliness of New York city. To him the streets appear to have been scrubbed and polished, the buildings holystoned and the people "newly risen." Of course, this has pleased the press of New York. In fact, it provokes the Tribune to remark that while all of this is gratifying to civic pride "perhaps the writer stopped at Chicago a week or two before coming to New York." The remarkable feature of this modest acceptance of a well-meant compliment is that for once Pittsburgh has been ignored in the comparative sense. For this temporary relief, many thanks.

Yesterday's decision of the political prisoners, with whom the jails of Moscow are filled, to refuse food until the authorities bring them to trial or order their release, evidences the futility of the order issued some time ago by the minister of the interior, instructing local officials throughout the empire to confront prisoners with the charges against them within 24 hours after their arrest. Some of the Moscow prisoners have been in jail for three months. There are grounds for believing the police were instructed to hold all prisoners against whom no definite charges could be brought. The "hunger strike," as recently pointed out by W. T. Stead, has been employed with considerable effect by Russian prisoners during the past year.

The suggestion offered to Secretary Bonaparte yesterday, that discipline at Annapolis might be improved if boys began their training for a naval career two years before entering the academy, while it did not appeal to the secretary as practical, has received the approval of many experienced naval officers. The plan is to familiarize the boys with life at sea by visiting the principal ports of the world. During this probationary period the incompetent and incorrigible would be weeded out. The instituting of this preliminary two years' course would, of course, add greatly to the expense of the midshipmen's naval education. If the plan is simply disciplinary, it would probably be no more effective than the new system of graduated penalties that has been provided.

Police Must Brace Up.

Director Frank Ridgway's announced intention to enforce military discipline in the bureau of police, as provided for by the rules, is to be commended. Patrolmen and officers are to give the proper military salute to their superiors and the salute is to be returned. In greeting one another the correct titles are to be employed, eschewing the use of Christian names, nicknames or abbreviations. Patrolmen on duty are to walk and stand erect, with shoulders squared. Their shoes are to be kept shined, buttons polished and clothes well brushed. There is to be no more loafing, propped up against telegraph poles or buildings, in time-killing attitudes.

Some of these proposed reforms may seem trivial, at first glance, but their enforcement really has much to do with an officer's efficiency. Carelessness regarding these minor details is the first step toward apathy in the discharge of duty. The slovenly patrolman who lounges along his beat, apparently suffering from chronic ennui and waiting for quitting time, sets an example destructive to the discipline of the force and not calculated to inspire the respect of citizens. The policeman's walk and bearing should express confidence in himself, appreciation of the dignity of his position and an enthusiastic interest in his important duties. Military discipline is a somewhat formidable term, but it involves nothing irksome, in reality. The police force is a semi-military organization and no hardship is imposed in insisting that its members shall present a soldierly appearance at all times and be ever at "attention" for the prompt performance of duty.

Knee-Breeches Politics.

Bryan's Commoner states that Ambassador Whitelaw Reid has been criticized for wearing knee-breeches at state functions at the court of St. James and quotes the London Daily Mail, as noting with much interest that "America's representative had in some degree relaxed the customary severity of the republican attire. It was seen that for once he had assumed knee-breeches." The Commoner lets it go at that without a single salving sentence. The object is plain. The organ of Bryan leaves an inference that Ambassador Reid was treading in unbeaten paths, bending the knee to royalty and otherwise disporting himself in an unbecoming manner as a representative of the true democracy he symbolizes. If, as the Daily Mail states, he "assumed knee-breeches," we may rest assured that the assumption was followed by the resumption of his proper American attire, and his disguise was merely in conformity to custom and the rules governing the function he attended.

Are we to infer from the Commoner that if Mr. Bryan had been in Mr. Reid's place, he would have gone to the court of St. James clothed only as he has often appeared on the stump—in his "store clothes?" There was a time when he might have made that faux pas, but lately we have been entertaining a somewhat better opinion of the "peerless leader's" broadened judgment. If Mr. Bryan had been in Mr. Reid's place he, late day as it is for the resumption of sanity, would have discarded his "store clothes" and appeared with his strong western limbs exposed in the male ballet before the august personages of the British empire. It sometimes happens that we have to do as others do, or appear odd.

Kentucky and Uncle Tom.

Admirers of Harriet Beecher Stowe, who have felt aggrieved over the action of the Kentucky legislature in prohibiting the production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" on the stage in that state, and are preparing a petition asking that the action be rescinded, should have a clearer understanding of the situation. In the first place, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is not designated by name. The plays placed under the ban are all those which treat of the negro question or slavery in this country. Genuine admirers of the book "Uncle Tom's Cabin" should have no sentiment of affection for the play of the same name as presented in these latter days. It is a travesty upon the novel with a purpose which has fulfilled its mission. The bloodhounds, the Topsys and little Eva's amusing ascent from this mundane sphere, with their cheap melodramatic effect, now worn threadbare, completely destroy the illusion for readers of Mrs. Stowe's immortal work. The suppression of the play in other states would work no general hardship. It is somewhat surprising that southern states have endured the show as long as they have. It presented their former attitude toward slavery in a false light. It aroused the indignation of adults and did not tend to inspire them with kindlier feelings for the negroes.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin," the book, is full of dramatic situations which, handled by capable actors, might be made genuinely thrilling instead of, as in the popular version, simply ludicrous. No matter how presented it would be distasteful, and naturally so to the south. Several novels that have recently appeared treat of antebellum times, with special reference to slavery, but contribute nothing new to our store of information. They might better never have been written. No good purpose is served by resurrecting, even for literary purposes, a once painful issue now decently interred.

The Business Situation.

The rise in call loan rates in New York this week to the highest level quoted in any corresponding month for more than a score of years should arouse no uneasiness outside Wall street. While stock market operators yesterday paid as high as 30 per cent per annum for the use of money for a few days, business men were borrowing money in Pittsburgh at 5 to 6 per cent. We have frequently pointed out the reason why Wall street speculators, usually the most favored borrowers so far as rates are concerned, have been compelled to pay on the average a higher rate for call loans during the past four months than have prevailed in other money markets.

In last week's review of the business situation we referred to the enormous increase in railroad earnings. This week brought additional reports of the same general tenor. They reflect a volume of traffic never before equaled at this season, and this traffic is not only diversified, but the gains come from all parts of the country. It naturally follows that the demand for money throughout the country for legitimate business purposes is greater than ever before, and while there is a natural increase in the form of new gold and the steady additions to national bank note circulation, the total increase is not sufficient to supply all legitimate requirements of trade and at the same time meet the demands of an active speculation. When money piles up in New York and loaning rates fall, it is a sign of contraction in business. When there is no congestion in the New York money market, and rates to stock exchange borrowers approximate a parity with rates paid by commercial borrowers, then there is good evidence of general business activity.

Instead of idle money flowing to New York, as usual at this season, New York banks have been shipping currency to the south and west this week, and while rates for sterling exchange have declined to a level, where gold imports are warranted, a movement of specie hither is temporarily obstructed by impending government loans abroad. It is estimated that Russia, France, Germany and Great Britain will be in the market this spring for loans aggregating not less than $750,000,000. While these loans are impending, foreign bankers will endeavor to maintain easy monetary conditions abroad. The point for business men to bear in mind, however, is that there is nothing ominous in the relatively high rates quoted this week to New York stock exchange borrowers.

The partial settlement reached in the bituminous coal field has produced a feeling of relief in industrial circles, and all that remains to completely restore confidence in the future is a speedy settlement of the dispute between the anthracite coal miners and operators. One of the first state reports on the winter wheat crop was made by Ohio this week. It showed a high condition of the crop, compared with the corresponding month in former years. In Kansas and other western states the season is far enough advanced to put the crop out of danger from adverse weather conditions. From this time forward there will be increasing activity in agricultural work, and all the preliminary estimates indicate a larger area planted for our chief crops. The outlook for building is equally bright. When we add to this that the commercial agencies report a sound condition of financial and trade affairs, the situation at the beginning of the second quarter of the years appears especially promising.

The New York Herald makes the assertion that thousands of the city's residents cannot pronounce its name correctly. It depends, of course, largely upon what they have been taking.

A London newspaper which accused Alfred Austin of writing a humorous poem has received an indignant denial, which shows how people's ideas of what is funny may vary.

Of course those stoop-shouldered men, who glance at the milliners' windows so sadly as they pass by, are poor bachelors who wish they had somebody to buy Easter hats for.

The Irish prophet who declares Vesuvius will "go up one of these days like a skyrocket" should hurry down there before it's too late and "have a look at the crater."

A large number of gentlemen whom the offices declined to seek are now prepared to take the affirmative view of the question: Is our public service degenerating?

An English expert declares the American soldier is the most unattractive in the world. He certainly has never had much trouble making foes run away from him.

That Nebraska editor, who says he expects to see Mr. Bryan president some day, is doubtless an enthusiastic member of the Would-Be Centenarians' club.

It is to be hoped the spring poets who have written so much about the warm sunshine and the balmy breezes have not yet discarded their winter flannels.

Another shipload of American dollars was sent yesterday to Japan, the country which, imaginative gentlemen say, is preparing to fight us.

The Newark clergyman who wishes to know, "Will heaven be crowded?" might consult some of his friends who are practicing medicine.

Good Republicans who are advocating tariff revision will be able, one of these days, to exhibit the I-told-you-so style of countenance.

Russian prisoners, who will refuse to eat until they are released, promise to put Dr. Tanner's record completely in the shade.

Quiet Observations on Timely Topics

There Is a Time to Marry, and a Time When Not to Marry.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"Say, Quiet Observer, that fellow 'Felix' is all right, and I am glad you printed his letter, for I am one of those who are debating whether to marry or not to marry," writes a Sewickley man who has put off doing his duty until he is verging onto middle life.

"For three years I have been paying attention to a woman, one who is really and truly a woman in every sense of the word, but being several years my senior I have been loth to ask the fatal question, or rather, to speak seriously on the matter of marriage.

"Like 'Felix,' I am much her debtor, for without a doubt she has done more than anyone else to bring me to my sober senses, and I am, in every respect, a much better man because of the good influence she has exerted over me.

"I am not a millionaire, nor am I rich in money or worldly goods, but am earning a good salary, and I think that by settling down strictly to business I will become a fixture in the company that employs me, and will have enough income to support a wife.

"My notion was that it took a fortune to support a wife of the period, but now I am convinced that some women are worth more than it takes to feed and clothe them.

"I want to thank 'Felix' for his letter, and to thank you for printing it."

* * *

You never can tell how many other fellows are in the same box with you, nor how many would be helped by knowing you, or hearing from you.

There are many good men who hang aloof from marriage because they think wives are expensive luxuries, and that they must have a pile of money before they dare to marry with any hope of success.

Such men need the services of a sensible missionary, some one to tell them that money does not cut much of a figure in real domestic happiness.

There is a notion extant, and a most nefarious notion, that domestic happiness, or success, if you please, depends upon the amount of money that people have at their command.

The fact of the matter is that the happiest, and the most useful people in any community are those who have set out to make their way in life by honest industry, and to so order their lives that they may get most comfort out of life.

* * *

We have had the fortune craze for a good while, but there are signs of it dying out. May they continue and may they become more and more apparent.

Fortunes in money have heretofore, and are today causing more heart suffering, and are at the bottom of more domestic trouble, and are prolific of more moral degeneracy, than all the poverty of which we hear so much.

People who have dollars galore are more to be pitied, and more to be dreaded than the average poor.

With money at their command to meet all sorts of demands, and with which to indulge in all sorts of fashionable dissipation, men and women not only forget their poorer neighbors, but they forget God and their own souls. And when these are forgotten life has lost its value.

* * *

There is no virtue in being poor in the sense of having nothing to eat or to wear, nor a home or family. Indeed, this is a sin, a positive sin for those who have strength enough, and intellect enough to enable them to live decently and comfortably. All such are entitled to assistance from those who are capable of earning more than is really necessary for their own reasonable support.

The great majority of those who are poor in spirit are in the habit of sitting around doing nothing much, but wishing they were rich, complaining against the world, and finding fault with those who have really more than is necessary to meet their daily wants.

The man or woman who has gone so far wrong as to conclude that money will bring happiness, are poorer, far poorer, than those who are willing to labor day by day in order that they may live day by day.

* * *

The happiest man on earth today is the man who has a comfortable home, though it be most humble, and is willing to work to maintain it.

Men of fortune are freaks, just as great musicians, magicians and mathematicians are phenomenal. None of these are as happy as the man of all-around talent. There are no burdens that are harder to bear than the burdens imposed by genius, be it the genius for making money, for music, or magic, or mathematics.

Get a home, study to make it a pleasure spot, and if you are reasonably industrious, frugal, and temperate, the chances are largely in favor of your having the dearest spot on earth.

It is in envying the rich that we get so much discomfort. Because they have houses larger than they need, more furniture than they have use for, and can eat and drink intemperately, you fret and worry, whereas you are better off than they.

* * *

As for advising "Felix," or the Sewickley fellow to marry, that is different.

And what would be the use of advising them, or any one else, not to marry, for when a man or woman has contracted the marrying fever they will take no advice that does not harmonize with their feelings and ways of thinking.

About all that is left to do, with any hope of benefitting the unmarried, is to encourage them to lay aside the foolish, wicked notion that wealth is essential to domestic happiness.

Of the truth of this they can easily satisfy themselves by noting the lives of those who have sought riches in marriage, and those who are ambitious to live like rich people.

* * *

As happy, and as useful people as have ever lived, or are living now, married without a dollar, in the way of riches. Their capital was a desire, and a determination to gain, and to maintain comfortable, happy homes.

Than this there is no more noble, no more laudable ambition, nor any that will lead to greater success, or higher honors.

When young men and women are taught to regard millionaires as freaks, and are shown that they are the heaviest burdened, the most worried and the unhappiest people on earth, they will marry more rationally and more successfully, and there will be more happy homes, and far less misery in married life.

Some Palatable Breakfast Food Served Hot

By PETER PRY SHEVLIN.

Springtime in the Heart.

Roses in the valley
Lilies on the lea;
Daisies you can't tally;
Yet you cannot see
'Cause you dumbly dally
Far from fancies free.

P'haps this weather 's funny—
Rain, a sprinkling cart;
Shut your eyes, my honey,
Learn the dreamer's art:
Days all blossom sunny,
Sunshine in the heart!

Peter Pry's Philosophy.

Conceit in a man is like vanity in a porker.

A woman's idea of economy is to haggle over a 10-cent bargain with the "old cloe's man," while a $2 roast is burning in the oven.

Don't envy the great. The man on the hilltops faces storms and a possible fall; the humble dweller in the valley has time for peace and joy.

The donkey's bray tells a more inspiring, more human story than the nightingale's song. He sings of work well done and cheerfully, while the bird simply sings his life away.

Proved Her Gentility.

Magistrate J. J. Kirby was holding forth like a caliph of Bagdad in the Central police court one day this week when there were ushered into his presence a big husky colored woman as defendant and a much-battered one as complainant.

"Madam," said the court to the husky Amazon, "you are accused of throwing boiling water on this inoffensive neighbor, pulling out her hair, jumping on her face and beating her over the head with a rolling pin. Are these charges true?"

"Huh-huh! Guess dey are, jedge, 'cause she looks it! Not only dat, but Ah yelled all over de neighborhood jes' whut Ah thinks o' a woman who insults me de way dat air woman did!"

"Ah," said the magistrate. "Then you had some provocation for your brutal attack on her and for creating a disturbance?"

"Ah shu'd say Ah had! Why, dat air woman said Ah wus no lady!"

Thought of Cycling.

"Ah," said the youth with the soulful hair, "are you interested in—ah—psychics?"

"Gracious, no!" said Miss Pert, "I gave up cycling years ago when the automobile craze started!"

The First Butterfly.

She does not wait for buds to blow,
For weather's warm compassion;
In "peek-a-boos" she's flitting, lo!
But doesn't catch pneumonia, though—

Millinery Style.

Beryl—Are you going to wear your Easter hat to church?

Sibyl—Yes; but it's in the new millinery style that has crowns like sawed-off men's high hats, and I'll feel just like taking it off in church!

Hadn't Forgotten Anything.

Mr. Stingay, notorious as the "closest" man in this section, went into a downtown restaurant yesterday, ordered and ate a good meal. After giving him the check, the waiter made a desperate effort to land the elusive tip.

"Beg pardon, sir, but haven't you forgotten something?"

Mr. Stingay was almost to the door, but the thought of overlooking anything brought him back on the double quick to his table.

"What is that you said?" he asked doubtfully.

"Haven't you forgotten something?" murmured the waiter again.

"Lemme see," cried Stingay, comparing the menu card with the dishes on the table. "I've eaten meat, vegetables, dessert—everything in the table d'hote that was coming to me. What did you think I'd forgotten?"

"You've forgotten the waiter."

"Blame it!" howled Stingay. "Are you on the bill-of-fare too? Well I'll be blamed if I'll play canniable and eat you. No, sir!"

And Mr. Stingay stumped out.

Refinement of Cruelty.

"Recently," snarled the Cynical Codger, "I heard a magistrate denounce in the most scathing terms a brutal husband who has beaten his wife. I would have been more impressed if I hadn't known that this same lily-white public man had been beating his wife for years—not physically—but lacerating her heart by his Don Juan propensities and sordid amours. The man who beats his wife is a brute, yet he is only reverting to primeval savagry, while the husband who deliberately tears her heartstrings by infidelity can only be mentioned in the same brimstone breath with Belzebub!"

Precious Stones.

Jim—You are going to propose to Miss Diehl? Why, she has a heart of stone.

Jack—A heart of stone can't resist a precious stone. Look at this diamond, my boy.

Goodbye, Mr. Misery.

Rosy days a-dawning—
Never min' de sky;
Cry t' Joy: "Good mawnin'!"
T' Worry yell: "Good-bye!"

The Main Thing.

Blinker—They are still arguing about whether the Panama canal will be a lock or sea-level affair.

Clinker—Let 's hope it will be on the level"—and soon!

Can't Use It All.

"What are the drawbacks of great riches?"

"Well," said the beefy plutocrat, "you are not able to eat all that you can afford to buy, or to wear all the clothes that you purchase, or to deserve all the flattery that is handed you!"

Value of Advertising.

Many persons have wondered why the great railroads, after booming at great expense the picturesque portions of their routes, practically encourage the unsightly advertising signs that ruin the view along the tracks. Now the cat is out of the bag.

"Gracious," said the first traveler in the Pullman, "it would be blame dull if there weren't those catchy ads along the tracks?"

"Yes, that was a clever one of 'That's Enough' whisky we just passed.

"Never tasted it. It sounds good though. Have you noticed how much money the boomers of the 'Punkerino' cigar are spending?"

"Believe I'll take a smoke. Those are luscious signs of the 'Houpla Ham' and that new near-food, 'Shredded Asphalt.' By ginger! they make my mouth water. Let's go in and have a meal?"

"Sure; I want to test that new whisky, anyway."

Thereupon they went into the buffet car and spent $6 85 for food and drink that they didn't really need.

IN GOOD HUMOR.

Mrs. Newrocks—If there's anything I hate, it's writing letters."

Newrocks—Do you?

Mrs. Newrocks—Yes, indeed. I wish somebody would invent an easy substitute for spelling.—Watson's Magazine.

The World's a Stage and We the Players

By Charles M. Bregg.

A typesetter's query mark to a stupid and blundering proofreader was allowed yesterday to make ridiculous and offensive a paragraph in this column concerning the parentage of Miss Rose Coghlan. Miss Coghlan's mother was a fine type of English woman and, as stated, her father was an Irish gentleman of many literary attainments. The word "English" was omitted in the copy, which led to the ridiculous mistake, and I hasten to make this amend, all within my power.

* * *

From the days of the invention of types the manipulator of them and the man who is supposed to see that they bear correct relation to each other, the proofreader, have been the bane of the writers' life. A whole volume of stories could be compiled of the ludicrous, painful and stupid things that the types have made men say. Lover's sonnets and the wise maxims of the sages, preachers, perorations and the most solemn and serious political and diplomatic documents have all been marred, if not made absolutely useless, by the tricks that the types play. Some mistakes are absolutely unavoidable. Others are due to carelessness or haste on the part of the writers themselves, and very many, perhaps the majority, grow out of illegible handwriting.

This latter evil has been largely corrected by the enforced use of typewriting machines on the part of a majority of people who prepare copy for the printer. But with all improvements demanded by publishers of copy errors of a most distressing and amusing kind still manage to creep into even the most carefully edited printing.

* * *

What must have been the feelings of that poet in a newspaper of his immediate locality who wrote pathetically:

"He kissed her under the silent stars," to find on the morrow that the printer had made him say that the gallant hero of his poem had

"Kicked her down the cellar stairs."

A distinguished lawyer in a southern state, who was afterward judge of the supreme court of his state, wrote a most miserable hand. He at one time put a brief in the hands of the printers for hurried composition, and was then called unexpectedly out of town. His copy in the hands of the printer was practically undecipherable. All the experts on handwriting in the town were called into consultation and finally in desperation the printers tried to locate by telegraph the man himself, but without avail. A consensus of opinion as to the chirography was finally arrived at and the manuscript was put in type and sent to the lawyer's office where his clerk put it into packages. When the lawyer returned and just before the brief was called for in the important case he bethought himself to look over it. By some strange twist of fate the printers had absolutely reversed the lawyer's opinions, and from being an attorney for the defendant in a suit involving many thousands of dollars he had been made intelligently and connectedly attorney for the plaintiff.

In after years the distinguished judge of the supreme court used to say that he had been reversed without the intervention of judge, jury or court.

* * *

But the difficulty of keeping typographical errors out of a newspaper where writing, typesetting and proofreading are done under whip lash amounts practically to a physical impossibility. The burden of this duty rests upon the proofreader, and whatever that functionary may have been in the past his modern successor is not equal to the task. In the days of typesetting by hand the proofreader was an important adjunct to the brains of a newspaper office. He usually knew history, sociology, biography, theology, the terms of science and the names of men and women better than any mere writer on the staff. My first experience as a cub editorial writer on a daily newspaper included a very vivid and, to me, very humiliating confirmation of the truth of this standard of proofreading. In an editorial, argumentative of the relative advancement of American and English oratory, I referred in a number of places to Charles "H." Spurgeon, the great English pulpit orator. Proof of the editorial was sent to my desk and after laboriously wading through it I returned it to the printers for correction, but nowhere eliminated the "E." On the margin, when it was returned, was written and signed "Proofreader" this note: "Familiarity with names is one of the necessary requisites in editorial writing."

I was at first disposed to resent receiving instructions in my duties from above stairs, but consultation with the managing editor left me a hazy conviction that the proofreader was supposed to know more in a minute than I knew in a month.

* * *

But with the coming of swifter methods of type composition and the more strenuous demands of daily journalism the old proofreader has largely disappeared from big city dailies. He is still on the journals of less rapid pace and is in appropriate demand where accuracy is more desired than speed. The modern proofreader is more or less mechanical. If he have knowledge and opinions he dare not use them for there is an unwritten law that declares "following copy" to be the sole duty of the typesetter and the proofreader. This rule may be on general principles correct, specifically, however, it often gives rise to indifferent and slothful proofreading. This same rule has been indirectly the cause of the elimination of much efficiency among proofreaders. Writers are not infallible. The hurry of preparing and editing "copy" is attended by great danger of error. An ellipses or the wrong construction of a sentence may again and again go to the proofreader. A misspelled name or an incorrect use of a date are all common errors of both the writer and the typesetting machine. These things the proofreader should first have the intelligence to correct and then be given the freedom of law to put right.

The heart burnings, the profanity, and even the more serious results of libel suits and personal encounters, that the crazy types have created would fill many volumes if their history could be recorded. It is sometimes absolutely impossible to apologize for them for like "an arrow shot in the air" they may fall heaven only knows where.

As I predicted in this gossip a week ago, the critics of Pittsburgh have found material in the recent season of grand opera in this city for a renewal of those pleasant (?) references to Pittsburgh's music culture. The comments in some of the New York newspapers intimating that the opera season was poorly supported by local society is followed by this illuminating remark by a Cleveland paper:

"Pittsburgh must now be placed on the black roll with Boston and several other cities it is unnecessary to mention. Manager Conried essayed to give the town of millionaires a full week of grand opera. It is claimed that the week's alleged deficit is due to the fact that society stayed away, the attendance being confined very largely to the common people who patronized the opera for art's sake and not through a desire to be observed of men. All of which is sadly to Pittsburgh's discredit."

That the opera season was largely unprofitable is not true. Statements made at the time by the various managers left the impression that the season about broke even financially. However, our Cleveland contemporary inadvertently pays the music lovers of this city a compliment in saying that they and not society contributed to the support of the season. If enough genuine music lovers reside in this vicinity to put up $45,000 for a grand opera season the fact is one to rejoice over, and is not, as this critic says, "sadly to Pittsburgh's discredit."

CASUAL GLIMPSES AROUND THE CITY

Notes About People and Events in Which Pittsburghers Are Interested.

Carl H. Vietzer, a Cleveland immigrant agent, passed through Pittsburgh last night on his way to arrange for diverting further immigration toward southern points, and, as he admitted, to the anthracite coal region.

"As you know, last week was one of the heaviest in the transportation of immigrants to western points, as the records of your B. & O. station will show," said Mr. Vietzer. "Few of these foreigners have stopped off at your local mill towns, which is rather lucky for them for, as I understand the situation, there are plenty of men there already for all the available work."

"Is not one of the points on your itinerary the anthracite field?" was asked.

"Well," said Mr. Vietzer, "I have an aim—a personal one, please put it, of diverting some of the tremendous Ellis island immigration this week toward Eastern Pennsylvania points. There is no sentiment in my business, you know, my only object being to place the foreigners where they have a chance to procure work. I certainly have no shadow of agreement with any hard coal operators or any other firm, nor does my purely business aims come near the letter of the contract labor law. If the immigrants secure profitable work because of the coal strike it is none of my concern. I am frank about this because I have nothing to hide. I will arrange for the distribution of 500 Slavs and Croatians within a 50-mile radius of Scranton next week.

"At present the only place from whence there comes a real demand for immigration is the south. The timber lands of Louisiana, the cotton fields and mill towns of the south, and every industry down there simply howl for energetic workers to supplant the shiftless 'poor whites' and colored labor. For some reason or other, while the immigrants seem willing to go any place else, we have great difficulty in luring them down to the sunny south where the climate resembles that of their own homes."

Mr. Vietzer left for New York on an evening train.

"Rubberneck Wagon" for Pittsburgh.

M. R. Culbertson and George F. Irwin, amusement promoters of New York, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday to look over the local field with a view of exploiting the famous sights of Pittsburgh after the New York manner, with immense "rubberneck" automobiles capable of seating 50 sightseers each. George W. Burke, superintendent of the bureau of parks, was visited in order to gather information as to how much Pittsburghers are devoted to their breathing spots. Practically every point of interest, from the East End to the mills, was visited, and a route mapped out between all points of interest.

"Throughout the length and breath of the country your wonderful industrial sights are known by reputation to the visitor," said Mr. Irwin, "but he quits disgustedly when he starts out to find them without a guide because of your confusing streets and car system. I understand that the scheme was tried here before on a small scale and failed. Our sightseeing cars will be operated on a popular basis, and I think, if we decide to start them up, will soon become a fixed institution like those of New York. Frankly, we are attracted by the increasing number of your hotels and the large number of strangers they handle daily."

Cornell Alumni Banquet.

The Cornell alumni will banquet at the Union club tonight. The responses indicate the largest attendance at a Cornell gathering in this city. The speakers include Prof. Albert W. Smith of Cornell university, Gerge Bacon, Harry Alexander, Julian Kennedy and James Dodge. The musical features are expected to be somewhat unusual.

Smith College Girls' Luncheon.

At the Fort Pitt hotel yesterday the Smith College club entertained its members and friends at a luncheon. About twenty alumnae of Smith college were present, as well as the Misses Young, Carpenter, Piscus, Thomberg, Watt and Roberts, who are home on their Easter vacation. The table decorations were the college colors, yellow and white.

STANDPATTERS ON THE TARIFF

WANT CAMPAIGN ON ISSUE

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Speaker Cannon has raised the issue upon which the congressional elections this fall will be fought. It is to be a battle between the standpatters and the tariff revisionists. Not the Republican revisionists who are asking for a chance in a few of the schedules to meet the local demands of certain sections, but those who favor a general revision which is interpreted to mean a general reduction in tariff rates.

"If a majority of the people demand an immediate general revision they will elect a majority of the members of this house in favor of immediate general revision," said the speaker today in a statement issued to the press. It was brought about by the publicity given to a letter that Speaker Cannon wrote to some of the potters at East Liverpool, O., and in which he gave his views on the revision question. This letter was written in the interest of Representative James Kennedy of Youngstown, who is a candidate for re-election, and it was made public by the recipient to show that the sentiment in favor of leaving well enough alone is supported by the speaker.

The letter was referred to today on the floor of the house in a discussion in which what were alleged to be the iniquities of the Dingley law so far as the manufacture of watches is concerned were discussed by Mr. Rainey of Illinois, whose tariff revision speech was listened to with much interest.

Speaker Cannon's Statement.

When pressed for a statement today relative to that letter, Speaker Cannon gave out the following:

I was not aware that I was writing a letter for publication, although I have no objection to its publication. There are many people in the country who believe that a single schedule or a few schedules of the tariff may be amended. This is entirely impracticable, for while an amendment to a single schedule might please a single interest, it could not command enough votes to enact it.

In my judgment, nothing can be done, except by a complete revision of the tariff, which would be a compromise that would command a majority vote of the 386 members of the house, and the 90 senators.

The enactment of such a revision, and the time necessary to adjust it to conditions, would halt production, consumption and commerce for at least twelve months, and when a compromise is enacted, as a whole, it will probably not be an improvement on existing law. I do not believe that a majority of the people, at this time, desire to interfere with the present conditions which are the most prosperous conditions we have had in the republic, to the laborer, to the farmer, to the capitalist, to the producer and to the consumer.

What the time would come when a general revision will be entered upon I have no doubt, but for the general interest of the whole country the revision should be postponed as long as possible. Congress regets the will of the people and the house of representatives is chosen every two years. There will be a general congressional election next November. Our friends, the enemy, insist upon an immediate revision of the tariff. If a majority of the people demand an immediate general revision, they will elect a majority of the members to this house in favor of immediate general revision.

Kennedy Also a Standpatter.

Representative Kennedy has climbed up on to Speaker Cannon's platform and will take his canvass for re-election on that basis. He claims that his district is a standpat one and that he personally holds the same views. When asked for a statement today Mr. Kennedy said:

I learn from correspondence with some of my East Liverpool friends that Speaker Cannon has written a letter to some of the potters and that the general purport of the letter was very friendly to me. What that letter contained with reference to the tariff was no more than a re-statement of what was present in the minds of the committee that formed the Dingley bill. The general plan of it and its policies are good enough for all time. But as conditions change of course schedules must change and nobody entertains any doubt but that sooner or later we must have a revision of those schedules. The people of my district do not believe that there are at present any reasons for such change. We think the time is not yet in sight when any sort of tariff revision should be had and I do not think the speaker believes any revision to be necessary. Of course all of the friends of the great principle are anxious that the country be in control of the Republicans and it is only the part of wisdom to anticipate the time when changing conditions will make necessary readjustments of the tariff. I am a standpatter. My district is a standpat district and wants no present revision. We reprehend and discourage agitation of revision because it injures business, gets timidity upon the part of manufacturers and paralyzes enterprise.

FINISHES RETAIL LIST.

Judge McClung Shuts Down on Attempts to Get Rehearings—Wholesale List Monday.

Judge McClung finished the retail list of liquor license applicants in license court yesterday afternoon, and after hearing all the holdovers, adjourned until Monday, when the wholesale list will be taken up. Efforts of attorneys to get rehearings were stopped by Judge McClung, who insisted on the applicants being brought into court, where all parties could be heard.

Attorney Ache and the Anti-Saloon league renewed its activity when the hold-over cases were heard, detectives appearing against a number of the applicants. The question of whether or not Pittsburgh needs a negro hotel came up, when the application of George M. Robb of 1809 Wylie avenue was heard. The case was held over until Judge McClung could ascertain the location of a club in which the two negroes who murdered William Donnelly, the Bedford avenue grocer, were said to have loafed. Robb denied all knowledge of such a club.

CARNEGIE CALLS ON JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS

ATLANTA, GA., April 6.—Andrew Carnegie, returning to the north from Tuskogee, spent a few hours today in Atlanta. He was the guest of the trustees of the Carnegie library at an informal luncheon and inspected the Georgia School of Technology, of which he is a benefactor. Mr. Carnegie's expressed purposes in visiting Atlanta was to meet Joel Chandler Harris, and a brief call on the author concluded his stay.

Oakdale Residents Given a Scare.

Residents of Oakdale and Noblestown were given a bad scare Thursday night when the electric lights failed them about 10 o'clock. For three hours the boroughs were in darkness and visions of bold burglars who had cut the wires caused many of the residents to lock up their houses and get weapons of defense in readiness. Crossed electric wires, which set fire to the Carnegie company's coal tipple, west of Oakdale, caused the trouble.

Fire Engine Causes a Runaway.

While Dr. R. K. Fleming, 325 South Highland avenue, was driving in Fifth avenue yesterday his horse shied at a fire engine rushing by in answer to an alarm of fire at the residence of J. Earle, 1043 Murray Hill avenue. The horse ran away, smashing the buggy and throwing Dr. Fleming out. He was badly bruised about the body.

MAKES FORTUNE; WANTS DAUGHTER

CLAIMS WIFE USED A SHOVEL

A romance of the Oregon gold fields developed in a habeas corpus hearing in court yesterday, in which William J. Walters is trying to get possession of his 11-year-old daughter, Ruth. Walters testified that he married his wife in Johnstown, December 16, 1895. Six years later he went west and secured a divorce. He is now manager of a mine at Portland, Ore., and is worth $150,000. This is his fourth trip here to get his daughter. He was arrested formerly on a charge of desertion, alleged kidnaping and assault and battery, but was discharged on all of them except the last.

Walters claimed he had heard that his former wife had a disorderly house in Pittsburgh. On cross-examination he admitted that in 10 years he had contributed little to the support of wife or child. He is married again. Capt. Lawrence Bartley testified to a raid on the home of Walters' former wife. The police arrested here, another woman and two men. Two little girls were in the house, one being Walters' daughter.

The girl's mother said her name is now Clark and that she is suing her present husband for a divorce. She married a second time to provide a home for her child, and had made a mistake. When Walters first came here she agreed to let him send the girl to school providing he would not take her away. He refused, she said, and later tried to kidnap the girl. Her daughter is now at the Ursuline academy and going home Saturdays and Sundays. She declared she loved her daughter and made her first false step for her. Before her lawyer could stop her she declared that she had said she would kill Walters if he took the child from her, and that she could do it and die happy.

Parents Wept While Testifying.

A sister of Mrs. Clark corroborated the story of the attempted kidnaping. Further evidence will be taken today. During the time Mrs. Clark was on the stand the court sent the girl out of the room. There was considerable display of emotion during the hearing, both Walters and Mrs. Clark crying while on the stand.

A libel in divorce, alleging cruel and barbarous treatment, was filed by Gilbert Martin against his wife, Emma C. Martin. The couple was married in February, 1877, and lived together until last Thursday. Martin claims his wife was in the habit of holding him up to ridicule in the presence of his children; that she would charge him with keeping company with other women, and that on one occasion she hit him on the head with a shovel.

The divorce lists will be taken up in common pleas courts Nos. 1 and 2 Monday. There are nine cases in No. 1 and 18 cases in No. 2. In the latter court the last case on the list is that of Augustus Hartje against Mary Kenny Scott Hartje. In the cross-suit filed by Mrs. Hartje a jury trial is asked for, and it is not at all probable that the case will be taken up at this time.

In juvenile court Judge Kennedy sent Harry, Albert, Stella and Lizzie Rafferty, four children whose ages range from 4 to 10 years, to the Christian Home for Children at Council Bluffs, Ia., and ordered that the cost of transportation be paid on the county. Both of the parents of these waifs are addicted to liquor and have left them practically to the charity of the neighbors. The mother is at present in jail on a charge of drunkenness.

Mother Is Deprived of Children.

Rose and Mary McGuire, aged 3 and 8 years, respectively, were sent to the Academy of the Immaculate Heart at West Chester, Pa. Their mother some years ago received a bequest of $140,000, and since then, it is alleged, she has been in a state of perpetual intoxication. The court ordered her to pay all expenses incident to their maintenance and education.

Herman Neubert, on behalf of his 13-year-old son, Lawrence Neubert, entered suit to recover $3,000 damages from E. S. Mathias of Baldwin township. The boy, while delivering a package at Mathias' house, was badly bitten by a dog.

The Oil Well Supply Company filed a bill in equity in the United States circuit court against William Kavanaugh, asking that the defendant be restrained from using certain drill jars on which the Oil Well Supply Company claims to hold patent rights.

An execution was issued by Herman Schilling against Thomas M. Bond, administrator of the estate of William Horneffer, for $3,680.

TRY TO AID HOOE.

Effort to Quash Perjury Indictment May Be Made Before Trial of Hartje Case.

Attorneys W. B. Rodgers, J. Scott Ferguson and John Marron, representing Augustus Hartje, who is suing his wife for divorce, will make an attempt, it is said, to have the perjury charge against Clifford Hooe, the negro coachman, who is said to have given false testimony against Mrs. Hartje, quashed to prevent a trial before the divorce case is tried. They will contend that until the evidence of Hooe is actually used in the divorce suit, no perjury has been committed.

This position will be contested by Attorneys Watson & Freeman and Patterson, Sterrett & Acheson, representing Mrs. Hartje, and Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., who will represent the commonwealth in the perjury case. Mr. Robb says he believes that perjury was committed the minute Hooe gave what they say is false testimony, even though it is not introduced in the divorce case when it comes to trial.

COAL AND OIL INQUIRY BEGINS IN THIS STATE

Interstate Commerce Commission to Investigate Bituminous Conditions and Railroads.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The first hearing of the interstate commerce commission in its coal and oil investigation under the recent resolution of congress will be held in Philadelphia Tuesday, April 10, at 11 o'clock a. m. In speaking of the investigation Chairman Knapp said:

"We are taking up first what may be called the eastern bituminous situation which, roughly, includes the Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia bituminous coal fields, their ownership, the general character of the operations and the relations of the lines moving that traffic to tidewater and eastern destinations. The preliminary hearing at Philadelphia is mainly to ascertain methods of the Pennsylvania and Philadelphia & Reading lines, including, as a special subject of inquiry, the system of car distribution and the operation and effect of that system on these lines.

"We have directed the attendance on the part of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company of W. W. Atterbury, its general manager and chief operating official, and Joseph G. Searles, its general coal traffic agent, and on the part of the Philadelphia & Reading Company of Theodore Voorhees, first vice president and chief operating official."

The Weber Pianos Used By the Stars of the Metropolitan Opera Co. Now for Sale At Reduced Prices

We furnished 26 Weber Pianos to members of the Metropolitan Opera Co. last week. These pianos are now offered to the public at reduced prices to close the lot out quickly.

The reduction is not made because of any defects in the instruments, but simply because they have gone out of our store and have been used for a whole week. Therefore we call them, properly, "slightly used," and make the price concession such that music lovers will no doubt be very glad to hear of this opportunity.

Aside from the intrinsic value of a Weber Piano, it should be a satisfaction to know that you are getting an instrument that has been played upon by one of the world's greatest artists, for the Weber is used exclusively by the Metropolitan Opera Company. The famous stars who used these particular instruments include Caruso, Dippel, Burgstaller, Scotti, Plancon, Knote, Homer, Eames, Rappold, Abott, Walker, Sembrich, Alten, Weed, Jacoby and others.

Each of these pianos has a tag attached showing the price and the name of the artist who used the instrument.

Call at once if you are interested, for, of course, the lot will be closed out in a hurry.

SAMUEL McELROY,
President of Common Council.

ROBERT DILWORTH, City Clerk.
Mayor's Office, City of Allegheny, Pa., April 5, A. D. 1906. The above ordinance examined and approved.

C. F. KIRSCHLER,
Mayor.

NEW RULES DO NOT SUIT MAX LESLIE

He Objects to the Admission of All Roosevelt Supporters Into the Primaries.

PLANS TO BAR CITIZENS

There is a fight promised today at the meeting of the Republican county committee. City Chairman Leslie objects to the broadening of the primary election qualification so as to permit all electors that voted for Roosevelt to participate in the primaries. Senator Magee will advocate the adoption of the Roosevelt rule.

Two weeks ago Magee offered the amendment to the qualification clause of the county rules. A few days ago the rules committee decided to recommend the change. Yesterday Chairman Leslie discovered the plan to make the primaries open to every one that voted for Roosevelt. He thinks the present rule, which allows any person that voted the Republican ticket at the last national or state election, is broad enough. He objects to opening the doors to those who have been fighting the regular Republican tickets in the city and county.

If there is to be a change he thinks the provisions of the new primary law should be placed in the rules. He says an amendment covering them will be introduced today as a substitute for the Magee proposition. This part of the new law, which does not become operative until November of this year, reads:

The qualification of electors entitled to vote at a primary shall be the same as the qualifications of electors entitled to vote at elections, within the election district where the primary is held. Each elector shall prove his qualifications and his identity in the same manner in which electors in the election district in which he offers to vote are, or hereafter may be, required by law to prove their qualifications or identity, on election day.

Each elector shall have the right to receive the ballot of the party for which he asks: Provided, that if he is challenged, he shall be required to make oath or affirmation that, at the next preceding general election at which he voted, he voted for a majority of the candidates of the party for whose ballot he asks.

Upon executing such affidavit the voter shall be entitled to receive the ballot for which he has called and to cast his vote according to law.

Under this rule Leslie says the Citizens would be barred from the primaries. While they had the Republican state candidates on their ticket, they did not support the Republican candidates for county offices. He says the position of the Lincoln party is just the reverse. It supported all of the Republican candidates with the exception of Plummer for state treasurer. Leslie says he objects to opening the primaries to men that will use the mask of Roosevelt to secure a vote and then cry fraud and bolt the ticket in the fall.

Senator Magee will ask the committee to adopt his amendment. He is of the opinion that it will be time enough to put the new qualification clause into force when the law containing it becomes operative. While the proposed change has been generally advertised, Leslie is the first man to make any objection. The point of order will be made on the Leslie rule that it is an amendment and cannot be acted on today. The impression prevails the committee will not agree to bringing the primaries forward from September until May 26 when the state delegates are to be elected.

There was a report yesterday that A. L. Edwards would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman in the district now represented by Congressman Burke. Edwards denies the story. He says he is a candidate for postmaster and as he expects the support of Congressman Burke, he could not well be a candidate against him.

SOCIETY WOMEN WHO PLAY LIABLE TO JAIL SENTENCE

District Attorney Stewart Is Quoted as Saying Bridge and Euchre for Prizes Is Gambling.

District Attorney Stewart is quoted as contemplating taking official action against bridge parties, euchre parties, whist and euchre clubs, whether the game is played for money or simply for prizes. He says it is simply gambling and he regrets that the practice is growing among the women of this community.

Mr. Stewart refers to the act of 1860, and says that under it any owner or occupant of a house who permits gambling of this character is liable to a heavy fine, together with a term of imprisonment.

WOMEN AT CONFERENCE.

Members of Missionary Society Conduct Afternoon Session and Make Reports and Addresses.

The Woman's Home Missionary society had charge of the session yesterday afternoon of the Washington conference, being held in the African Methodist Episcopal church, Fulton street. Mrs. J. A. Holmes presided and the devotional exercises were led by Mrs. A. Mussingdon. An address of welcome was given by Miss Lettie Williams, and Mrs. Emma Reed of Sharpsburg told of the work being accomplished by the organization. The annual address was made by the Rev. Dr. S. H. Brown of Baltimore.

The features of the evening session were addresses by the Rev. Benjamin T. Perkins of Washington, D. C., and the Rev. J. J. Cecil of Hamilton, Va. The conference indorsed the work along educational and religious lines by Dr. I. G. Penn, corresponding secretary of the Negro Young Peoples' Christian and Educational congress. The congress meets every four years, the next session being set for July 3-8, at Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON NEWS NOTES.

The recent trouble among Apache indian captives at Fort Sill was occasioned by the war department refusing them, except Geronimo, permission to exhibit themselves with traveling shows on the ground that in previous years they have learned gambling and other bad habits while on the road.

The general staff of the army believes that the line of the Panama canal should be strongly fortified and has prepared a plan for the defences which is now before Secretary Taft. But the Isthmian canal commission urges that no attempt be made to erect fortifications and that the canal should be neutralized, just as is the Suez canal.

The supplemental treaty between this country and Japan, which was signed at Tokio is comprised in one single article including bribery in the list of extraditable crimes.

One hundred printers were discharged by Public Printer Stillings, the reason assigned being lack of work. It is expected that as the result of the present agitation for a reduction in the amount of government printing a number of others shortly will be dropped. The public printer also has accepted the resignation of Patrick Bryones, foreman of the bindery.

The senate confirmed the appointments of the following postmasters: Ohio—A. Sweeney, Steubenville. Pennsylvania—K. K. Wiley, California; G. R. Adam, Brockwayville.

Secretary Bonaparte has requested Admiral Sands, superintendent of the naval academy to go to Washington next week to confer with him relative to the disposition of charges against 35 young midshipmen who have been put upon the "black list" by the academic board which investigated the extent to which hazing prevailed at the academy.

Governor Winthrop of Porto Rico was heard by the house committee on insular affairs. The governor replied in part to the criticism of the administration of the island by Mayor Todd and others who were heard some time ago.

The court of appeals sustained the lower court which overruled the demurrers of Hyde and Benson to the indictments charging them with complicity in western land frauds.

Representative De Armond of Missouri introduced a bill providing that for the purpose of jurisdiction in judicial proceedings, every corporation doing business or having an office in any state shall be deemed a corporation of that state.

JOHN ENNIS MAY NOT BE GAUGER

DEMOCRATS' NEW TROUBLE

There is a possibility that John F. Ennis will not be city gauger. The Democrats have been receiving some hard blows from the Guthrie administration, but the retirement of Ennis to private life would certainly be a knockout.

Some lawyers have been looking into the matter and have so far failed to find any authority for the appointment of a city gauger. Before the new charter this plum was given out by councils. Since then the mayor has been making the appointment. While it is understood that Mayor Guthrie is disposed to continue Ennis, he will probably have trouble discovering his legal authority. It will also be found the charter act took the power of election away from councils. It may be decided this $3,000 job is legally abolished.

W. R. Williams, superintendent of the city poor farm, has an excellent chance of securing the superintendency of the bureau of highways and sewers at a salary of $4,000 a year. About the only thing standing in the way of his promotion is that Director Shaw of the department of charities wants to continue him as the head of the Marshalsea institution. Director Clark desires to appoint him.

Mayor Guthrie has appointed James B. Drew and A. M. Thompson as assistant city solicitors. John A. Blair is removed to make a place for Drew, and Thompson succeeds W. W. Smith, who has resigned. Thomas D. Carnahan and L. S. Levin have been reappointed. Drew and Thompson have been Republicans in national politics. The latter was an assistant solicitor under the administration of Recorder J. O. Brown, and is the author of a city digest. Drew was prominent in the Young Mens' Republican club, a side issue of the Citizens party.

The Democrats are doubtful of getting J. G. Vilsack for city treasurer to succeed John F. Steel. The friends of the present officials are making a mighty effort for his retention and the argument appears to be all on their side. Steel has a good record and was an ardent supporter of Guthrie.

HOLDS MENZEMER FOR U. S. COURT

Former Clerk in Enterprise Bank Has Hearing Before Commissioner Lindsay.

GETS LINE ON PROSECUTION

For the avowed purpose of allowing his attorney, Joseph A. Langfitt, to get a line on the prosecution, Charles Menzemer, a former clerk in the wrecked Enterprise bank, went into a hearing before United States Commissioner Lindsay yesterday. He answered to six charges of falsifying certified checks, abstracting and misapplying funds belonging to the bank and aiding and abetting T. Lee Clark to abstract and misapply assets of the bank. Commissioner Lindsay held him for May term of the United States district court under $5,000 bond.

John J. Moore, a former messenger of the bank, the first witness, identified two checks for $5,000 each, one drawn in favor of W. H. Andrews and one in favor of himself, which were signed by F. R. Nichols and certified by Menzemer.

Special Bank Examiner Edward P. Moxey testified that Nichols had no funds to his credit when the checks were drawn, October 13, 1903. He also said that Nichols had no account between January, 1902, and February, 1904, when there were a number of sundries entered.

John B. Cunningham, national bank examiner, testified to having taken charge of the affairs of the bank October 13, 1905, and said that he had found that Menzemer owed the bank several amounts, among them sums of $5,000, $3,000 and $2,377.69. He said Menzemer had told him he got these amounts through clerks and to secure the bank he had taken his note for the amounts, with watered stock as collateral.

This was all the testimony offered. Menzemer then furnished the bond named, with Elizabeth Eisenhauser and W. M. Wentzel as his sureties.

Thomas Rinaker, the permanent receiver, stated yesterday that many of the depositors thought they had fulfilled all legal requirements toward protecting their claims by leaving their bank books at the institution. He said that this was a mistaken idea, however, and in order to secure their claims, they must file an affidavit of their account before May 18.

The Death Roll

Samuel Frank.

Samuel Frank, aged 58, a life-long resident of Pittsburgh, died at his residence, 938 Beech avenue, Allegheny, at 11:30 p. m., April 5, from an incurable malady, for which he underwent an operation at the hands of Dr. Keen of Philadelphia, six years ago. Mr. Frank was born in the old First ward of Pittsburgh. His father was William Frank, founder of Franklintown, and among the pioneers of the glass industry in this city. Mr. Frank also for many years was engaged in glass manufacturing, and for a long period served as a member of the wage scale committee for the glass interests. He retired from business 15 years ago, since when he had devoted his time to varied interests and charitable enterprises. Mr. Frank is survived by his wife, who was Lizzie Klein of Kittanning; two sons, Laurence W. and Edgar K., and two daughters, Gertrude and Amy, residing at home. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. William Frank, and sister, Mrs. M. Oppenheimer, and two brothers, A. Frank and Isaac W. Frank. Funeral services will be held at his late residence at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

George William Boyd.

George William Boyd, aged 62, of Coraopolis, died yesterday morning. He was born in Clarion county and had spent the greater part of his life in Clarion and Butler counties. He was in the mercantile business for a number of years and later devoted his time to operations in the oil field. He retired from business two years ago, and since had resided in Coraopolis. He was a member of the United Presbyterian church. Mr. Boyd is survived by his widow, a daughter, Miss Daisy, and a son, George, the latter being engaged with the Burmah Oil Company in Upper Burmah, India. He also leaves a brother, Charles Boyd of Shannopin, and a sister, Mrs. Sarah Harshaw of Butler county. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock this morning, with interment following in Bear Creek cemetery, Butler county.

Thomas Lloyd Jones.

Thomas Lloyd Jones, a newspaper man, was found dead yesterday in his room at the home of John Mountford, Vine street, Edgewood. He had worked Thursday night and when he failed to respond upon being called at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the door was opened and his body was found in bed. Death had resulted from heart failure. Mr. Jones was born in Wales 41 years ago and had worked on newspapers in that country, in Liverpool, England, and in Brooklyn, Chicago, Canton and this city. At the time of his death he was employed by the Tri-State Press Bureau of Pittsburgh. A brother, Capt. Jones, is connected with the Cramp shipbuilding yards in Philadelphia, and word was telegraphed to him last evening. Mr. Jones' father is a Congregational minister in Wales.

John E. Black.

John E. Black, former bookkeeper of the Washington National bank, Pittsburgh, died yesterday at 10:20 a. m. at his residence, 216 Amanda avenue, Mt. Oliver. He is survived by his widow, his father, Alexander Black of Allentown, one brother, Alexander D. Black and three sisters, Mrs. William Schell, Mrs. Charles Lawson and Miss Lauretta Black. He was a member of the Bankers' & Bank Clerks' Mutual Beneficial association, Pittsburgh Chapter of the American Institute of Bank Clerks, the Knoxville Presbyterian church and of the Hill Top Council No. 88, Jr. O. U. A. M. Services will be held tomorrow at 3 p. m., the interment being in South Side cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Bennington.

Mrs. Mary Bennington, aged 65, widow of Harrison Bennington, died yesterday morning at her home, 2330 Jane street, South Side. She was born in Cumberland, Md., and prior to coming to Pittsburgh 13 years ago resided in Des Moines, Ia. She was a member of the Walton Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. Bennington is survived by seven sons—Edward of Hoboken, N. J.; William of Moberly, Mo.; Guy of Camden, N. J., and Charles, Frank, James and Emmett, all of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Mary Pressley McCance.

Mrs. Mary Pressley McCance, aged 80, widow of Thomas McCance, died yesterday morning at the family residence, 608 Church avenue, Allegheny. She was born in Allegheny county and had spent her whole life in this locality. Mrs. McCance was a member of the First United Presbyterian church of Allegheny and was active in church and charitable work. She is survived by three sons, Pressley P., Dr. Joseph K. and W. J. McCance, and three daughters, Mrs. Mayburn and Misses Margaret and Mary McCance, all of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Isaac Ambler.

Mrs. Isaac Ambler died yesterday morning at 2:30 at her home in New England, Pa. She was born in England December 18, 1832, and had resided in New England nearly 28 years. She is survived by her husband, a son and seven daughters, J. W. Ambler, Jeannette; Mrs. James Laughlin, Wilson, Pa.; Mrs. James N. Robinson, Previsburg, and Mrs. Andrew Forbes, Mrs. William Howell and Miss Jennie Ambler of New England. The deceased was a member of Lebanon Presbyterian church.

NOTED EDUCATOR AND JOURNALIST IS DEAD

Weston Flint, Former Consul to China and Early Advocate of Civil Service, Passes Away.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Weston Flint, lawyer, journalist, educator and former librarian of the Washington public library, died in this city today, aged 71. Mr. Flint was prominently identified with the Masonic order, and had taken the thirty-second degree.

He was a native of New York. After teaching in that state, Pennsylvania and Ohio, he went to St. Louis, where he served as military agent for Ohio during the civil war, also acting a part of the time for the states of New York and Michigan, in the care of their soldiers in camps and hospitals. Afterward he practiced law in St. Louis and was active for a time in Missouri politics.

In 1866 he was one of the organizers of the Southern Loyalist convention at Chicago. At one time he was editor and publisher of the St. Louis Daily Tribune. He also for a time was United States consul at Chin Kiang, China. He had much to do with the organization of the civil service commission.

"Before and After."

A whirlwind is reported to be coming this way and will strike Pittsburgh Monday night, April 9. It is a whirlwind of laughter, however, and will do everybody good. That cyclone of mirth, Leo Ditrichstein's ludicrous play, "Before and After," with Fritz Williams, George C. Boniface, Jr., John Daly Murphy, Katherine Florence, Georgie Lawrence and a host of other fun-makers of reputation will appear at the Belasco theater Monday evening for an engagement of one week.

Chapter to Hold Housewarming.

The Pittsburgh chapter, American Institute of Bank Clerks, will meet Tuesday evening, April 10, in its new quarters, ninth floor of the Wabash building. As this will be the initial meeting in the chapter's new home the affair will partake of the nature of a housewarming. There will be addresses by Drs. Meade and Temple, instrumental and vocal music, an Irish monologue and free cigars for everybody.

Negro Burglar Chokes Young Woman.

Surprised in the hall by a young woman who was returning late Thursday night from a reception, a negro who had entered the residence of William Clark, 1235 Walnut street, McKeesport, attacked Miss Laura Clark and choked her severely. She screamed and aroused the other members of the family, but the negro, who was in his stocking feet, escaped.

ALIEN EXCLUSION BILL PERFECTED

The Congressional Committee Agrees on Further Restrictions on Immigration.

SOME IMPORTANT CHANGES

Special Telegram From
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Another demand of the American Federation of Labor is soon to be acceded to by the house of representatives, in the passage of an immigration bill. The house recently passed the employers' liability bill, which is in the interest of the laboring men, especially those employed on railroads, and with the enactment of a new immigration law it is believed that there will be left little ground for complaint upon the part of the labor interests.

The house committee on immigration has agreed upon a report which will be made by Representative Gardiner of Massachusetts. The bill will raise the head tax from $2 to $5 and it will provide an educational test by which every immigrant over 16 years of age will be obliged to be able to read some language, though not necessarily English. Every male adult must have at least $25 in cash and every female $15. The head of a family may bring in his entire family, if he has cash capital of $50. Among the excluded class are imbeciles, those of weak minds and manual laborers who have poor physiques.

The bill gives the power to the secretary of the department of commerce and labor in his discretion to exclude children under 16 years of age, if unaccompanied by their parents. It also makes a number of changes in the administrative features of the present law.

A large number of immigration bills have been introduced at this session of congress, representing a great variety of ideas, but all aimed at the same object, the restriction of the privilege of American residence and citizenship to a better class of aliens. One of these bills was introduced by Representative Graham of Allegheny, and others were brought forward by Mr. Bonynge of Colorado, who has given a great deal of study to this question.

All of these bills were considered by the committee, and the principal features of several of them were embodied in the bill that is to be reported by the committee. Representative Bennett of New York will write a minority report.

There is little doubt but that some immigration bill will be enacted by congress at this session. There is a demand for more stringent laws in every section of the country, and Commissioner General Sargent of the immigration bureau is strongly in favor of a new law. President Roosevelt recommended it in his annual message in December, and the leaders of congress favor it.

Fire Causes $100,000 Damages.

WAYNESBURG, PA., April 6.—(Special.)—The loss to the firm of Grossman Bros. caused by the fire at their large department store this morning will probably reach $100,000. The insurance on the building and stock was $81,000. Valuable papers and borough plans were destroyed in the office of T. B. Dinsmore, an occupant of the building.

Thieves Are Connoisseurs.

Thieves, who were evidently connoisseurs in silverware, visited the residence of John D. Bailey of the Pittsburgh stock exchange, 2362 California avenue, Allegheny, early yesterday morning and secured booty valued at $200. All the goods taken were of solid silverware, the plated ware being cast aside. An entrance was effected by prying open a rear window.

MUTUAL LIFE TRUSTEES ARE PROMISED A SCARE

Andrew C. Fields Says He Is Prepared to Tell the Truth, No Difference Who It Hurts.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 6.—Charges similar to those recently made against the directors of the New York Life Insurance Company by Andrew Hamilton were made today against the trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance Company by Andrew C. Fields. The former legislative agent of the Mutual is now in seclusion at his home at Dobbs Ferry. He is said to be seriously ill and has denied himself to all callers.

The charges against the Mutual trustees were made in a formal statement which Fields issued through his physician and in which he declared the Mutual trustees well knew the nature of his duties while he was employed by the company as legislative agent, and also had charge of its supply department. He says he had come home "prepared to tell the truth, no matter whom it hurts, be his position high or low."

He denies he ever gave a bribe to anyone, declares the story of the so-called house of mirth at Albany to be a malicious libel and claims that while acting for the Mutual he saved the company many hundreds of thousands of dollars. He says the records of the Mutual's supply department which had been reported as missing are within easy reach, and that they will be forthcoming whenever the trustees want them.

He promises to make a full and complete explanation of the manner in which the $600,000 or more which was paid to him by the expenditure committee was disbursed, and to show that every payment was fully authorized. Mr. Fields says in all his career at Albany he never had any personal dealings with Andrew Hamilton, long the legislative agent for the New York Life Insurance Company.

DOESN'T WEAR A WIG.

Miss Minto Hassler Indignantly Denies Such an Implication.

Outraged dignity would be the best way to describe Miss Minto Hassler, the manicurist, when she read in The Gazette yesterday morning that Miss Young said she wore a wig.

"The idea! For anyone to say that I wear a wig. Why, every bit of this hair is my own," she said. "Miss Young did not dye my hair a shade darker, but she turned it black."

"It was green," declared Miss Hassler's assistant.

Miss Hassler further said no one saw her hair after it had been dyed black, and statements to that effect were ridiculous. She also claims that she suffered pecuniary loss and humiliation because of losing her hair, and that was the reason for bringing the suit.

Sick Woman Ends Her Life.

UNIONTOWN, PA., April 6.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mattie Collins, aged 60, committed suicide early this morning by drowning in a creek near her home at Yauger hollow. Mrs. Collins had been in ill health. Mr. Collins on going to her room found she was not there. A search revealed her dead body in the creek. She was clad only in her night dress. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons.

Hearing for Fair Autoist.

Miss Alice Garland of 5501 Baum street will be given a hearing before Magistrate Negley at 2 o'clock this afternoon. She is charged with running an automobile without a license. Last Tuesday Miss Garland is alleged to have struck Miss Julia M. Harding, the well-known clubwoman, while speeding her auto at Walnut street and South Negley avenue.

FOR WOMEN ONLY.

There are good and substantial reasons why intelligent people and physicians as well, employ Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of diseases and weakness peculiar to women.

In the first place, it is not a cure-all, serving only a singleness of purpose, being a specific for one class of diseases only—those peculiar weaknesses and maladies incident to women. Besides it is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for the cure of such maladies, all the ingredients of which have the endorsement of leading medical practitioners and writers, as being the very best known remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is advised. All this will be learned to the reader's full satisfaction by perusing a booklet of extracts compiled by Doctor Pierce from standard authorities of the several schools of practice, and which will be sent free to any address on request for same, mailed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

In the second place, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine for woman's peculiar weaknesses and affections, all the ingredients of which are printed upon the bottle wrapper in plain English, so that all who take it may know exactly what they are using.

A further reason for the unprecedented popularity of the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce for the special use of women, is to be found in the fact that it contains not a drop of alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, being used instead, both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles extracted from such roots of native, medicinal, forest plants as are employed in its make-up. The printed formula will also bear witness that it contains no narcotics or other harmful or habit-forming drugs, being entirely made up of glyceric extracts of native, American plants of marvelous efficacy in the cure of the diseases peculiar to women.

Now, in this connection, it is well to bear in mind, that, curious as it may seem, yet it is a fact that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine for the cure of women's peculiar weaknesses and maladies that does not contain alcohol and that too in large quantities. This fact can be easily proven; and yet it is a fact well known to all the best physicians that alcohol, even in small quantities, when long continued is very harmful, and especially so to weak, invalid, nervous women. While the effect of spirituous wines and liquors, sold under various enticing names may at first be to exhilerate, brace up and unduly support the system for a brief time, yet a reaction comes sooner or later and the patient is worse off than before. Besides, a craving for alcoholic stimulants has gradually fastened itself upon the poor, deluded, suffering woman—a malady generally more to be dreaded than the original affliction.

Furthermore, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has a record of cures extending over a period exceeding one-third of a century and embracing more genuine cases of full and complete recovery than any other medicine in its line can boast of. Thousands have been saved from the operating table and the surgeon's knife by the use of this marvelously efficacious specific for woman's ailments. Other thousands have escaped the disagreeable ordeal of the doctors' questionings, and offensive examinations by taking this remedy and being cured in the privacy of their homes. It has cured thousands of bad, obstinate cases in which doctors had failed and in which cures were thought to be impossible.

What it has done for others it will no doubt, DO FOR YOU, if similarly afflicted, and you give it a good, fair and faithful trial.

In favor of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription being regarded away above the secret patent medicines of our time, is the frank, confiding open, honest statement of its full composition, giving every ingredient in plain English, without fear of successful criticism and with confidence that the good sense of afflicted women will lead them to appreciate this honorable manner of confiding to them what they are taking into their stomachs when making use of this medicine.

If suffering from backache, sideache, periodical headaches and other recurring pains at more or less regular intervals, disagreeable drains as if from pelvic catarrh, sickening sensations, dizziness at times, monthly headaches, irregularities, bearing-down or dragging-down sensations in the lower abdomen or any of the many kindred distressful and painful symptoms which accompany female weaknesses, then you cannot find any remedy quite so perfectly adapted for the cure of your malady as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Bear in mind, it is not a secret nostrum, is not a patent medicine, to the use of which most intelligent people object because of the close secrecy with which the formulæ of such medicines are held, and which, no doubt are many times harmful in the long run, especially as all those for women contain large quantities of alcohol and oft times other objectionable ingredients. The only wise and safe course is to use only MEDICINES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, and which, like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, contain no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs.

The exact proportion of the several ingredients used in Dr. Pierce's medicines, as well as the working formula and peculiar processes, apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are withheld from publicity that Dr. Pierce's proprietary rights may not be infringed and trespassed upon by unprincipled imitators and those who may be piratically inclined.

For weak stomachs and the consequent indigestion or dyspepsia, and the multitude of various diseases which result therefrom, no medicine can be better suited as a curative agent than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black cohosh and Black Cherrybark entering into its composition are all recommended by such eminent authorities as Dr. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College; Prof. John King, author of the "AMERICAN DISPENSATORY"; Prof. John M. Scudder, late of Cincinnati; Dr. William Paine, author of Paine's Epitomy of Medicine; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Medical Dept., University of N. Y.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica in the Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago, and many others, as remedies for indigestion and dyspepsia, torpid liver as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections, as will be seen from reading a little booklet recently compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., who will send the same on request, by postal card or letter, to any address, free. This little booklet tells of what Dr. Pierce's celebrated medicines are made, and gives the properties and uses of each and every ingredient entering into their composition. Write Dr. Pierce, as above and receive it by return post.

Queen's root, or Stillingia, is an ingredient entering into the "Golden Medical Discovery" highly recommended by several of the above mentioned authorities for the cure of chronic or lingering bronchial, throat and lung affections, public speaker's sore throat attended with hoarseness, dry, rasping cough and kindred affections. Not only is Queen's root specific in its curative action in all these affections, but in "Golden Medical Discovery" it is greatly assisted by the combination with it of Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark and Bloodroot, with which it is blended in just the right proportion.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. Thereby they avoid the disagreeable questioning from which most women shrink as well as the still more repulsive examinations which are generally unnecessary. All letters of consultation are regarded as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send Dr. Pierce as above directed, 21 one cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for cloth binding 31 stamps.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure bad foul stomach and constipation and so help to cure nearly every disease of mankind. They regulate, tone up and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

BOOKS and BOOKMEN BY GEORGE SEIBEL

ONE of the most remarkable undertakings of recent years in the publishing world reached its completion this week by the issue of the twelfth and last volume of the Jewish Encyclopedia. Funk & Wagnalls began its publication in February, 1902, so that little more than four years were required to finish a task which in its way is as stupendous as the building of the great Pyramid. It was nearly all pioneer work—there being no similar compilation, though there are some dictionaries of Jewish biography, ritual and other departments. There were 605 collaborators on the work, who wrote no less than 16,606 general articles, running up to nearly ten million words.

The twelfth volume begins with an exhaustive article on the Talmud and closes with a biographical note on Paul Zweifel, a German Jewish physician. Among the important articles of this volume are those on the Targum, the Temple, Theology, the Torah, the Ten Lost Tribes, Judaism in the United States, the Wandering Jew, Zangwill and Zionism.

The 12 volumes, now all off the press, form a solid phalanx of practically everything known and worth knowing about the Jews and Judaism. Not only the Hebrew, but every one interested in the people who gave us our Bible, and in the history and exegesis of that book, will find this great work a mine of curious lore. But it has another special interest as embodying the culmination of the modern ideal in co-operative encyclopedia making. The encyclopedia of Diderot and the encyclopedists required 21 years for its printing, and though it extended to 28 volumes it really contains far less matter and is much more contracted in scope than such a modern work as the Jewish Encyclopedia, in getting which ready no less than 75,000 various works were consulted.

Besides this monumental compilation of facts, some very interesting volumes of fiction appeared this week. The Macmillan Company issued "Lady Baltimore," Owen Wister's first novel since "The Virginian," and "If Youth but Knew," by Agnes and Egerton Castle. Dodd, Mead & Co. published "The Scholar's Daughter," by Beatrice Harraden; "Cowardice Court," by George Barr McCutcheon, and "My Sword for Lafayette," by Max Pemberton. Charles Scribner's Sons issued "Six Stars," by Nelson Lloyd, and "The Tower," by Mary Tappan Wright.

A book that will be warmly welcomed by lovers of the departed actor is Francis Wilson's "Joseph Jefferson," a volume of reminiscence and appreciation, published by Charles Scribner's Sons.

ANDREW LANG, Author of "Sir Walter Scott."

ANDREW LANG ON SIR WALTER.

Sir Walter Scott. By Andrew Lang. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. and Kaufmann's. 218 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.00.

SOME time ago Andrew Lang was chosen to edit a new Dickens, by a publisher who merits the medal for injudiciousness. Mr. Lang is constitutionally incapable of appreciating Dickens, though he cannot help admiring him. "Who can cry over Little Nell?" he asks, though Jeffrey, hard-headed critic, "wept like anything" at the untimely demise of that angelic creature. Mr. Lang's head may not be any harder than Jeffrey's, nor his heart either, but in the presence of Dickens he is like a color-blind bull in the arena.

This, of course, is a misfortune, not a crime. The gods have made up for it by giving Mr. Lang an altogether uncanny insight and appreciation when dealing with Sir Walter Scott. No one else is so eminently qualified to interpret the Wizard of the North, and kindle enthusiasm for him. It is simply another proof of the Ettrick Shepherd's saying, echoed by Scott: "A man canna do what he canna do."

Mr. Lang's admirable qualifications on this point are equaled only by his extreme modesty and diffidence. He starts out by saying that "if all reading mankind had time to read Lockhart's 'Life of Scott,' a brief volume on Sir Walter would be a thing without excuse." This is almost as sweeping, if not quite as bumptious, as the remark of the late David Carnegie, who, after twice crossing the Australian desert, said that no explorer need go thither again. So far from Lockhart's having exhausted Scott, Saintsbury and Hutton and Lang have left enough of the loaves and fishes to fill 12 baskets with the fragments.

It was Mr. Lang, in his "Letters to Dead Authors," who wished he had been the fortunate pig which enjoyed so much of Sir Walter's company. In that spirit of humble devotion he has written this volume. Indeed, he has a subject well worthy of such zeal. There is no author except perhaps Homer who appeals more strongly to the primary virtues in man. Remember that "virtus" comes from "vir," a man, and meant the quality of manhood, of courage, of honor. It is this quality, or combination of qualities, Scott fosters. In reading him we are not merely amused, we are enthused.

Yet Mr. Lang is no indiscriminate adorer of his idol's imperfections. He shows himself quite ready to admit that Scott never learned grammar. "I have found five 'whiches' in a sentence of his, and five 'ques' in a sentence by Alexandre Dumas, his pupil and rival. Dumas had more of the humor of Scott than Scott had of the wit of Dumas. Many parts of his tales are prolix: his openings, as a rule, are dull."

Though he says such things himself, woe to the wight whose temerity would lead him to say anything similarly disrespectful of Mr. Lang's hero. Carlyle called Scott's men and women "deceptively painted automatons." Mr. Lang first explains Carlyle's antipathy to Scott by "some slight private bitterness against Sir Walter, on a matter of an unanswered letter." Then he slashes deeper: "This is that Carlyle who conceded to Cardinal Newman the possession of intellectual powers equivalent to those of a rabbit." And then, repulsing the charge that Scott never gets near the heart of his character, he waxes fiercely eloquent. "Never near the broken, stoical heart of Saunders Mucklebackit; of the fallen Bradwardine, happy in unsullied honor; never near the heart of the maddened Peter Peebles; never near the flawless Christian heart of Bessie M'Clure; or the heart of dauntless remorse of Nancy Ewart; or the heart of sacrificed love in Diana Vernon; or the stout heart of Dalgetty in the dungeon of Inverary; or the secret soul of Mary Stuart, revealed when she is reminded of Bastian's bridal mask, and the deed of Kirk o' Field? Quid plura, Thomas Carlyle wrote splendid nonsense: 'he was very capable of having it happen to him.'" This, and some other passages aimed at Scott's critics, show Mr. Lang to be, as Scott himself was, "a bonny fechter."

In the role of apologist, he can be quite persuasive, as when he essays to explain why Scott was never reflective and profound. "Scott was silent, not because he did not reflect, but because he knew the futility of human reflection." This reminds one of the man who did not eat because he would get hungry again. "Ilios must perish," says Homer—"and what more is there to say?" asks Mr. Lang, "for a man who does not wear his heart upon his sleeve?" No doubt Mr. Lang prefers the book of Joshua to the book of Job; others have shared that view, very worthy gentlemen too, but none has made the inaccessible grapes appear so acidulously green.

Elsewhere he gives an admirable picture of Scott's methods, which is at the same time a picture also of his results. "Shelley composed while watching 'the bees in the ivy bloom;' Keats while listening to the nightingale; Scott in the parliament house, under the glare of Lord Balmuto. But 'Marmion' was composed during gallops among the hills of Tweedside."

And so, despite the fact that this book is written by a zealous disciple, or rather because of that fact, Mr. Lang's volume in the series of Literary Lives is one of the best things ever written about Scott. It is worth while reading for Lang's sake—this Lang who can be as erudite as Lowell and as agreeable as Lamb. It is even better worth while reading for Scott's sake—whom latter-day critics scorn and latter-day romancers loot, whom some praise but all neglect, and who, along with Homer and Dumas, preaches the most acceptable and necessary gospel for such an age as ours, an age of effeminacy and compromise, analysis, introspection, morbidity and epigram.

COL. M'CLURE'S MEMORIES.

Old-Time Notes of Pennsylvania. By A. K. McClure. Philadelphia: The John C. Winston Company. Two volumes, octavo, illustrated, 599 and 632 pages. Price, $8.00.

COL. A.K. M'CLURE'S reminiscences, which were published in The Sunday Gazette during more than a year, form one of the most valuable contributions to state and national history since Blaine wrote his "Twenty Years in Congress." Beginning with Gov. Wolf, who was defeated for re-election because he approved the measure establishing free schools, and ending with the Republican revolt of 1905, Col. McClure can truthfully say, like Virgil's hero, that "All these things I have seen, and many of them I have been." Every citizen of Pennsylvania should read these volumes, because by the light they cast upon the past history of the state many of the weak points in the present regime are laid bare. He should read it also to learn that political corruption, over which so much ado is made by a sensational press, is no new thing, but was a great deal more flagrant and audacious a generation ago. He should read it also to learn how ignorance, short-sightedness and prejudice have obstructed progress in many directions—how the greed of corporations on the one hand and unreasoning hatred of organized wealth on the other hand, have cost the state many millions and retarded progress many years.

The story of the Pennsylvania railroad, which makes several interesting chapters of the work, is an excellent illustration of the way in which popular delusions make the way easy for demagogues and corruptionists. Such movements as the Anti-Masonic and Know-Nothing parties show what devious trend public opinion may take from well-meant and patriotic beginnings. These two volumes, in fact, constitute an object lesson in applied democracy. And in the light of that lesson we, who look upon the party strife of Athens and Rome with contemptuous pity, who regard the bloody factions of Guelph and Ghibelline with sneering superiority, should hang our heads in shame, admitting that nineteenth century America had not shown much improvement over ancient Attica and mediæval Umbria.

In the midst of this turmoil and degradation stands Col. McClure, a figure almost pathetic in his integrity and patriotism. One is nearly tempted to liken him to Milton's Abdiel, "unshaken, unseduced, unterrified," were it not for this pathetic quality. Col. McClure was never stronger than the evil which environed him. He was a spectator, sometimes a protestant, but not powerful enough to be a reformer, while too cautious to become a martyr. Moreover, unlike Abdiel, he was not the only faithful one among the faithless. Many heroic and honest men are met with in his pages—men like Governors Ritner, Porter, Johnston and Curtin, like Justices Gibson, Black and Pershing—men who were the salt of the state and whose record revives our trust in government of the people, by the people and for the people.

Yet another aspect of this work, which is practically a history of Pennsylvania during the last 75 years, will make it invaluable to the student of our politics, both national and state. It contains many a page of secret political history—it tells, for example, how Blaine missed becoming president and how Knox became senator; it gives a wonderful insight into the personalities and methods of Pennsylvania's great political triumvirate, Mackey, Cameron and Quay. The Wanamaker fight and the Magee revolt are laid bare in their inmost workings. Here, in fact, is the key to the political history of the last quarter century.

Many chapters are as thrilling as romance. There are intimate reminiscences of Lincoln, Grant, Greeley and other men of mark. The story of the Buckshot War, of the Reign of Shoddy, of the Mollie Maguires, of John Brown's Raid, of the Draft Troubles of 1862, of the Confederates in Pennsylvania, of Philadelphia's Street Car Troubles, of Opposition to Negro Suffrage, of Ballot Steals are all written with graphic and fearless pen. There is a vast accumulation of historic lore in these bulky volumes which every citizen of the Keystone state should read, in tribute to their author—lawyer, editor, honest politician, and adviser of many great and good men.

BYRON AND NO END OF HIM.

Maid of Athens. By Lafayette McLaws. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. and Kaufmann's. 280 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.50.

THE fourth Byron novel within little more than a year! Well, there were so many romances in Byron's life that its possibilities are by no means exhausted yet. Miss McLaws has woven her story around the popular farewell song, "Maid of Athens, ere we part," a song set to music by perhaps a score of composers, among them Balfe and Gounod. She pictures the Maid of Athens as a beautiful Greek princess, whose father and mother had both died in the cause of Greek liberty. Thyrza is brought up in the sultan's palace until she sees Lord Byron. She falls in love with him at the same time that a Turkish pasha falls in love with her. A Greek conspiracy, in which Byron and Thyrza are both involved, leads to Byron's expulsion from the country. In England he receives a forged letter apprising him of Thyrza's marriage, whereupon he precipitately marries Miss Milbanke. But in the next chapter Thyrza returns, and Lady Byron leaves her husband—a new version of a much-discussed episode in the poet's life. Thyrza enters a convent and Byron goes to die for Greek liberty at Missolonghi.

Of course all this is fiction out of the whole cloth. The true story of the Maid of Athens is unromantic enough. She was only half Greek, her father being a matter-of-fact English vice consul. When the father died, the family prosaically took in boarders, and Byron was one of these. Theresa Macri, the eldest of three daughters, was a girl of great beauty and virtue, but her only claim to fame rests upon the verses Byron addressed to her. Alas, her later life deviated sadly from Miss McLaws' romantic imaginings. An Englishman who hunted her up 24 years after the famous song was written, found her married, working hard to keep alive a large brood of children, with not a trace of that beauty remaining which once set fire to a poet's heart. Truth is sadder than fiction.

However, this array of facts does not detract from the legitimacy of Miss McLaws' plot. History is but the handmaiden of art, and historical accuracy the bugaboo of pedantic souls. A fine lie is better than feeble truth—in art, where the highest truth is utter fantasy and total dreams. Lessing has admitted in his "Hamburgische Dramaturgie," that no violation of history is unjustified except that which misrepresents character. Even this limitation is elastic—the real Brutus, for instance, was not "the noblest Roman of them all," but a bloodthirsty usurer. A far more serious count than perversion of fact lies against Miss McLaws' novel. From the suicide of Thyrza's mother to the scene in the Olympeium and the rupture with Lady Byron, all is strained and artificial. Byron himself is a very cheap sort of hero. "Damn him, damn them all!" "I will see his excellency in hell first," are samples of his subtle wit in repartee. There is one episode in the harem, however, which tops everything for bathos. Thyrza and her companion are to dance. Mme. Minton says:

"Walt, mademoiselle, you must first put on these corsets."

"Corsets," both girls cried; then Yildiz added: "Ah, the little machine which the Valide-Sultana uses to reduce herself."

The girls array themselves in the French dancing costume, and presently Mme. Minton demands, horrified: "Mademoiselle, what are you trying to do?"

"To cover my legs," Lady Thyrza replied.

"Mon Dieu!" the Frenchwoman exclaimed. "As if dancing were not invented for the express purpose of showing your legs."

We begin to fear, since stays and Bernard Shaw have invaded the harem, that the Sublime Porte is getting to be ridiculous.

MR. BACHELLER BACK HOME.

Silas Strong. By Irving Bacheller. New York: Harper & Bros. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. and Kaufmann's. 340 pages. Price, $1.50.

Mr. Bacheller has turned away from the bargain counters of Rome and the sanctified sands of Palestine and gone back to the northern woods where he is at home. Here he cannot be accused of anachronism nor censured for irreverence. Here he may drop into modern slang without vexing the shade of Cicero upon the Stygian shore. And Mr. Bacheller revels in his freedom. He seems glad to get his sandals off and pull on a pair of moccasins, to exchange his toga praetexta for a woifskin jacket. And we are glad to see him back. Let Ingraham and Wallace keep their monopoly of the International Lesson romance, and stick to your north woods, Mr. Bacheller!

Silas Strong, who is titled emperor of those woods, is a creation that reminds one of Eben Holden, despite all the external differences. We recognize his voice in spite of his stutter. The homely pathos of his life, the happy philosophy hid beneath his laconic utterance, all are the same. The warm heart in him is the same. The maxims he jots down in his memorandum book are very Ebenish.

But Mr. Bacheller has found a new and fine fundamental idea to base this story on. Silas Strong's love for the woods, his plea against ax and saw, afford a strong motif. The tragedy of our forests furnishes the main interest of the novel. The thrill we all felt when we first read George P. Morris' "Woodman, spare that tree," vibrates through these pages. Mr. Bacheller has redeemed his Roman defeat by a victory at home.

MUSICAL REFERENCE WORK.

Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians. Edited by J. A. Fuller Maitland. New York: The Macmillan Company. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. Volume II, 790 pages, illustrated. Price, $5.00.

The new edition of Grove's Dictionary, which is to be completed in five volumes, bids fair to be the most exhaustive and authoritative general reference work on music ever published. The second volume begins with F, the fourth note of the natural scale, and extends to Lysberg, the Swiss pianist and composer. The biographical articles include Haydn, Handel, Liszt, Goldmark, Grieg, Lassus, Glinka and Gounod. There are also articles of special value on Fingering, Fugue, Greek Music, Harmony, the Hydraulus or Water Organ, Instrumentation, and Invertible Counterpoint. Admirers of the old dictionary will be delighted with C. L. Graves' sympathetic article on Sir George Grove; and the editor, Fuller Maitland, contributes articles on Orlando Gibbons, Grieg, and Liszt. American music and musicians are very fully treated in this new edition, which is far more richly illustrated than its predecessor.

ANOTHER "STRONG" HERO.

The Spoilers. By Rex E. Beach. New York: Harper & Brothers. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. and Kaufmann's. 314 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.50.

The "strong man" is the favorite hero of fiction just at present. Of course, the strong man, in the widest sense of the words, always has been and always will be the hero of fiction, but the particular type of strong man who now has the floor is very much specialized. He ranges in uncouthness and wickedness from Wister's Virginian to London's Sea Wolf—he is a mixture of Richard Harding Davis and Nietzsche. Mr. Beach's Roy Glenister is another specimen of the genus. At the beginning of the book he announces that "what he wants he takes" and proceeds to kiss the heroine against her will; at the end of the book she is as willing as Barkis, and her eyes are "bottomless, boundless pools." The desperate life of the Alaskan miner furnishes a picturesque background for the tale of primal passions and no finger-bowls, "where there ain't no ten commandments, and a man can raise a thirst."

WASHINGTON SNAPSHOTS.

Party Leaders of the Time. By Charles Willis Thompson. New York: G. W. Dillingham & Co. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. and Kaufmann's. 422 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.75.

As Washington correspondent of the New York Times and the Philadelphia Public Ledger, Mr. Thompson has come into personal contact with all the men of whom he writes—men prominent in national affairs and interesting in their individuality. Not dull biographical data but vivid personal impressions are what he gives us, and his subjects range from Roosevelt down through the cabinet and congress to Count Cassini and Mayor Weaver. Senator Knox is described as "the law on two legs;" John Dalzell he calls "the brains of the house triumvirate;" Charles H. Grosvenor is credited with "the temper of a buzz-saw;" Roosevelt himself is labeled "violently impulsive as well as roaringly honest." The best things in the book are the chapters on Hoar, Gorman and Bryan, bristling with apt anecdote and telling phrases.

A MARRIAGE OF CONVENIENCE.

Curayl. By Una L. Silberrad. New York: Doubleday, Page & Co. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. and Kaufmann's. 312 pages. Price, $1.50.

With some of George Eliot's moral earnestness, less of her literary gift, and none of her humor, Miss Silberrad writes novels powerful in some phases, but lamentably dry for the most part. "Curayl" is less interesting than "The Success of Mark Wyngate" and less original than "The Lady of Dreams." There is a strongly dramatic chapter when the heroine and the man who has practically bought her as his wife, to adorn his table and take a place in society, agree to disagree. But the story as a whole is lacking in blood and viscera, and the hero is the weakest thing about it. This Luttrell, with the ethics of Father Wagemann and the impulses of a Hall Caine preacher, reminds one rather forcibly of a hippopotamus garlanded with forget-me-nots.

A JUVENILE NEW TESTAMENT.

The Boys' Life of Christ. By William B. Forbush. New York: Funk & Wagnalls Company. 318 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.25.

The Rev. Mr. Forbush has written the story of Christ in the style of the popular juvenile—one might almost say in the style of the dime novel. It is always reverent, however, and accurate even in its imaginative flights. Boys should read it gladly.

A LEPER'S KISS.

Lady Jim of Curzon Street. By Fergus Hume. New York: G. W. Dillingham Co. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. and Kaufmann's. 319 pages. Price, $1.50.

It is not a detective story Fergus Hume has written this time, although a tale of crime and punishment. In it Mr. Hume becomes a follower of Sue rather than of Gaboriau. The latter half of the story, revolving about the leper's kiss which infects the woman who had wrecked his life, is decidedly unpleasant. It savors mildly of Nana's smallpox case and of the putrid sores D'Annunzio delights in describing. Leprosy is not an inviting subject, whether handled by Flaubert or by Longfellow, and Mr. Hume has not dipped his pen into rose-water. So, while his departure from conventional ruts is to be commended, it may be doubted whether he had not done better to stay there.

A STUDY OF TRUSTS.

Monopolies, Trusts and Kartells. By Francis W. Hirst. London: Methuen & Co. 179 pages.

Mr. Hirst's book is an attempt to answer the question: "To what extent has the principle of monopoly encroached upon that of competition in the civilized states of the world in recent years, and with what consequences to the wealth and welfare of nations?" Beginning with a history of monopolies in general, he traces the evolution of gigantic modern combinations, with the legislative and economic principles that have made them possible. The book contains many suggestions of value to the student of this problem.

FROM FRECKLES TO FAME.

Plucky Jo. By Edward S. Ellis. Boston: Dana Estes & Co. 329 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.25.

From the time he is introduced to us as a freckled, good-natured lad of 12, until he parts with the reader as a graduate of Princeton and a man of business, Jo is everywhere the same sport-loving, honest and captivating fellow, fond equally of play and hard work, and always ready to fight a bully and to shelter the weak. He has a fight with a negro tough and a battle with two burglars, wins the championship in baseball for his alma mater and gets there in everything he undertakes.

LITERARY NOTES.

"Napoleon and His Times," Vol. IX. of the Cambridge Modern History, is announced by the Macmillan Company for issue in May. This will be the sixth volume to appear of the 12 that will compose the set.

* * *

Publication of Dr. S. Weir Mitchell's story, "A Diplomatic Adventure," is announced by the Century Company for April 14. This is a tale, told in the first person, of certain exciting adventures in Paris at the time of our civil war—adventures which, despite their importance, have never crept into historical records.

* * *

A. C. Benson's life of "Walter Pater" is announced by the Macmillan Company for early issue in the English Men of Letters series. Mr. Benson, who wrote the excellent life of "Rossetti" in the same series, has in the absence of any official biography of Pater collected the information as to the events of the life from Pater's relatives and friends. The announcement recalls the fact that the first Life of Pater was written by an American, Ferris Greenslet, the recent biographer of Lowell.

* * *

Arthur Rackham, the well-known English artist who made the pictures for the new Doubleday, Page & Co. "Rip Van Winkle," has taken in hand the illustration of Rudyard Kipling's forthcoming "Puck of Pook's Hill," which the same publishers will bring out in the fall.

A PRETTY MATRON OWES HEALTH TO PE-RU-NA.

MRS. ANNA N. KAISER,

Had Suffered Severely From Pelvic Catarrh—Cannot Praise Peruna Too Highly—Read Her Letter.

MRS. ANNA N. KAISER, Two Rivers, Wis., was a sufferer from pelvic catarrh to such an extent that she could scarcely do her own work. In describing her symptoms, she wrote:

"I have such terrible backaches, and pains below my shoulder blades, way down my back and across my hips, and at times pains in the pelvic organs, so that I am not able to lie down or sleep. I also have pains through my left side and am afraid I may be getting heart trouble."

"I feel much stronger and do not get nervous as I used to. The pain is entirely gone, except when I work a little too hard. The medicine has done me wonderful good. I am taking Peruna and Manalin. My bowels are also in good condition."

Reports Her Cure.

"I must drop you a line to let you know that I am well now and cured with your medicine. I must thank you for the advice you gave me.

"The medicine is something wonderful. I cannot praise it enough for the good it has done for me and I hope many others will be freed from their suffering.

"I have advised others who are suffering as I did to consult you and many are taking my advice. If ever I need medicine again, I know that Peruna will help me."

Revised Formula.

"For a number of years requests have come to me from a multitude of grateful friends, urging that Peruna be given a slight laxative quality. I have been experimenting with a laxative addition for quite a length of time, and now feel gratified to announce to the friends of Pe-ru-na that I have incorporated such a quality in the medicine, which, in my opinion, can only enhance its well-known beneficial character.

SOCIETY

Contributions to this department must bear the name and address of the writer to insure attention.

MISS MADELAINE FRANCES LAUGHLIN, daughter of Mrs. Alexander Laughlin, Jr., whose marriage to the Rev. Maitland Alexander, D. D., will be solemnized at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, April 17, in the First Presbyterian church, by the Rev. Francis Patton, D. D., of Princeton, will be given in marriage by her uncle, B. F. Jones, Jr.

Miss Laughlin has chosen her matron-of-honor in her sister, Mrs. William C. Robinson, while Miss Estella Barbour of Detroit, Mich., will serve as maid-of-honor. The party of bridesmaids will include Mrs. Louis E. Stoddard of New Haven, Conn., Miss Mary Louise Wood of Philadelphia, formerly of Allegheny, and Miss Susan and Miss Janet McCook of New York, nieces of Dr. Alexander and daughters of Col. and Mrs. John J. McCook. Dr. Samuel Alexander of New York will serve as his brother's best man, and the party of ushers will include Dr. Robert Milligan, George Edward Painter, Dallas C. Byers, William C. Robinson, Thomas O'Connor Jones, Vance McCormick, ex-mayor of Harrisburg, and Jarvis Geer and Arthur Choate, both of New York. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. B. F. Jones, in Irwin avenue, Allegheny. At the conclusion of a European wedding trip, for which they will sail the twenty-eighth, Dr. Alexander and his bride will occupy the Oliver house in Lincoln avenue, Allegheny.

Luncheons for April Brides.

Miss Rose Virgina Urban of South Beatty street, who is to be a bridesmaid at the marriage of Miss Lavada Dean to Fred Albert Bixler of Youngstown, O., on next Wednesday, gave a luncheon yesterday afternoon for the prospective bride. Covers were also laid for the other bridesmaids, Miss Florence Bixler and Miss Sarah Robb, and Mrs. George J. Hagan, the matron of honor, together with Miss Clara Haller, Miss Nan Moore and Miss Burnetta Urban.

Miss Pearl Genevieve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. Bentel of Elysian avenue, will give a luncheon next Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Edward Rossiter Reno, who, prior to her marriage last autumn, was Miss Florence Mohn, and Miss Mildred Mary Andrews, the fiance of Arthur Coe Martin. Covers will also be laid for Miss Fannie Grimes, Miss Gloria de Wees of Philadelphia, Miss Eva Brown, Miss Lea Davis, Miss Estelle Brown, Miss Margaret Sands and Miss Annabelle Mohn.

Post-Nuptial Announcement.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Royce Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richards of Crafton, to Harry H. Gahagen of the East End, which took place April 4 in Youngstown, O. Elder F. S. Whitsiar of the Youngstown christian church performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Gahagen are making their home with the bride's parents.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Josie Galway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Galway of Aspinwall, and Walter K. Canteer of Philadelphia, which took place in the Quaker City on Tuesday at the home of the Rev. John Van Heis of North Broad street. They will sail in a few days for a three months' trip abroad.

Shower for April Bride.

Mrs. John T. Morris of Beechwood boulevard, East End, will give a linen shower this afternoon for Miss Alice Scott, the fiance of Dr. Clarke M. George. Among the participants in the shower will be Mrs. George Gisal, Mrs. Karl Miller, Mrs. Charles Finley, Mrs. Francis O. Torrens, Mrs. Rufus Martin, Miss May Armstrong, Mrs. Joseph Doyle, Mrs. George West, Mrs. William Daub, Mrs. John Watkins, Mrs. Joseph Caldwell, Miss Jean Denholm, Mrs. L. B. Duff, Mrs. Mary Aker, Mrs. David Dibert, Mrs. J. E. Morgan, Mrs. A. F. B. Morris, Mrs. William D. Finley and others.

Euchre Announcements.

Cards are out for the annual reception and euchre under the auspices of the women of the Epiphany Roman Catholic parish, to be held at Lyceum hall, Wasnington street, on Tuesday evening, April 24.

Pittsburgh council 117, O. of I. A., will hold the next of its series of euchres on Monday evening next in the council chamber, Moorhead hall, Second avenue and Grant street.

The anniversary reception and euchre of Court No. 9, Knights of Equity, will be held Tuesday evening, April 17, in the South Highland Avenue auditorium, East End.

Personal Mention.

Charles L. Taylor and daughter, Miss Lillian Taylor, of Ellsworth avenue, East End, who have been spending some time in California, are expected home next Tuesday.

Mrs. John A. Wilson and daughter, Miss Ruth Isabel Wilson, of Dennison avenue, left Wednesday for Atlantic City, where they will spend two weeks at the Chalfonte.

Announce Engagements.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Eva Marie Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Ellis of Point View street, to Walter Bonewitz Reid of Lexington avenue, which will be followed by their marriage on Wednesday, May 9. Only the immediate relatives will be present.

Announce Engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Niemann of Stratford avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alice Martha Niemann, to Henry Martin Meixner of Oakland, which will terminate in a June wedding.

To Live Long.

There is no subject that exercises modern folk more than that of longevity. Long life and happiness seem to be the aim of all, and scientists the world over are trying to discover how we may attain this goal. We have lately been assured that we must give up bread at middle life if we would live long. Now we are told that nothing is so likely to keep one alive and healthy as calm religious sentiment, the control of self which it brings in its train and a thoroughly simple outlook on life. Fanatical opinions, vanity, violent emotions and a constant desire to get "all there is in life" tend to shorten our days. Clergymen, it is pointed out, live to be very old on account of their serene and simple lives, whereas millionaires always die young.

We cannot all be clerics, neither can we all be millionaires, but everyone who so desires can be simple in taste and eschew violence of opinion. If you would live long, try this plan.

Society and the Rest Cure.

The "rest cure," like the "simple life," is becoming too gay for most constitutions. It is whispered that before long the eminent specialists who devote their lives and talents to easing the infirmities of society will insist upon hermit-life solitude for jaded relics of the season in town. Instead of sending their patients to elegantly equipped sanitariums, there to flock with a few dozen other members of the leisured class who employ trained attendants to exercise, feed and bathe them, the pampered one is to be dispatched to some little cubby hole in the depth of the forest or mountain top. It will be a return to primitive conditions, man against nature, with the hope that the energy and forethought demanded to procure the necessaries of life will awake in the patient a realization of the not unbearable conditions of his normal life.

The Fashionable Straws.

The new tailored hat is the all-absorbing question with the world feminine today. It is early for the lighter summer chapeaux, but the well dressed woman must have something between that and the felt of the winter season. With so many new and chic models a selection should not be difficult.

An effective model is white French chip with a rose Panama facing. It is fashioned in odd shape, high in the back and tilted quite over the eyes. There is a round derby crown gartered about with tiny roses. On the right are two rose quills and the bandeau has a ruching of rose maline in a lighter shade.

Another tailored hat is in champagne chip. It has a broad, rolling brim and round crown. There is about the crown a soft, loose drapery of liberty silk, and the right side is caught up with two long brown quills held in place by a large brown pearl buckle.

The "Johnny Jones" sailor returns to us this spring improved and beautified. A pretty model in this style is of black chip. Around the crown is a soft band of broad ribbon in jasper gray and white stripes. A rosette bow of the ribbon trims the left side and through this rosette are thrust two immense black quills.

A Paris hat that is meeting with favor in America is the three-decker. This peculiar but fascinating piece of millinery shows three brims in the back and none whatever in the front. Roses in shaded reds and pinks form the garniture of these hats and the ultimate touch is given by black and white paradise aigrettes.

Trims While She Waits.

Madame Sembrich, it is said, trims her hats while she waits, and with natural flowers.

This is not so much due to the fact that the artist enjoys the odor. Like all singers, she has no use for blossoms with a pronounced fragrance. The reason for this fad is that Madame Sembrich does not know what particular color she may want to wear on a black or white hat. She decides this momentous question when she has the hat on, and having a deft touch, selects the flower that best suits her mood, her toilet and her complexion, and adjusts it before her dressing glass.

She has been seen at the opera this year with both white and black hats. In each in turn she has worn mauve orchids, violets, "Beauty" roses, or pink and red carnations.

IN PERIL OF HIS LIFE

BY EMILE GABORIAU

CHAPTER III.

When Denise, after leaving the Countess de Claudieuse, came back to Jacques' parents and friends, she said, radiant with hope, "Now victory is on your side!"

Her grandfather and the Marquis de Boiscoran urged her to explain, but she refused to speak, and only later in the evening did she confess to M. Folgat what she had done, adding that it was more than probable the count would retract his evidence before he died.

"That alone would save Jacques," said the young advocate, and buoyed up by this hope, he prepared for still greater efforts. Overcome as he was by his labors and the emotions of the day, he nevertheless spent the night in Grandpapa Chandore's study, preparing with M. Magloire the application they proposed to make for a new trial. When they finished, it was already broad daylight, and as M. Folgat did not then care to go to bed, he installed himself in a large easy chair for the purpose of getting a few hours' rest. He had, however, not taken more than 40 winks when old Anthony roused him with the news that there was an unknown man down stairs who wished to see him instantly.

M. Folgat rubbed his eyes, and at once went down; in the passage he found himself face to face with a somewhat suspicious looking individual, a man about 50 years of age, who wore a mustache and imperial, and was dressed in a tight coat, and baggy trousers, such as old soldiers affect. "Are you M. Folgat?" asked this man, who, on receiving an affirmative reply, rejoined: "Well, I—I am the agent whom your friend Goudar sent to England." The young lawyer started and asked—"When did you arrive here?"

"Only this morning. I came by express. Twenty-four hours too late now; for I bought a newspaper at the station. M. de Boiscoran has been found guilty. And yet, I swear I did not lose a minute; and I have well earned the gratuity I was promised in case of success."

"You have been successful, have you?"

"Of course. Did I not tell you in my letter from Jersey that I was sure of success?"

"You have found Suky Wood?"

"Yes. Twenty-four hours after I wrote to you, in a public house at Bouly Bay. She would not come, the wretch!"

"You have brought her, however?"

"Of course. She is at the Hotel de France, where I have left her til I could come and see you."

"Does she know anything?"

"Everything."

"Make haste and bring her here."

When M. Folgat first hoped to find this servant girl, he determined to make the most of her evidence, whenever she came to hand. Among other things he had slipped a portrait of the Countess de Claudieuse into one of Denise's albums, where there were some 30 other photographs. He now fetched this album, and had just laid it upon the center table in the drawing room, when the agent came back with his captive.

She was a tall, stout woman, some 45 years old, with hard features, and masculine manners; and dressed, like all common Englishwomen, with great pretensions to fashion. When M. Folgat questioned her, she answered in very fair, intelligent French, which was only marred by a strong English accent. "I stayed four years at the house in the Rue des Vignes, and I should be there still, but for the war. As soon as I entered upon my duties, I became aware that I was put in charge of a home where two lovers had their meetings. I was not exactly pleased, because you know, one has one's own self-respect; but it was a good place. I had very little to do, and so I stopped. However, my master mistrusted me; I saw that very clearly. When a meeting was to take place, he always sent me on some errands to Versailles, to Saint Germain, or even to Orleans. This worried me so much that I determined I would find out what they tried so hard to conceal from me. It was not very difficult; and the very next week I knew that my master was no more Sir Francis Burnett than I was, and that he had borrowed the name from one of his friends."

"How did you contrive to find this out?"

"Oh! very simply. One day, when my master went away on foot, I followed him, and saw him go into a house in the Rue de l'Universite. Across the road some servants were standing and talking. I asked them who that gentleman was; and they told me he was the son of the Marquis de Boiscoran."

"So much for your master; but the lady?"

Suky Wool smiled. "As for the lady," she replied, "I did the same thing to find her out. It cost me, however, a great deal more time and a great deal more patience because she took such great precautions; and I lost more than one afternoon in watching her. But the more she tried to hide, the more curious I was to know, as a matter of course. At last, one evening, when she left the house in her carriage, I took a cab and followed her. I thus traced her home, and the next morning I talked to the servants there, and they told me that she was a lady who lived in the provinces, but who came every year to Paris to spend a month with her parents, and that her name was the Countess de Claudieuse."

And yet Jacques had imagined and strongly maintained that Suky would not know anything; in fact, that she could not know anything; what an error!

"But did you ever see this lady?" asked M. Folgat.

"As well as I see you."

"Would you recognize her?"

"Among thousands."

"And if you saw her portrait?"

"I should know it at once."

M. Folgat handed her the album.

"Well, look for her, then," he said.

She had found the likeness in a moment. There was no doubt any longer.

"But now, Miss Suky," said the young advocate, "you will have to repeat all that before a magistrate."

"I will do so with pleasure. It is the truth."

"If that is so, they will send for you to your lodgings, and you will please stay there till you are called. You need not trouble yourself about anything. You shall have whatever you want, and they will pay you your wages as if you were in service."

M. Folgat had not time to say any more; for Dr. Seignebos rushed in with hurricane violence, and cried out at the top of his voice, "Victory! We are victorious now! Great victory!"

Then as soon as Suky and the agent had left the room, he added, "I am just from the hospital. I have seen Goudar. He has done it. He made Cocoleu talk."

"And what does he say?"

"Well, exactly what I knew he would say, as soon as they could loosen his tongue. But you will hear it all; for it is not enough that Cocoleu should confess to Goudar; there must be witnesses present to certify to his statements."

Mrs. Detweiler Addresses Daughters.

The business session of the regular meeting of the Pittsburgh Daughters of the American Revolution, was much shortened yesterday afternoon to give opportunity for the address by Mrs. Eunice Park Detweiler. The business consisted of consideration of the several amendments to the constitution of the national society, which are for the most part a simplification of some points not perfectly clear. The delegates were uninstructed by the chapter how to vote at the coming fifteenth continental congress, which will open Monday, April 16, continuing throughout that week. The program for the congress has been prepared by a program committee, of which Mrs. Patton, the state regent for Pennsylvania, is chairman. There will be two sessions daily except Saturday. The distinctive social features will be a reception by the president general, Mrs. Donald McLean, in the ballroom of the New Willard, on the evening of April 18, and on Thursday, April 19, the daughters will be received by the president at the White House. The Pittsburgh chapter yesterday decided to give a portrait of Benjamin Franklin to the Newsboys' home, and will send periodicals and papers to the soldiers at the regular army posts. A plea for the Pittsburgh summer playgrounds was made by Miss Beulah Kennard. Mrs. John Colwey speaking in behalf of those in Allegheny.

The address of Mrs. Detweiler dealt with her personal experiences in St. Petersburg, where she spent three years and a half with her daughter and son-in-law. She gave a vivid description of the great Russian city, dwelling particularly upon the amusements and recreations of the summertime. She spoke of the pleasure boats upon the River Neva and on the canals which thread the city, a passenger being able to go any distance for the mere charge of 2½ cents in American money. Mrs. Detweiler described the Russian of all classes as most courteous, while the Russian peasants, she said, are very intelligent, contrary to the prevailing idea of them. While in St. Petersburg Mrs. Detweiler was a member of the Woman's club of that city, whose members included English, French, Polish and Russian women, while she remained the only American woman enrolled. This club is 47 years old, and its object is to improve the condition of women in Russia. It has succeeded in establishing industrial schools, where young girls are taught some kind of work which enables them to be self-supporting. The club meetings are much longer than those of clubs in this country. Mrs. Detweiler gave an amusing description of the occasion when she was invited to present the greetings of American clubwomen to the Woman's club of St. Petersburg. She exhibited yesterday some beautiful specimens of needlework done by the Russian peasant women, and also some of the Russian enamelware which was exquisitely dainty and unique.

Club Conference in Chester.

The annual conference of the women's clubs of the eastern district of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women was held yesterday in Chester. The program included discussions of the question of food adulteration by the state chemist, C. B. Cochran; conditions surrounding "women as wage-earners" in different departments of the world's work, and a conference on club programs. The program provided for an evening session with music and an address by Mrs. Frederick Nathan of New York. Mrs. Nathan is a member of the food investigating committee of the National Consumers' league.

Governor Appoints Miss Eaton.

Gov. Pennypacker has appointed Miss Sara Ormsby Eaton of Reseca place, Allegheny, a delegate from Pennsylvania to the national conference of charities and corrections, which will be held in Philadelphia May 9 to 16. This will be the thirty-third annual session of the national conference, which is attended by representatives from all states of the Union. Alexander Johnson of New York is the general secretary. Miss Eaton, who received her appointment from the governor yesterday, is a member of the women's auxiliary of the state board of public charities, a director in the local Juvenile Court association, a member of the advisory board of the Boys' industrial home in Oakmont and interested in many other state and local forms of philanthropy. She was the only woman from Western Pennsylvania called to Harrisburg to meet with Mrs. Frederic Schoff of Philadelphia and other women from the eastern end of the state to urge upon the legislature the enactment of the present juvenile court act after the first juvenile court law was declared unconstitutional. Miss Eaton declares that the work of convincing the legislators was the hardest she has ever undertaken.

Honor Guest Not Present.

Mrs. Henry J. Ford, who was to have been the honor guest of the Woman's Southern club yesterday, was unable to come from Baltimore, where she is now making her home. Her sister, Mrs. C. A. Redick, took her place as the leader and conducted the program. This included original readings and music. Mrs. Agnes Grass of Sewickley read a number of her own poems and prose writings, some of them dealing with landmarks in Western Pennsylvania, particularly the old inns, and Miss Wilson gave a couple of violin solos, accompanied by Miss Connor. Mrs. William Macrum, a member of the Pittsburgh Playgrounds association, was invited to speak before the society on the summer playground and vacation school work. This is the first season the Woman's Southern society has taken up any work of this kind.

Committee for Church Home Fair.

The president of the board of managers of the Episcopal Church home, Mrs. Frank S. Bissell, announces the following committees in charge of the annual fair at the home on Thursday, May 3:

Trinity church—Supper table, Miss M. P. Bakewell, Mrs. Orlando Metcalf; fancy table, Mrs. O. O. Phillips and Mrs. S. McCandless; tea table, Mrs. A. E. W. Painter.

Calvary—Supper table, Mrs. D. G. Stewart, Mrs. A. J. Wurtz; country fair, chairman not appointed.

St. Peter's—Fancy table, Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., Mrs. Robert T. Reineman; fancy table, Mrs. William H. House.

St. Andrew's—Mrs. F. S. Bissell and Miss Mary L. Jackson; amusements, Mrs. William R. Varker.

Notes of the Clubs.

Dr. H. M. Hall, Jr., and Miss Caroline Hall gave a reception last evening in honor of Miss Marie Shadlock of London, England, who lectured on "The Humor and Pathos of Hans Christian Andersen."

City..... State.....

THE GAZETTE PATTERN.

No. 6510. Ladies' Circular Short Petticoat.

Nainsook trimmed with embroidered flouncing is shown in this design for an underskirt. The smooth adjustment over the hips renders it especially desirable for wear with the close fitting skirts, now so fashionable. The pattern provides for habit style, or inverted box-pleat in the back, or plain gathers if desired. The use of the yoke is optional, as the skirt is fitted by darts. Cambric, linon, wash silk and flannel are all used in making garments of this kind. The medium size will require 4⅞ yards of 36-inch material.

Arbor Day Is Not Observed.

Although in past years spring Arbor day has been usually observed by the school children of Allegheny and Pittsburgh, nothing was done yesterday because the youngsters are enjoying the "moving day" vacation. Superintendent William Hamilton of the Allegheny parks has been so busy getting things in readiness for the Easter exhibit at the park conservatory that the date escaped him. In his proclamation Gov. Pennypacker named April 20 as an alternative day for the observance.

Glenn Removes Sergeant Lynch.

Supt. John Glenn yesterday dismissed Michael Lynch, sergeant at Central police station, and appointed S. J. Harper in his place. Harper is a resident of the Fifteenth ward, a formed alderman, and until a few days ago was messenger in the mayor's office. Superintendent of Public Works John Swan yesterday reappointed Charles S. Brown superintendent of the bureau of public improvements.

CHILD DANCES WITHIN INCH OF SUDDEN DEATH

Theatrical people are general victims of the Friday superstition, and child stars are no exception. Dainty six-year-old Marilynn, a petite danseuse who is a member of the family known on the stage as the Five Columbians, appearing at the Grand opera house this week, is no exception to this rule.

She was nervous yesterday afternoon when she walked upon the stage to give her performance and cast several anxious glances at the flies. Three minutes later her anxiety was justified. One of the shot bags used to counterbalance the weight of the scenery and weighing 200 pounds, fell from the gridiron, 60 feet above the stage. It passed within an inch of the child's head and grazed her arm as it fell with what was really a dull thud.

Friday is not such an unlucky day, after all, thinks Marilynn, for she had escaped death by an inch. While her nerves were shaken, the child went through with her dance as gracefully as ever.

Continue Election of Officers.

The Susan B. Anthony Memorial club last evening held its first meeting since organization. Twenty-five men and women met in the home of the president, Mrs. J. Ludwig Koethen, Jr., Stanton avenue, and continued choosing officers by electing Miss Sara Sweeney second vice president, and Mrs. H. L. Butler corresponding secretary. The club adopted a constitution and decided to hold its meetings on the first Monday afternoon of each month at 8 o'clock in the East End branch of the Carnegie library, Station street and Larimer avenue. It will also hold quarterly social meetings.

BULLFROG DISTRICT TO BE BIG MILL CENTER.

Orders Have Been Placed for Five Reduction Plants.

Advices from Salt Lake say that it is positively known that orders have been placed for material for building no fewer than five mills with which to reduce the gold-bearing ores of the Bullfrog region, toward which the rails of San Pedro are advancing at a rate of more than a mile daily. Charles O. Wittemore of counsel for the railway company, in an interview there, says that this is by no means all the ingoing traffic of which the railway has positive assurance. On the contrary, it is known to the management that all of the more prominent companies have either placed orders for, or have decided on mine equipment included, in which are hoists and compressors, with which to supply the power machine drills, and for heavy tonnage of building material.

"We have it the Montgomery, Shoshone or Schwab properties are to be provided with a mill," added Mr. Wittemore, "while there will be one on the Gladiator, which has developed into one of the most productive in the region, with another to go up on the Peerless property. In addition to these are the plants with which the Tramps and the Four Aces are to be equipped, so that in less than a year it will be one of the greatest mill countries in the western country. In addition to the products from these plants, is the first-class ore that will come direct to the furnaces of the Salt Lake valley, and there is nothing to indicate other than that the region is to be one of the most productive the country has ever known. The management of the San Pedro ascertained what there was to be hauled and the volume of traffic on which it could depend, before a tie for the division was ordered or a rail spiked; a fact that cannot but add to the prestige of the camps."

COMMON PLEAS COURT CLERK IN THE TOILS

Is Said to Have Been Connected With "Store Thieves League." More Goods Recovered.

Harry Lane, clerk in common pleas court No. 3, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Cole and Eagan on a charge of receiving stolen goods from the members of the "Store Thieves' league." Lane gave $2,000 bail for a hearing next Wednesday. Detective Eagan says that Lane received about $50 worth of stolen articles from Edward Mallen, a former clerk in the downtown department store in which the "league" operated.

Lane, the officers say, received underwear and other wearing apparel from Mallen and another member of the "league" who has not been arrested. The detectives expect to catch this man within a few days. During their investigation the detectives say they have discovered over 40 persons who received stolen goods from the "league." Lane denied the charge and said he never received anything from Mallen or any other person connected with the gang. Mallen, who is now in jail, says he gave Lane the goods for a small sum of money.

Yesterday a large bundle of articles stolen by the gang was left at the safety building. There was no name on the bundle and it was dropped in the corridor early in the morning. It contained about $50 worth of underwear and silk hose. The detectives have learned that a large amount of goods stolen by the 11 members of the gang were burned and otherwise destroyed. This was done after the arrest of Mallen, Brown and Strain.

Settlement Girls' Sewing Exhibit.

A pleasing exhibition of sewing done by the girls in the Saturday afternoon class in the Soho Baths Settlement House was opened yesterday. The exhibition, which will be continued this and Monday afternoon, was conducted in the assembly rooms in the settlement house, and was well attended. The specimen work of the children was arranged on tables about the front room, other tables containing a variety of fancy articles contributed by friends of Mrs. James C. Dick, who is in charge of the sewing class, and her assistants. These were for sale, the proceeds to be used in providing supplies for this department of the settlement work. A great jar of yellow jonquils was placed on the center table, and upon the side tables were pots of hyacinths. In the rear room tea was served, the prettily arranged tea tables being decorated with ferns and pink geraniums. Assisting Mrs. Dick were Mrs. J. D. Arnold, Miss Campbell and Miss Longenecker.

Adopts New By-Laws.

A special meeting of the Wimodausis club was held yesterday afternoon, when the proposed by-laws were finally adopted. The most important changes brought about by the new by-laws is in the time of the annual elections, which will hereafter occur in April, instead of May. At the regular meeting of the club, next Tuesday afternoon, nominations will be made from the floor and the election conducted.

Woman's Building Is Proposed.

A meeting of the presidents of the different women's clubs and affiliated organizations will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Twentieth Century club house. The women will take up the consideration of a woman's building in Pittsburgh to be the home of the different clubs and societies. Plans will be considered and the presidents will then report to their clubs.

Annual Meeting and Reception.

The board of managers of the Woods Run Industrial home has sent out a large number of invitations to its annual meeting and reception to be given in the home in Perrot street, Allegheny, Tuesday evening, April 10, at 8 o'clock. During Tuesday afternoon the tea will be served and the house will be open for inspection.

Hand-tailoring touches impart to the shoulders, lapels, waist-lines, button-holes and collars the perfection of finish which characterizes all the Kaufmann clothing.

WE'RE IN A CLASS BY OURSELVES AS HIGH-GRADE CLOTHIERS

Only about half a dozen makers of men's clothes in America buy imported cloths from such European sources of exclusive novelties, employ such talented cutters and such expert tailors, and keep themselves in such close touch with the very fountain heads of new and correct styles—and cover all the factory operations with such a rigid system of inspection that the garments they produce can truthfully be called "equal to the finest custom-made." And we sell their products—most of them exclusively.

It works perfectly both ways. The finest dressers come to us with confidence because they know we have what they want, and the best tailoring houses seek our orders because we can use so many of their goods.

In the Suits and Overgarments at $20 and upward we are showing the finest display of Twilight and Confederate grays—in the herringbone and other novelty effects that are in such high favor. Prices range from $20 to $35 in this section.

NASHVILLE FAILS TO SCORE A RUN

GANLEY FLIRTS IN RIGHT FIELD

NASHVILLE, TENN., April 6.—(Special.)—The Pirates today stacked up against the aggregation of ball tossers with which Mickey Finn, late of Youngstown and Toledo, will try to capture the pennant in the Southern league this season, and it proved the easiest kind of a proposition for the major leaguers. Finn professes to be confident, but he is simply whistling to keep up courage, as his players must show something they concealed today if they have a look-in in the race for the flag.

Rube Geyer, an Allegheny boy, is on Finn's twisting staff, and from the fact that several Pennsylvania outlaw clubs want his services, Finn has concluded that Geyer is good enough for him. He was somewhat disappointed in not securing Karger. He alleges that he had an understanding with President Dreyfuse that when the Pirates reached Nashville on the barnstorming tour, Karger would be dropped and would play for the local club, but Karger has shown such marked ability that he will be carried on, and if his good work continues he will have a permanent berth with the Pittsburgh club.

Karger was on the rubber for the first five innings of the game today, and Catcher Gibson declares that he had everything. The Nashville sluggers got but three scratch hits off him, and were scared on account of ugly bounds just as they were about to reach the hands of infielders.

Homer Hillebrand allowed but one hit, a three-bagger that might have been an out on any other grounds.

Nashville sent three runners as far as the third station, but were unable to get one across the plate, and nine ciphers represent the result of their efforts in that line.

Their third baseman was ill and Capt. Clarke consented to permit Meier to cover that sack for Nashville. This resulted in a lot of good natured badgering in which Meier was facetiously accused of not trying to win for his teammates.

The game was played on Peabody field, the campus of the Nashville normal college. The accommodations for spectators were poor, but the crowd was large under the circumstances. A canvas enclosed one side of the field and on the other was a stone college building out of the windows of which the fair sex watched the struggle and chatted constantly with Ganley. Clarke found it necessary to request the player to pay more attention to the game and less to the girls.

The deep outfield was down over an embankment and a ground rule was agreed upon allowing but two sacks on a drive over the hill. But for that rule the Pirate score would have been larger. The Peabody field was ruled on account of p freshet in the Cumberland river causing that usually well behaved stream to overflow its banks and inundate the regular park. The water had receded today, but the diamond was covered with a veneer of mud which made playing impossible. Manager Finn stated tonight that Saturday's game will probably be played on the regular grounds and he anticipates a big crowd.

The Pirates found both the Nashville twirlers easy propositions. Ely had speed, but poor control, while Dunham had little or no steam but one or two curves. He sent the ball over the plate as big as a balloon, but after Ely's steam's slow ones were deceptive for one or two innings.

There was no sensational fielding, but the Pirate's play was snappy and full of ginger, while that of the opposing players was loose and bleckheaded. Score:

P. O. M. LEAGUE NOW READY FOR THE BELL

Uniontown is again a member in good standing in the Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland league. The $500 forfeit money has been received by the president of the league and Uniontown is now seeking a strong team. The readmittance of Uniontown is pleasing to all the clubs. Tom Hammond, who brought about a consolidation of the Fairmont and Clarksburg teams, is held in high esteem by the league, but it was deemed advisable to take back Uniontown in preference to admitting the West Virginians, who are considerably out of the way, which meant considerable more traveling expenses.

The present management of the Uniontown club has accepted the dates assigned the former management. The schedule will be announced Monday of next week.

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., April 6.—(Special.)—Frank Dessau, the local pitcher, will leave Monday for Harrisburg to play with the Tri-State league team. He will get $400 a month. Dessau is under reserve to the Birmingham club of the Southern league, but because he could not come to terms with that club he decided not to return this season. Harrisburg made an offer in the meantime.

NEW CASTLE, PA., April 6.—(Special.)—Dick Carroll, a promising twirler from Cleveland, was today signed by Manager Percy Stetler of the New Castle team. The players will report the first of next week for three weeks' preliminary practice.

There is a letter at this office for Red Calhoun.

Owls Win from Schaefers.

The Owls defeated the Schaefers last night on the Owl tables in an interesting game by the score of 100 to 75. The Owls took the lead in the first frame and held it throughout the game. The feature was the shooting of Davis for the Owls and Engel for Schaefers. Scores:

Owls—		Schaefers—
Davis	51	Eichenlaub	14
S. Byrnes	26	Engel	8
J. Byrnes	28	Schaefer	41
Total	102	Total	88

Scratches—Owls 2, Schaefers 11. The Owls would like to arrange dates with all strong teams for any Monday, Tuesday or Thursday evening. Address A. Lamore, 5006 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Phil Knell, the ex-Pirate pitcher, is now an umpire in the Pacific Coast league.

Frank Smith, the Herron Hill lad, has come to terms with the Chicago American league club, and left for Louisville last night to join the team there.

Pat Flaherty, who has been training with the Pirates, will report to the Columbus club today.

The New York Giants will today play their first game at home. They will meet the Yale varsity team.

Falkenberg and Lindaman, both of whom were on the Pittsburg payroll, faced each other at Washington yesterday. Falkenberg pitched for the Washington Americans, and Lindaman for the Boston Nationals. Washington won 7 to 6.

The two St. Louis teams have now played four games, the Browns winning three. The scores were 1 to 0, 13 to 6, 5 to 0 and 2 to 3.

Three batters were hit in the Pittsburgh-Nashville game yesterday, and seven were given bases on balls.

D. M., Jr., Pittsburgh—On April 30, 1906, the Pittsburghs beat the Cardinals at St. Louis by a score of 16 to 4. Leever and Taylor were the pitchers.

TWIN CITY BOWLING LEAGUE

Spirited Matches Played by This Lively Body of High Rollers.

Encouraged by the presence of a large bevy of the fair sex on the Federal alleys, the different teams of the Twin City league showed up at their best. Two 900 scores were made by the Bulls and Bears, 873, and by the Foxters, 905. Numerous 800 scores were made. McPherson of the Prudentials rolled 217; Bruce of the B. and B.'s, 213; Andrews of the Black Diamonds, 208; Nesbit of the B. and B.'s, 201, and Gillespie of the Foxters, 200. The contests were greatly enjoyed by all, especially by the ladies, who took fully as much interest in the matches as did the players. Scores:

Joe Walcott Against Joe Gans.

BOSTON, April 6.—Sam A. Pierce, on behalf of Joe Wolcott, telegraphed to Morris Levy of San Francisco today, accepting a match with Joe Gans for the welterweight championship of the world. April 27 is the date set for the bout.

HANS WAGNER AT THE BAT

A splendid full-page drawing in color of Hans Wagner at the Bat will be published tomorrow in The Sunday Gazette. The drawing is by E. N. Clark and will undoubtedly be considered worth framing by many lovers of the national game.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL NEWS

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(Special.)—Georgetown was decidedly lucky to win the game here today from the University of Pennsylvania as Penn earned three of her runs while Georgetown only earned a single tally. Layton outpitched Cantwell, the Georgetown star, and deserved to win. The score:

The W. U. P. Athletic association, under the new plan of athletic control, effected a permanent organization last night by the election of John C. Fetterman as president and William C. Arthur as secretary. The selection of a football coach for next year was discussed. The committee having the selection in charge will report soon.

In concurrence with the recent recommendation of the Yale faculty that "graft" of all kinds be eliminated from athletics, several professors have sent back with thanks complimentary tickets for the games of the university baseball nine. If plans now being formulated are adopted each athlete taken to the training table will be required to pay at least five dollars a week, and more if he is accustomed to pay more at his regular boarding place.

Stone school will row against the Cascadilla eight on the day of the Cornell-Harvard boat race on the Charles river, May 26, if the plans that are being formed at present come about. Cascadilla is one of the best-known rowing schools in New York, and is regarded as the preparatory rowing school for Cornell.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., April 5.—St. John's defeated the University of West Virginia at baseball here yesterday afternoon, 3 to 2, all of its runs being made by a fine rally in the ninth inning. The score:

LONDON, April 6.—On the eve of the annual boat race between Oxford and Cambridge universities ideal weather and an interesting contest are promised. A fortnight ago the odds were in favor of Oxford, but since then have been practicing on the Thames the Cambridge oarsmen have improved so rapidly that the betting is now slightly in their favor. The Oxford men have the advantage in physique and weight, while the Cambridge crew has a better style and more dash, and if they are able to stay the course are almost sure to win. Oxford's strength, however, may still tell. The Oxonians brought a new boat to London, but a week ago decided to revert to last year's boat and do not seem to have been happy in their practice. In any event a fine race is expected.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., April 6.—(Special.)—The first and second crews of Georgetown university arrived in Annapolis today and will open the intercollegiate rowing season here with the middlepines tomorrow, if weather permits. The wind has been blowing today at a rate which will make the race impossible if it continues, but it is hoped that it will moderate. This is the earliest that the rowing season has ever begun here.

A Charming Child Story.

"The Other Little Girl" is the title of a beautiful child story by Louise Forsslund in tomorrow's Sunday Gazette, which will be read with pleasure by every child and every lover of children.

BOWLING MATCH FOR $100 A SIDE

Unity and Pittsburgh Teams Agree to Meet in a Series of Games in May.

RESULTS OF LOCAL CONTESTS

Austin Smith, representing the Unity team, which finished second in the Allegheny County league race, and John Hartman, captain of the Pittsburgh team which defeated East Liverpool some weeks ago, met yesterday on the Fifth avenue alleys and agreed to roll a series of six games for $100 a side. The games are to be rolled in the first week of May, three on the Federal alleys and three on the New Brunswick alleys, total pins to count. The first deposit of $25 will be placed in the hands of George Metzger next week and the balance on the day of the first match, which will probably be May 1.

Each representative submitted a list of players and both agreed that no bowler outside of these on the lists will be eligible. The lists are:

Pittsburgh—John Hartman, captain; Harry Votel, Danny Houlahan, Louis Schmacher, Joe Trucks, Billy Schad and Andy Kramer.

It will be seen that some of the best bowlers in the county are on the lists, and therefore the games should prove extremely interesting.

Two teams from the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, the tellers and the bookkeeper, rolled two games yesterday. Each won one, but the bookkeepers won on total pins, 1,148 to 1,070. There was great rivalry between the two teams, especially between Tawney and Owens. The teams will play a return match some time next week when the tellers will try to beat even. Owens had been practicing for two weeks. Tawney declares he will steal a march next time. Scores:

At the meeting held last evening on the Sirlin alleys by the Five-man Duckpin league, A. Geiselhart was elected president and Boss Servatius was elected secretary and treasurer. A meeting will be held Monday to arrange the schedule. Four teams are entered so far.

MAKES MANY CHANGES.

High School Text Book Committee Decides on Number of Substitutions.

At a meeting of the text book and course of instruction committee of the central board of education last night the following changes in books were decided upon:

Rose primers substituted for "Our Little Book for Little People;" progressive series of readers adopted in place of Baldwin's reader; Prang's Text Book of Art in conjunction with Prang's Course in Art Instruction; Somerville's Elements of Algebra to supplant Milne's; West's English Grammar to replace Patterson's English Grammar and Rhetoric; Ashley's American Federal State instead of McCleery's Studies in Civics; Butcher and Lang's Odyssey adopted as additional text books.

FEDERAL POOL TEAM WINS SECOND PLACE

Defeats the Demmels in a Hot Game—Olympia Still in First Position.

The thirty-sixth round of the Allegheny County Pool league was played last night and the surprise of the evening was the defeat of the Demmel team by the Federals by the close score of 100 to 94. This was one of the most hotly-contested games of the season, as these two teams have been tied for second place for the last month. McCabe of Federal had high score for his team, with 40 balls, and was ably supported by his team mates, Port and Closs. The Demmel boys as a whole played a steady game, but were unfortunate at critical stages.

The game between Vorwerck and Garfield was won by Vorwerck by the close score of 105 to 94. The playing of Vorwerck and Hays of Vorwerck, with 43 and 40 balls, was the cause of the downfall of the Garfields. Yahrling and McCall of Garfield also played a steady game, with 41 and 37, respectively.

The game between Olympia and Friendship was won by Olympia by the one-sided score of 109 to 46. Paul of Olympia, with 53 balls, was the star player.

The game between Arlington and Glenwood was won by Arlington by the score of 109 to 48. Round and Miller of Arlington played a steady game, with 43 and 40 balls, respectively.

The Crescent team was defeated by Union on the Crescent tables by the one-sided score of 109 to 51. The playing of Seawald of Union, with 54 balls, was the feature.

The Swissvale and Primrose game has not been heard from. Scores:

RACING NEWS & DOG SHOW AWARDS

DOG SHOW FILLS DUQUESNE GARDEN

Largest Crowd Ever Gathered at This Show Place There on the Third Day.

THIS WILL BE THE BIGGEST DAY

The third day of the great bench show at Duquesne garden leaped all bounds in the way of attendance. The biggest throng ever seen in the garden filled the great show place with a solid mass of humanity from wall to wall. A. S. Hockwalt of Dayton, O., who goes to all the big shows, said:

"I have never seen anything like it outside of Madison Square garden."

Today the garden will be taxed even more for capacity with the crowds intent on getting a last look at the great dogs benched this year.

The show will be at its best today, as all the winners will be placarded and beribboned on their benches and a discriminating view of the show can be obtained by simply passing down the aisles.

From a judging point of view, this is really the important day, as all the big winners and top-notchers will be sent into the ring in a last competition. At 2 o'clock this afternoon George S. Thomas will have before him all the aspirants in the open competition for the great array of special prizes. All the contests for the special prizes so far have been under restrictions and conditions, such as membership in a special club. This afternoon there will be a free-for-all scramble for the cups. This judging will attract to the ringside the biggest crowds of any day of the show.

For the children a treat is in store in the performing dogs. This entertainment is scheduled for 11 o'clock in the morning, 4 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock at night.

Society Out in Force.

Social Pittsburgh made much of the show again yesterday. The left-over Irish terrier classes, Welsh terriers, black and tan terriers, whippets and miscellaneous classes were before the judges and the Boston terrier special prizes were awarded.

The greatest attraction at the show are the Chow Chows of Mrs. A. O. Van Heusen of New York. They are the best benched. Mrs. Van Heusen is also celebrated in the horse show ring. Her recent importation, secured at a fabulous sum, Red Craze, is perhaps the best Chow in America. These fascinating representatives of the orient interested and held the crowds long in admiration.

Mrs. Senn won open and winners' classes for Italian greyhounds with Wright's Dolly Grey, J. O. Dutton's Seminole finishing second to her in the open and was reserve winners to her. Anton Heindl of Pittsburgh won in the novice class for his breed with Tge Dee.

J. C. Dutton was first in the limit class with Seminole, F. H. Heyl of Sharon getting second with Blue Bell.

In the miscellaneous classes Mrs. B. F. Lewis won with her deerhound, Lansdowne Lucania, and Mrs. F. Fessenden Dole got the red with Edgewood Science, a Schipperke.

In the black and tan terrior class other than toys Mrs. Alf Delmont won with Bellerophon Beauty; Mrs. R. P. Dailey was second with Gladys, and Mrs. F. Fessenden Dole was third with Edgewood Autocrat. W. W. McLaughlin won with Daisy Bell in the open class and his Pansy Blossom was second.

Winner from Philadelphia.

Dr. F. C. Benson of Philadelphia had the best Welsh terrier in the show in Leeds Palm, which with Bala Barley won everything.

G. Wash Moore won everything in the Gordon setter classes with Lady Gordon.

Mr. Mortimer awarded the Boston terrier specials yesterday. Miss M. L. Painter scored again with Oom Paul, capturing the silver medal for the best Boston owned by a lady resident of Allegheny county. Thomas Kelly won a silver cup for the best puppy with Boyston Tech, Jr. He also won a silver cup for best novice with Bonnie S. John N. Insley of Jeannette won a silver cup for the best limit dog or bitch with Beulah. Thomas Kelly won a silver cup for the best open dog or bitch with McAlvin's Nance. Mr. Kelly also annexed the medal for the best team of four. The medal for the best dog or bitch of this breed also went to Mr. Kelly, who won it with McAlvin's Nance.

Cocker Spaniel Winners.

Of the dogs earlier judged the cocker spaniels were a most interesting lot. Clark Hulings of Franklin had the best black spaniel dog in Lance Farewell. Charles E. Long of Pittsburgh was right behind him with Old Black Joe, a winner in the novice class and reserve winners. O. B. Hark had the best spaniel dog of any other color than black in Lucky. J. B. Scheffer got reserve winners to him with Blue Mountain Romany.

Of the bitches of this breed, Mrs. E. E. French had the best of the blacks in Champion Dainty Dot, her Andover Folderol being reserve Winners to her. F. G. McIntosh of Franklin had the best bitch, any other color than black, in Eclipse Princess. His Eclipse Wiggle was reserve winners to her.

Mrs. Elizabeth Howe Sproul won at the first asking with Phantom in the puppy class. W. F. Patterson did well with Colcen Bawn, which walked away with the blue ribbon in the puppy and novice classes. His Witch Hazel won in the limit class and his champion Lansdowne Ada H. was third in the open class for bitches.

STORMY MEETING OF SCHENLEY MATINEE CLUB

Dissension Arose Over Movement to Change Matinee Race Day.

The Schenley Matinee club held a very stormy meeting last night at the Oakland board of trade rooms. The room was packed and a heated session was held, which lasted till late, personal encounters being narrowly escaped.

The contention was over a framed-up movement to change the day of the week for holding matinees on the Schenley ovals from Wednesday to Saturday. Those who sprung the thing opposed all discussion and maneuvered for a snap vote.

Those who favored the change prevailed and by a vote of 65 to 60 succeeded in carrying the motion to change the matinee day to Saturday.

The earlier members of the club, especially those residing in the East End and about Wilkinsburg, are so much opposed to the change that their withdrawal from the club is probable. The club is racked with dissension.

A letter was read from Director of Public Works James W. Clark, in which he stated that the club could not have the track for racing purposes on Saturday, as that day will be kept for other sports, such as bicycling.

Officers were elected, and they are as follows: President, O. H. Allerton; first vice president, A. W. Baum; second vice president, W. H. Wood, and secretary and treasurer, W. H. Baddeley.

Presbytery Favors a Church Union.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., April 6.—The Knoxville presbytery of the Southern Presbyterian church, in session here today, adopted a resolution favoring church union.

George Ade and Mark Twain.

Never since Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad" has there been anything quite so funny as George Ade's "In Pastures New," an installment of which will appear tomorrow in The Sunday Gazette. Seeing Europe through the eyes of so refreshing a humorist is a treat no one should miss.

In the Oil Fields

Light wells are still the rule in the lower southwest fields. There are a very few districts that are capable of furnishing anything better than small pumpers. Near Bula, Monongalia county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its second test on the Simon Eddy farm into the Gordon and has a show for a 50-barrel producer. This is the best producer in that development. In the Campbells Run district, in the same county, the South Penn has drilled its second test on the Robert Wear farm two feet into the top of the Gordon and has developed no oil or gas. In the same district the same company has drilled No. 5 on the N. Toothman farm five feet into the Gordon and has developed no oil or gas. In the Wallace district, Harrison county, the same company has drilled its test on the W. S. Harbert farm 25 feet into the stray and has developed no oil or gas. In the Beall's Mills district, Lewis county, the South Penn has drilled its test on the R. B. Shouldis farm to the top of the Gordon and has shut down to move back the boiler.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the Eastern Oil Company has drilled its test on the Don A. Ferrell farm through the Berea grit and has a show for a 20 or 30-barrel producer. This is 300 feet north of the South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 on the E. A. Silcott farm.

The Berea grit development on the Ohio side, near Woodsfield, Monroe county, is presenting more very good producers. The Central Gas Company and the Fisher Oil Company have completed their No. 14 on the Frank Schumaker farm and have a 50-barrel producer in the Berea grit. In the same district, the Pure Oil Company has drilled in its No. 6 on the Henry Schumaker farm and has a show for a 30-barrel producer. In the Lewisville district, in the same county, W. G. Decker's No. 1 on the Elisabeth Fisher farm is holding up at 70 barrels a day. In the Wolf creek district, Washington county, Hayes & Spalding have completed a second test on the William Roney farm, located near Vincent, and have a show for a five-barrel pumper. In the Macksburg field, Noble county, George Hess & Sons have completed a second test on the George Brown farm and have a duster in the 800-foot sand. At Chester Hill, Morgan county, T. J. Bailey has completed No. 6 on the Samuel Milper farm and will have a five-barrel pumper in the shallow sand. There is very little new work starting in the Chester Hill district at this time.

Some test wells are starting in Monroe county, in the old Trail run and the Lewisville districts, and on Island creek, Jefferson county. In the Mineveh district, Greene county, Va., the South Penn has drilled No. 6 on the James McVey farm into the fourth sand and has developed a gasser.

A GOOD DAY FOR FAVORITES

GOOD EVENTS ALL AROUND

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Some of the prettiest racing of the meeting marked the eleventh day of the Washington Jockey club's spring meet. Every event was hotly contested, and two of the finishes were sensational. Three favorites won, while a second choice and two outsiders took the other three events. Notwithstanding the rain of last night, the track was fast. The weather was fine. The greater part of the afternoon the sky was overcast but the temperature was moderate, notwithstanding a stiff northeast breeze. The attendance was nearly the best of the meeting, hundreds of women being among the spectators.

In the handicap, which opened the card of the day, Pater was made an odds on favorites. He led all the way, winning as he pleased. Race King ran into the place handily, with Peter Paul third. An ordinary lot of maidens were offered for the second. Among the eleven starters, Orphan Lad was made the favorite, with Jai Alai practically on even terms with him. Orphan Lad finished first, with Jail Alla second and Algera third.

Judge White was made the favorite of the third event, apparently on account of his jockey, Miller. Suffice was played strongly, but did not figure in the result. Judge White won easily from Grand Duchess, with Society Bud third. Miggs was strenuously touted to win the fourth and was made the favorite on the tip, but he did not figure in the money. Arietta jumped out in front at the raising of the barrier and never was in danger after ward. Donna got the place, with Welbourne third.

In the fifth a heavy play went on Mettle, which was backed down from 7 to 1 to 5 to 1 at the close. Zany was the favorite at all times, but the horse could not even get the place, which is all thus far he has been able to negotiate in any of its start. Hannover Hornpipe ran second, with Zany third. The finish was sensational, Mettle beating Hanover Hornpipe by more than a head.

In the sixth Bellsnicker was the 1 to 2 favorite and with a good ride out to have won. He was nosed out in the last half dozen yards by Jack McKeon, both horses being ridden out. T. S. Martin easily took third money. Summaries:

First race, handicap for 2-year-olds and upward, 6½ furlongs, Columbia course—Pater, 108 (Miller), 6 to 10 and out, won; Race King, 113 (L. Smith), 6to 1 and 7 to 10, second; Peter Paul, 95 (Romanelli), 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:23. Valiant and Veronse ran.

Second race, for maiden 2-year-olds, 4½ furlongs, old course—Orphan Lad, 105 (Miller), 3 to 1 and even, won; Jai Alai, 108 (Diggins), 8 to 1 and 3 to 5, second; Algera, 105 (C. Morris), 15 to 1, third. Time, :57. Average, Tilting, Encore, King Brush, Blondy, Velocity, Woodline and Moccasin ran.

Third race, selling, for 3-year-olds and upwards, 6½ furlongs, Columbia course—Judge White, 92 (Miller), 11 to 5 and 4 to 5, won; Grand Duchess, 107 (Treubel), 3 to 1 and 7 to 5, second; Society bud, 90 (L. Smith), 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:24 2-5. Plantagenet, Loricale, Sacrecrow, Blue Grouse, Sir Brinkley, Echo Dale, Suffice and Henry Waring ran.

Fourth race, for maidens, 3-year-olds and upwards, 5 furlongs, Columbia course—Arietta, 102, (Romanelli), 3½ to 1 and 8 to 5, won; Donna, 89 (Powers), 25 to 1 and 8 to 1, second; Welbourne, 91 (Frieshon), 20 to 1, third. Time, 1:03. Ligero, Bedella, High Brush, Stalactical, Adonis, Riggs, Orientamme, Azure and Lady Georgia ran.

Fifth race, selling, for 4-year-olds and upward, 6½ furlongs, Columbia course—Mettle, 105, J. Jones, 5 to 1 and 6 to 5 won; Hanover Hornpipe, 102 (Diggins), 11 to ' and 3 to 5, second; Zany, 110 (Robbins, 4 to 5 and out, third. Time, 1:24 3-5. Tomcod, Fire Escape, Quiet Tip and Easter Walters ran.

Sixth race, selling, for 3-year-olds and upward, 1 mile and 40 yards, Columbia course—Jack McKeon 106 (Robbins), 8 to 1 and 6 to 5, won; Bellsnicker, 94 (C. Morris), 1 to 2 and out, second; T. S. Martin, 88 (Miller), 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:46. First, Widows Mite and Nonsense ran.

FINDS LONG-LOST DAUGHTER.

After 13 Years' Separation, Whole Family is Again United.

After 13 years Mrs. Mary Shepherd, now Mrs. Beitler of Wharton and Seventeenth streets, has found her long-lost daughter. In 1893 she became a widow and her children were taken by other people to rear. One of the children, Sadie Belle, was taken by a family near Freeport. All the children have been found in the meantime except this one daughter.

Through the press Mrs. Beitler heard that her daughter lived on a farm owned by Hamilton Bower near Freeport. Accompanied by her son, she went to the place yesterday and now she again has all her children together after a separation of many years.

Appeal for Memorial Funds.

An appeal has been issued to the congregation of Trinity Lutheran church, Stockton avenue, Allegheny, by a committee appointed to raise funds for a memorial to the Rev. Dr. John G. Goettman, who died last November, for contributions. Dr. Goettman was pastor of the church for 25 years, and pastor emeritus for seven years. It is hoped to have all contributions in by Easter Sunday.

STOCK MARKET RALLIED DESPITE HIGH MONEY

Call Loan Rates Again Touched 30 Per Cent and Closed at 6—Pennsylvania Led the Advance. Fire Proofing Preferred Higher.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The money market again dominated attention in Wall street yesterday. The call loan rate opened at 20 per cent and an immense amount of money was loaned between that figure and 30 per cent, which was the highest for the day. The bulk of the money came through large private banking houses and conveyed the impression that foreigners were taking advantage of the opportunity to loan money in this market. Late in the afternoon rates declined, and finally closed at 6 per cent, small amounts being placed at that figure by a prominent national bank. The ruling rate, however, for renewals which run over until Monday and for new loans was 25 per cent. Time loans were also firmer, with no offerings under 6 per cent. It was reported that money was offered in Wall street from many interior markets during the early part of the day, when rates were highest, and that these offerings were responsible for the fall which occurred in the afternoon. One small lot of gold was reported as having been engaged for import, but the Bank of England advanced its selling price for gold and placed the usual obstructions to a free flow hither.

During the first hour the market was heavy in tone, and a sharp decline occurred in some of the specialties. For the remainder of the day until near the close trading was extremely dull, but there was a gradual improvement in the tone of the market. In the final dealings a strong rally set in and in many instances closing prices were higher than on Thursday.

The strength of Pennsylvania was the most conspicuous feature of the day's market, and it did much to stay the downward tendency in the early part of the session. After opening at 140, there was a temporary reaction to 139⅝, from which point the stock steadily advanced to 142, the highest on this movement. The close was at 141¾, a net gain of 1⅜ per cent. This was the first time in weeks that Pennsylvania has displayed decided strength, and inasmuch as Philadelphia houses were reported large purchasers, it was inferred that they had some intimation of a speedy settlement of the anthracite coal dispute. Pennsylvania has long ruled below the parity of other investment stocks and the enormous increase in earnings have had no market effect up to the present time. Wall street, therefore, looked upon its movement yesterday as of more than ordinary significance.

Amalgamated Copper was one of the strongest of the industrials, and after selling off from 111¼ to 109¾ during the opening hour, recovered all the loss and closed at a gain of ⅞ per cent. Anaconda Copper and American Smelting closed lower. United States Steel stocks held remarkably steady all day and both common and preferred closed a fraction higher. There were only insignificant changes in the remainder of the industrial list.

Union Pacific was moderately active, and after selling off sharply at the opening, subsequently recovered all the loss and closed ⅝ per cent higher. Most of the other railroad stocks closed fractionally higher, and the tone of the market as a whole was firm.

Today's bank statement is awaited with considerable interest. The preliminary estimates of the loss in cash for the week ranged between $7,000,000 and $10,000,000, and unless there has been a large reduction in loans, the surplus reserved is likely to be reduced to the vanishing point.

With the exception of Cable Consolidated, which was traded in to the extent of 14,000 shares at 69c to 72c, there was very little doing in mining shares on the local stock exchange, and dealings in the curb market were the lightest for many weeks. The strongest stock in the market was National Fire Proofing preferred, which in the late session became quite active, advancing to and closing at 28, a gain for the day of a dollar a share, and a recovery from the recent low point of about $5 a share. The common stock was also firmer, advancing to and closing at 8. Crucible Steel was firmer, the common advancing to 15¼ and the preferred closing at 80, an advance of ½ per cent. Manufacturers Light and Heat lost ½ point, closing at 30½, while Ohio Fuel Supply rallied to 35⅝. The remainder of the list was extremely dull and without important change.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The great bulk of the business in call loans on the New York stock exchange yesterday was transacted at rates ranging between 20 and 25 per cent. One loan was reported as high as 31 per cent, which marks a new high record for more than a score of years. The severest stringency of the day was over before the period at which the flurry had occurred on previous days of the week. This was due in large part to the fact that necessitous borrowers were prompt to supply their needs rather than wait until late in the day, in fear that rates by that time would be higher than Thursday, and the supply of available funds reduced to narrow proportions. The late flurries heretofore have been largely due to this class of borrowers, and the quality of their collateral has also played an important part. Cases are related where loans have been arranged, but the collateral when presented held to be unsatisfactory, thus compelling the borrowers to make what terms they could late in the day. The foreshadowings of borrowers yesterday covered the requirements, while there was still plenty of time to make arrangements. The consequence was a sharp relapse in rates in the latter part of the day, when borrower's needs were supplied and the remnant of funds left on hand unplaced.

The compilation of the week's currency movement at New York, published during the afternoon, offered ample explanation of the course of the money market during the week. The sub-treasury has absorbed $5,195,000. The estimates of the movement to the interior by express on balance differ widely, making the estimates of the net loss of cash vary all the way from $7,000,000 to considerably over $10,000,000. As the surplus reserve of the banks last week stood at only a little over $5,000,000, it is clear that the maintenance of its integrity depends on the extent to which the deposit liabilities have been reduced by the scaling down of loans.

Some of the heaviest lending in Wall street yesterday was by banks which called large loans earlier in the week. Some of the loans thus called were supposed at the time to be of Japanese funds on deposit in New York, which were being called in for remittance to Japan. It was conjectured that the high rate to which money had risen induced the replacement of some of these funds in call loans. There was continued resort also to the foreign exchange market under which prices for bills in that market have further wide declines and increased the likelihood of gold moving to New York. A small engagement was reported late in the day, and it was reported that New York bankers expected to secure gold to arrive in London on Monday. The rate of discount hardened in London and the price of gold was marked up in that market.

More than a third of the total sales of bonds on the New York exchange yesterday consisted of Pennsylvania 6½s. Sales of the convertibles reached $642,000 at 100@to 101⅝, and of the 3½s of 1915 sales reached $719,000 at 96¾ to 96⅝.

Consolidated Gas preferred of Pittsburgh advanced to and closed at 40 bid, the highest price of the year, and a recovery of $15 a share from the low price of the year.

Local bankers have been looking for a national bank call any day now, but a dispatch from Washington yesterday stated that the impression prevails there that the comptroller will not issue his call until the latter part of the month. Last year the call came March 14.

Philadelphia banks yesterday advanced the call loan rate to 6 per cent. It was reported that New York had shipped $4,000,000 currency to Philadelphia this week. The source of the demand was not revealed.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. were the largest lenders of call loans in Wall street yesterday. They were credited with putting out more than $10,000,000 at 25 per cent. The firm was also reported to be a large buyer of Pennsylvania railroad stock.

Moorhead's Quarterly Record of Pittsburgh stock exchange securities, as of April 1, of which C. F. Pugh is editor, has just been issued. The record is brought down to April 1 and the information contained is reliable as it is secured from official sources.

A syndicate headed by the German Reichbank has undertaken the issue of a new imperial loan at 3½ per cent for $65,000,000, and a 3½ per cent Prussian loan for $75,000,000. They will be offered for public subscription from April 11 till October 15. At first the issue price will be 100; afterward it will be 100.50. It is understood that the syndicate will get the bonds at 99.40.

E. W. Snow's April 1 crop report shows a remarkably uniform condition of winter wheat. He makes the condition 91.2.

Bradstreet's has issued a special grain report showing winter wheat conditions throughout the country splendid. There is plenty of moisture. Oats and corn seeding is one to two weeks late in the southwest and as yet but little spring wheat has been planted. The ground is in excellent condition.

Foreign Financial.

LONDON, April 6.—Supplies of money were more abundant in the market today. Discounts were firm owing to the weakness of continental exchanges, and the state of the money market in New York. American exchange advanced and the price of their gold was put up ½d, in anticipation of a demand of America. Prices on the exchange were irregular. Consols were easier, which was attributed to the situation in Natal. Bar silver firm, 29¾d per ounce. Money, 2½@2¾ per cent. Discount for short bills is 2⅝@2 15-16 per cent. Discount for three months' bills is 2 15-16@3 per cent; consols for money, 90 11-16; consols for account, 90 15-16.

PARIS, April 6.—Trading on the bourse today was inactive, operators awaiting an official announcement of the terms of the new Russian loan. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at $7.40, and Russian bonds of 1904 at 519.00. Three per cent rentes 99f 12½c for the account. Exchange on London, 25f 11½c for checks.

BERLIN, April 6.—Exchange on London, 20 marks 47½ pfgs. for checks. Discount rates: Short bills, 3⅛ per cent; three months' bills, 3⅛ per cent. The tone on the bourse today was undecided.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 6.—Prices on the bourse steadied today and then advanced slightly. Imperial 4s closing at 76⅞.

Statement of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve, shows: Available cash balance, $162,590,706; gold coin and bullion, $78,746,478; gold certificates, $57,344,190; silver coin and bullion $9,538,822; silver certificates, $3,743,796; United States notes, $9,405,765; treasury notes of 1890, $54,991; national bank notes, $2,243,014; total receipts this month, $9,408,629; total receipts this year, $455,882,762; total expenditures this month, $8,780,000; total expenditures this year, $448,291,908.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Prime mercantile paper, 5¼@5½ per cent; sterling exchange weak, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 84.50@4 84.55 for demand and at $4 82.15@4 82.20 for 60-day bills. Posted rates, $4 82@4 82½ and $4 85½@4 87. Commercial bills, $4 81¾@4 81¾. Bar silver, 64¾c; Mexican dollars, 49¾c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds heavy. Money on call strong; highest, 31 per cent; lowest, 6 per cent; ruling rate, 15 per cent; last loan, 15 per cent; closing bid 12 per cent; offered, 15 per cent. Time loans firmer; 60 days, 90 days and six months, 5½@6 per cent.

Receipts and Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—National bank notes received today for redemption, $1,131,629; government receipts from internal revenue, $542,246; customs, $886,348; miscellaneous, $79,-691; expenditures, $2,060,000.

MARKET IS STILL FIRM AND FEW CHANGES MADE

Sweet Potatoes Are Going Up. Other Vegetables Have Bearish Tendency.

Few changes were noticeable in the local market yesterday. Probably the biggest change was in Jersey sweets. In crates they jumped from $1 20 to $1 50 as the maximum price, and local dealers say the top is not yet reached. On account of the waning season this vegetable has now grain gotten to be a luxury.

German seed cabbage was also in the limelight. It took a tumble and was quoted at $45 and $50 per yard price a ton, which is a reduction of $10 to $15. A proportionate reduction was made in Liberty street.

Eggs still remain spasmodic. Liberty street merchants are asking more money for eggs than they can be bought for in the west, and every other market in the country is cheaper than the local market. Yet the demand is so great and the supply so limited that it is necessary for the local dealers to ask 18 to 19 cents for them.

Dressed chickens are cheaper, but the supply is limited. A few weeks more will see the influx of poultry from the south increased, and they will drop still more.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts bulletined yesterday were—Pennsylvania lines, 30 cars oats, 20 cars hay, 7 cars corn, 3 cars feed, 4 cars rye; Baltimore & Ohio, 6 cars hay, 2 cars corn, 3 cars oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 4 cars hay, 4 cars oats, 1 car corn.

Receipts still continue light. The local market could be considered cheap when the figures on outside markets are taken into consideration. The local condition is unique in that prices are no higher here than in the west, whence the local demand is supplied.

FAVORABLE REPORTS DEPRESS WHEAT MARKET

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 6.—Liberal shipments of wheat from Argentina and continued favorable reports concerning the crop in the United States had a depressing effect today on the local wheat market. At the close wheat for May was off 1¼@1¼c. Corn was up ¼@¼c. Oats showed a loss of ½c. Provisions were unchanged to 2½c higher.

The wheat market opened easier because of reports that the reports from Argentina were 4,480,000 bushels against 3,616,000 bushels the previous week and favorable weather conditions in this country. During the first hour there was free selling by pit traders and commission houses and the weakness became pronounced. News of the day, however, was not all in favor of the bears. The Missouri reports which declared the condition of wheat in that state to be 85 on April 1 against 87 on March 1 caused considerable covering by shorts.

Other factors which assisted in steadying the market were higher prices for cash wheat at outside points and the relative strength of wheat in the southwest. The local market was steady during the last hour and a large part of the early loss was regained. The close was steady. May opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 77⅛c to 77⅜c, sold off to 77¼c and closed at 77¼@77⅝c. July ranged between 76⅞@77c and 77¼@77⅝c and closed unchanged at 77¼c.

Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 190,000 bushels. Exports for the week as shown by Bradstreets were equal to 2,000,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 442,000 bushels against 311,000 bushels one year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 348 cars against 340 cars last week and 265 cars one year ago.

The corn market was weak early in the day because of improved weather conditions but later became firm on buying by cash houses. The market closed firm with prices almost at the highest point of the day. May opened unchanged to a shade lower at 45@45⅛c to 45¼c, sold off to 44⅞@45c and then rallied to 45⅜c. The close was at 45¼c. Local receipts were 158 cars with two of contract grade.

Selling of the May delivery by local bulls was the feature of the oats market. This selling which had a depressing effect on the entire market was brought on by improvement in weather conditions throughout the middle west. The market closed steady. May opened unchanged at 31¼c, sold off to 31c and closed at 31⅛@31¼c. Local receipts were 127 cars.

Trading in provisions was very quiet but prices were steady. There was some profittaking in pork early in the day which caused a moderate decline in that product but the loss later was entirely regained. At the close May pork was unchanged at $16 12½. Lard was also unchanged at $8 35. Ribs were 2½c higher at $8 55. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 3 cars, corn 407 cars, oats 181 cars, hogs 16,000 head.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Confirmation was received in Pittsburgh yesterday of the report that a new vein had been struck in the Montgomery Shoshone Consolidated on the 300-foot level, with the further information that orders had been issued to sink to the 400-foot level and crosscut. It is also authoritatively reported that ore has been struck in the Polaris mine, belonging to the Montgomery Shoshone group.

Advices from Salt Lake say it is positively known that orders have been placed for materials for building no fewer than five mills with which to reduce the gold-bearing ores of the Bullfrog region, in Nevada, toward which the rails of the San Pedro are advancing at the rate of a mile or more daily. Charles O. Wittemore, of counsel for the railway company, in an interview there, says it is by no means all the ongoing traffic of which the railway has positive assurance. On the contrary, it is known to the management that all of the more prominent companies have either placed orders for, or have decided on, mine equipment, included in which are hoists and compressors, with which to supply the power for machine drills, and for heavy tonnages of building materials.

Owing to the expiration of the contracts with the American Smelting & Refining Company, through which the Bingham Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company has been accepting ores from the Cactus Boston Consolidated and Utah Copper mines for treatment, the later named corporation has increased the output from its own mines. The present increase is about 200 tons per day.

The Raven Company at Butte has uncovered 12-foot body of ore on the 1,500-foot level of the property. The strike is by far the best ever made in the Raven property. For some time past the company has been doing drifting and exploration work in a northerly direction on the 1,500-foot level in an effort to cut the main vein.

A combination of Salt Lake interests, including Charles A. Taylor and I. A. Clayton, have secured the controlling interest of the Black Butte Bonanza Mining Company.

The annual report of the North Star Mines Company of California for the calendar year 1905 gives the output as 77,530 tons of ore, producing $878,861, from which there was an operating profit of $495,047. During the year $200,750 was expended on development and improvements, leaving net profits of $294,297; 8 per cent in dividends, $195,573, was paid, and $98,423 was carried to surplus.

F. M. Smith, owner of the enormous borax deposits in Nevada, who is building a road from Ludlow, Cal., a point on the Santa Fe, through his borax fields to Bullfrog, was in Goldfield. Much interest has been shown in Goldfield as to whether the Smith road would be extended as far north as Goldfield or Tonopah. Smith emphatically stated that the road would be continued from Bullfrog and possibly further north to Tonopah and Manhattan.

The construction work on his road, Mr. Smith says, is completed to a point about 50 miles out from Ludlow in San Bernardino county, Cal., and the rails laid for a distance of 40 miles. Steel is being placed at the rate of a mile a day and every effort made to get the road into Bullfrog at the earliest possible date.

He said that he had been hampered somewhat by delay in arrival of rails due to washouts on the Santa Fe, but it is currently reported that a combination of railroad interests has obstructed Smith in the building of this road as much as possible in order to let the Clark road from Las Vegas into Bullfrog months in advance of Smith.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, April 6.—There was an advance of 5s 10s in the London market, with spot closing at £173 10s and futures at £168 15s. Locally the market was quiet, with spot quoted at $38 15@38 25. Copper was a little lower abroad, with spot quoted at £84 5s and futures at £81 5s. Locally the market was unchanged. Lake copper is quoted at $18 50@18 75; electrolytic, $18 25@18 50; casting, $18 00@18 25. Lead was unchanged at $5 35@5 40 in the local market, but was a shade higher at £15 12s 6d in London. Spelter was unchanged at £25 7s 6d in London. Locally the market was a shade lower, with spot quoted at $6 10@6 15. Iron was lower abroad, closing at 48s 1d for standard foundry and 48s 1½d for Cleveland warrants. Locally the market continued firm, but without further change in prices. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $18 50@19 25; No. 2 foundry northern, $18 00@18 50; No. 1 foundry southern, $18 25@18 75; No. 2 foundry southern, $17 75@18 50.

LONDON, April 6.—Copper was steady in the market today. The price closed at 86s 6d. About 6,000 tons were sold. Tin was strong and closed at £173 10s. Six hundred and fifty tons were sold.

SPRING WEATHER HELPS GENERAL RETAIL TRADE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 6.—Bradstreet's summary of trade will say tomorrow: Real spring weather which has stimulated retail trade, an ideal winter wheat situation, a little more animation in the iron market, continued activity in nearly all lines of industry, heavy railway earnings, increased bank clearings and the surprisingly little adverse effect of the coal miners partial shut-down, are the significant features presenting themselves this week.

The rush of spring jobbing is about over, but improved retail demand has already evoked some reorder business and encouraging reports as to enlarged orders for fall delivery present themselves. Business failures in the United States for the week ending April 5 number 181, against 170 in the like week of 1905. In Canada, failures were 17, as against 28 a year ago.

Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending April 5, are 2,185,616 bushels, against 2,749,853 last week, 888,617 this week last year, 1,534,000 in 1904 and 2,893,295 in 1903. Corn exports for the week are 3,102,588 bushels, against 2,945,473 last week, 3,260,347 a year ago; 1,038,907 bushels in 1904, and 2,654,722 in 1903.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review will say tomorrow: Opening of spring trade is not perceptibly retarded by the partial interruption to coal mining except in the immediate vicinity of anthracite mines. High temperature not only broadens the demand for seasonable merchandise, but stimulates agricultural operations, reopens northern navigation, and starts many contemplated building operations. Were it not for a few labor controversies, the commercial horizon would be cloudless.

Railway earnings in March were 6.9 per cent larger than last year, and foreign commerce at this port for the last week showed gains of $1,129,989 in imports and $827,989 in exports as compared with the corresponding week in 1905.

Progress in the iron and steel industry has not suffered as yet from the partial suspension of coal mining, and new business comes forward each week in great volume. Latest developments are most pronounced in the structural steel division. Next in volume of new business is the tonnage of steel rails that is rapidly closing order books up to the end of the year. Further strength appeared in the hide market.

BANK CLEARINGS.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The following table, compiled by Bradstreet, shows the bank clearings at the principal cities for the week ended April 6, with the percentage of increase and decrease as compared with the corresponding week last year:

COMPLETE BIG WORK BY JUNE

Pennsylvania's Track Improvements Cost $4,000,000—Wabash Has No Plan.

BIG COLONIST TRAFFIC ENDS

After more than three years of work the Pennsylvania Company expects now to have completed by June 1 its vast trackage improvements in Allegheny. This will not include the company's entire improvement of its property, as some work will remain to be done at the shops and also in the erection of a new Y. M. C. A. building. With its elevated and depressed trackage completed, the company will have spent more than $4,000,000, with a resulting great betterment for the company and also an improvement of almost untold value to Allegheny. When an elevated road was talked of there was opposition, it being claimed that such a road would be a nuisance and would depress property values along the route. Experience for more than two years in the completed elevated trackage from the company's bridge across the Allegheny river to Marion avenue has shown that such claims have been set aside. Practically half a mile of four tracks, elevated past the Federal street station, with connections for the West Penn division and with the passenger terminal yard near Marion avenue, and more than half a mile of four-track road depressed so as to allow free overhead crossings, are the extent of this work. Along with this new trackage will come new freight and passenger stations. Robert Trimble, chief engineer of maintenance of way of the Ft. Wayne route, said that the trackage will be completed at least by June 1.

It was reported yesterday that the Pennsylvania railroad will not endeavor to build a new freight station this year, but arrangements have been made to go ahead with this improvement in a short time. As noted in The Gazette a couple of days ago, Superintendent Morrow of the West Penn division said that it may be a few days, weeks or months, but the new station will be built this summer.

Simply Transferring Wabash Property.

What have appeared as new purchases of property in Allegheny by the Wabash in the past couple of weeks through a number of properties being deeded to C. C. Needham, real estate agent of the company, are simply transfers of the property from the names of former purchasers for the Wabash to Mr. Needham's name, so as to have them all under one designation. In speaking of this yesterday, Vice President Worthington said:

"We have made no new purchases in Allegheny. A large number of pieces of property were purchased by Mr. Patterson for the Wabash a year or so ago, these purchases being made in various names. We are now simply transferring these properties in name. There is no sign in this transfer that we are going to do anything in the Allegheny terminal, for we have no plan for that. We have no right to think of anything in Allegheny now, in fact, for we have not yet reached an agreement with Major Sibert respecting the proposed bridge. Until this is done we cannot do anything with the North Side properties."

Some of the properties in these transfers are in the irregular triangle formed by River avenue and Anderson and Robinson streets, east of Anderson. It was reported variously that these purchases were being made by the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and Wabash interests.

Bigs Days in Interchange.

Reaching well up toward the high daily record of interchange in the Pennsylvania terminals are the records nowadays. Thursday's interchange, according to figures in the office of General Agent Jaggard, amounted to 6,585 cars. The largest daily record is about 7,300. For the month of March the average was about 6,800, being about the same as the average through the winter. From the first week of April, the outlook is that this month's average will be about 6,000 or 6,200. Such an increase coming just after the threatened slump of traffic through coal troubles, indicates that the large manufacturing interests are busy shipping their products.

Charles Hall, assistant general freight agent of the Frisco at St. Louis, who was here conferring with General Agent Ellsworth and P. J. Mullaney, commercial agent of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis at Cincinnati, both spoke of business being excellent on their roads, the south and southwest being busy sections of the country.

B. & O. Mass Meeting for Y. M. C. A.

Baltimore & Ohio railroad operating and shop men have been asked to attend a mass meeting next Wednesday evening in the new sawmill at Glenwood, to talk over a Young Men's Christian association for that place. The decision to hold this mass meeting was reached at a meeting of several of the division officers Thursday evening at the Water street station. One of the officers said yesterday the outlook now is that a Y. M. C. A. will be established without doubt. President Murray has expressed himself favorable to Y. M. C. A. work at several other places, he having advised General Secretary Bancroft of the Columbus branch that the company will increase its appropriation there for assistance in maintaining the branch. Subscriptions to membership at Glenwood will be taken to ascertain how many of the men favor the proposition and intend to become members.

New Men in B. & O. and M. P. Boards.

At a meeting of the Baltimore & Ohio board of directors Wednesday the resignation of Jacob H. Schiff from the board was acted upon. It is expected that Charles T. Crane, president of the Farmers and Mechanics National bank of Baltimore, will succeed Mr. Schiff.

James H. Smith has been chosen by directors of the Missouri Pacific railroad to succeed Russell Sage as a member of the executive committee. George J. Gould announced that Mr. Sage had withdrawn from the committee because of his inability to attend its meetings, but that his place is always open for him in case he returns.

Railroad Notes.

General Freight Agent Booth of the Wabash was in Chicago attending a special traffic meeting.

E. T. White superintendent of motive power of the Baltimore & Ohio, was here from Baltimore.

J. N. Githens has been appointed general agent of the Missouri Pacific in Chicago. He was formerly with the Illinois Central.

R. H. Bell, who came here as commercial agent of the Canadian Northern early this week, has established his office at No. 311 Bessemer building.

Thomas G. Orr, traveling passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific, will leave tomorrow for New York to confer with Assistant Traffic Manager E. V. Skinner.

C. M. Simpson of Millvale has invented and patented a new rail, which is in shorter sections than the standard rail, although its construction makes it practically jointless.

Because some union switchmen were discharged from service on the Monongahela Connecting railroad, the terminal line of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, Frank T. Hawley, grand master of the Switchmen's union of North America, came to Pittsburgh, and it is said that a strike of all switchmen in the company's employ has been ordered. At the company's offices it was said no trouble was expected.

Formal notice has been given by the Pennsylvania railroad to the Trunk Line association of its withdrawal from the party rate agreements covering labor, theatrical and military traffic. Through what an officer claimed was a hasty and improper act, the road read itself out of the military pool some time ago, and it was thought that this influenced its withdrawal from the theatrical and labor pools also, which cover the emigration business. Pennsylvania officers say the withdrawal has been made on advice of counsel.

FLYER ESCAPES WRECK.

Engineer Sees Pile of Ties on Track and Reduces Speed to Prevent Catastrophe.

BRADFORD, Pa., April 6.—(Special.)—The officials of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway are at a loss to account for the attempt made this morning to wreck the Pittsburgh flyer. A special agent gives out a statement that he believes some drunken men were responsible, but as no drunken men were seen in the vicinity and as it was a carefully carried out plan to ditch the train, that theory does not seem to cover the situation. No clue has been obtained.

The place chosen for the wreck was on a straight line of track where passenger trains always pull out at full speed. Several ties were laid across the track and on top of these kegs of spikes were placed. The obstruction was seen by the engineer in time to slow down.

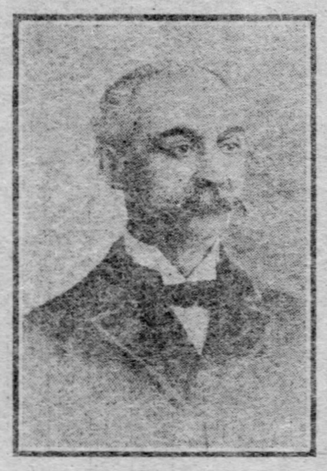
BIG PLANT FOR LIBERTY AVENUE

Pittsburgh Gage and Supply Co. Gets Site at Thirtieth Street for $250,000 Building.

EAST END TRANSACTIONS

The Pittsburgh Gage and Supply Company has completed its purchase of nearly 20,000 square feet of ground at the southeast corner of Liberty avenue and Thirtieth street, mentioned in The Gazette two weeks ago. The deal amounts to $117,000, and was made through the Commonwealth Real Estate Company. It gives to the company seven lots, 24x174 feet each, facing in Liberty avenue and running back to Sassafras alley. Three of these were obtained from Bessie D. Gregg, two from the Denny McKee estate and one each



M. J. EHRENFELD.

Few brokers are better known in Pittsburgh than M. J. Ehrenfeld, who is located at 1022 Forbes street. During the last 10 years Mr. Ehrenfeld has sold perhaps more property in outer Fifth avenue and Forbes street than any other individual broker, and he is considered an authority on values throughout those districts.

from Kate McKnight and Mrs. F. McK. Pierce. Thirtieth street at this point is very little used, but it has never been closed. The sale figures at the rate of a trifle over $4 a square foot, which may be considered the value of the ground, as the improvements amount to very little.

On the site purchased the Pittsburgh Gage and Supply Company proposes to erect a six-story and basement steel and concrete building to cost from $200,000 to $250,000. Plans for this will be drawn at once and it will be completed by April 1, 1907, when the company's leases in Water street expire. This building will include fine office quarters, a big warehouse and a modern plant for the manufacture of steam piping, fittings, valves and brass fixtures. It will be the largest plant in that district and cannot fail to be of immense advantage to the outer Liberty avenue field. The company has had its offices and showrooms in Water street for eight years, and now occupies the buildings from 309 to 321, besides three warehouses in First avenue. Its storage yards are at Thirty-first and Penn and its shops at Thirty-first and Liberty. Its entire business will be concentrated next spring in the proposed building, which will be an immense saving in drayage. The best of shipping facilities are assured for it by a joint switch from the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio lines, which will run in from the rear. Over 350 people will be employed at the new plant by the company which has these officers: President, W. L. Rodgers; treasurer, R. F. Ramsey; secretary, T. Lee Rodgers; manager, G. W. Malone.

Highland Frontage Is Sold.

James H. Hamnett has sold 375 feet of Heberton avenue frontage two squares south of Highland park for $31,000. The property is at the northwest corner of Heberton avenue and Stewart street, extending north to Bryant street. Of the whole amount W. L. Woods, the East End realty broker, bought 330 feet for $26,400, or $800 a front foot. The remaining 45 feet, at the corner of Stewart street, was secured by Dr. J. M. Cooper of the East End for $4,600. The lots have a depth of 143 feet and are near the Kaufmann and Lloyd frontage and the large plots owned by J. K. Mellon and R. B., W. S. and A. H. King. Dr. Cooper will have plans drawn at once for a $15,000 residence to be built on his lot, and it is likely that part at least of the remaining frontage will be improved this summer with good houses.

Through the office of John W. Sherrer an exchange deal totaling $63,750 has been made. For Harry G. Hugus he sold the stone and colonial brick residence of 14 rooms handsomely finished and standing on 50x105 feet at 140 Stratford avenue, near Friendship avenue, Twentieth ward, valued at $28,000. The house was built four years ago and has been occupied by Mr. Hugus since. He also sold for Mr. Murphy a vacant lot, 55x105 feet, at the northeast corner of Fairmount avenue and Cornell street, for $6,875. This lot has since been sold to Samuel G. Baltenperger for the same price as the site for a $20,000 residence in payment for these properties Mr. Murphy tendered 14 six-room brick houses on 100x100 feet facing on the south side of Susquehanna street, near Homewood avenue, Twenty-first ward, which went into the deal at $31,875. The houses are rented for $2,736 a year.

Wylie Avenue Sale of $43,000.

Through the Real Estate Trust Company Thomas McDermott has sold to a local investor his property at 527 Wylie avenue, near Sixth avenue, for $43,000 for an investment. A three-story brick store and dwelling stands on the lot, which measures 20x80 feet. The income is $1,580 a year.

From $8,600 to $25,000 is the price record in four years of the property at 1729 Fifth avenue, near Negley avenue, which was sold yesterday through the office of P. Lippert to Dr. Jacob Miskin of Wylie avenue. It consists of 22x89 feet, facing on the south side of the avenue and is improved with a very good three-story brick building, occupied by a plumbing shop and rented for $100 a month till April 1, 1907. Since the sale was effected an offer of $25,000 has been made for the property.

Maud W. Richard takes title to the G. Cook Kimball residence on the north side of Dahlia street, near Aon Lent place, Twentieth ward, which was sold a few weeks ago for $40,000. The residence is a modern 12-room brick house on 58x121 feet.

R. E. Saxton has sold for Charles Friedberg to Thomas E. Long, president of the Pittsburgh Pump Company, 36x139 feet at 20822 Fourth street for $40,000. Mr. Friedberg recently bought the lot for $25,000.

Through George Brothers Samuel Taylor, vice president of the Pittsburgh Lamp, Brass and Glass Company, has bought from the Pittsburgh Investment Company the old homestead of Gen. A. L. Pearson in Maple avenue, Shields, for $23,000. The old house stands in the midst of a seven-acre plot.

Bad Weather Hurt Building.

Bad weather is chiefly responsible for the falling off of 7 per cent in building operations over the country in March, according to The Construction News of Chicago. In 26 large cities there were granted permits for 10,571 buildings estimated to cost $46,116,311. This compares with 12,815 buildings costing $49,932,184 for March, 1905. Just one-half the cities mentioned showed a loss in last month. Washington and Columbus suffered most in this respect, having a decrease of 49 per cent each, Minneapolis fell off 42 per cent, Kansas City, 41 per cent; St. Louis, 35 per cent, Chicago, 30 per cent. Duluth and the sensational gain of 668 per cent, due to the permit for one large building, and Los Angeles ranked second in gains with 84 per cent increase. Below are given the totals for the month of March in the last two years.

MORGANTOWN.—Nine feet 10 inches and rising. Cloudy.

Rise, Liars, And Salute Your Queen

A Young Girl said to a Cooking School Teacher in New York: "If You make One Statement as False as that, All You have said about Foods is Absolutely Unreliable.

This burst of true American girl indignation was caused by the teacher saying that Grape-Nuts, the popular pre-digested food, was made of stale bread shipped in and sweetened.

The teacher colored up and changed the subject.

In the spring it is the custom on a cattle ranch to have a "round-up," and brand the cattle, so we are going to have a "round-up," and brand these cattle and place them in their proper pastures.

FIRST PASTURE.

Cooking school teachers—this includes "teachers" who have applied to us for weekly pay if they would say "something nice" about Grape-Nuts and Postum, and when we have declined to hire them to do this they get waspy and show their true colors.

This also includes "demonstrators" and "lecturers" sent out by a certain Sanitarium to sell foods made there, and these people instructed by the small-be-whiskered doctor—the head of the institution—to tell these prevarications (you can speak the stronger word if you like). This same little doctor conducts a small magazine in which there is a department of "answers to correspondents," many of the questions as well as the answers being written by the aforesaid doctor.

In this column sometime ago appeared the statement: "No, we cannot recommend the use of Grape-Nuts, for it is nothing but bread with glucose poured over it." Right then he showed his badge as a member of the tribe of Ananias. He may have been a member for some time before, and so he has caused these "lecturers" to descend into the ways of the tribe wherever they go.

When the young lady in New York put the "iron on" to this "teacher" and branded her right we sent $10.00 to the girl for her pluck and bravery.

SECOND PASTURE.

Editors of "Trade" papers known as grocers' papers.

Remember, we don't put the brand on all, by any means. Only those that require it. These members of the tribe have demanded that we carry advertising in their papers and when we do not consider it advisable they institute a campaign of vituperation and slander, printing from time to time manufactured slurs on Postum or Grape-Nuts. When they go far enough we set our legal force at work and hale them to the judge to answer. If the pace has been hot enough to throw some of these "cattle" over on their backs, feet tied and "bellowing," do you think we should be blamed? They gambol around with tails held high and jump stiff legged with a very "cocky" air while they have full range, but when the rope is thrown over them "it's different."

Should we untie them because they bleat soft and low? Or should we put the iron on, so that people will know the brand?

Let's keep them in this pasture, anyhow.

THIRD PASTURE.

Now we come to a frisky lot, the "Labor Union" editors. You know down in Texas a weed called "Loco" is sometimes eaten by a steer and produces a derangement of the brain that makes the steer "batty" or crazy. Many of these editors are "Locoed" from hate of anyone who will not instantly obey the "demands" of a labor union, and it is the universal habit of such writers to go straight into a system of personal villification, manufacturing any sort of falsehood through which to vent their spleen. We assert that the common citizen has a right to live and breathe air without asking permission of the labor trust, and this has brought down on us the hate of these editors. When they go far enough with their libels, is it harsh for us to get judgment against them and have our lawyers watch for a chance to attach money due them from others? (For they are usually irresponsible.)

Now let all these choice specimens take notice:

We will deposit one thousand or fifty thousand dollars to be covered by a like amount from them, or any one of them, and if there was ever one ounce of old bread or any other ingredient different than our selected wheat and barley with a little salt and yeast used in the making of Grape-Nuts, we will lose the money.

Our pure food factories are open at all times to visitors, and thousands pass through each month, inspecting every department and every process. Our factories are so clean that one could, with good relish, eat a meal from the floors.

The work people, both men and women, are of the highest grade in the State of Michigan, and according to the State labor reports, are the highest paid in the State for similar work.

Let us tell you exactly what you will see when you inspect the manufacture of Grape-Nuts. You will find tremendous elevators containing the choicest wheat and barley possible to buy. These grains are carried through long conveyers to grinding mills, and there converted into flour. Then the machines make selection of the proper quantities of this flour in the proper proportion and these parts are blended into a general flour which passes over to the big dough mixing machines, there water, salt and a little yeast are added and the dough kneaded the proper length of time.

Remember that previous to the barley having been ground it was passed through about one hundred hours of soaking in water, then placed on warm floors and slightly sprouted, developing the diastase in the barley, which changes the starch in the grain into a form of sugar.

Now after we have passed it into dough and it has been kneaded long enough, it is moulded by machinery into loaves about 18 inches long and 5 or 8 inches in diameter. It is put into this shape for convenience in second cooking.

These great loaves are sliced by machinery and the slices placed on wire trays, these trays, in turn, placed on great steel trucks, and rolled into the secondary ovens, each perhaps 75 or 80 feet long. There the food is subjected to a long, low heat and the starch which has not been heretofore transformed, is turned into a form of sugar generally known as Post Sugar. It can be seen glistening on the granules of Grape-Nuts if held toward the light, and this sugar is not poured over or put on the food as these prevaricators ignorantly assert. On the contrary the sugar exudes from the interior of each little granule during the process of manufacture, and reminds one of the little white particles of sugar that come out on the end of a hickory log after it has been sawed off and allowed to stand for a length of time.

The Post Sugar is the most digestible food known for human use. It is so perfect in its adaptability that mothers with very young infants will pour a little warm milk over two or three spoonfuls of Grape-Nuts, thus washing the sugar off from the granules and carrying it with the milk to the bottom of the dish. Then this milk charged with Post Sugar is fed to the infants, producing the most satisfactory results, for the baby has food that it can digest quickly and will go off to sleep well fed and contented.

When baby gets two or three months old, it is the custom of some mothers to allow the Grape-Nuts to soak in the milk a little longer and become mushy, whereupon a little of the food can be fed in addition to the milk containing the washed off sugar.

It is by no means manufactured for a baby food, but these facts are stated as an illustration of a perfectly digestible food.

It furnishes the energy and strength for the great athletes. It is in common use by physicians in their own families and among their patients, and can be seen on the table of every first-class college in the land.

"The basis of nomenclature of this preparation is evidently an American pleasantry, since 'Grape-Nuts' is derived solely from cereals. The preparatory process undoubtedly converts the food constituents into a much more digestible condition than in the raw cereal. This is evident from the remarkable solubility of the preparation, no less than one-half of it being soluble in cold water. The soluble part contains chiefly dextrin and no starch. In appearance 'Grape-Nuts' resembles fried bread-crumbs. The grains are brown and crisp, with a pleasant taste not unlike slightly burnt malt. According to our analysis the following is the composition of 'Grape-Nuts': Moisture, 6.02 per cent.; mineral matter, 2.01 per cent.; fat, 1.60 per cent.; proteids, 15.00 per cent.; soluble carbohydrates, etc., 49.40 per cent.; and unaltered carbohydrates (insoluble), 25.97 per cent. The features worthy of note in this analysis are the excellent proportion of proteid, mineral matters, and soluble carbohydrates per cent. The mineral matter was rich in phosphoric acid. 'Grape-Nuts' is described as a brain and nerve food, whatever that may be. Our analysis, at any rate, shows that it is a nutritive of a high order, since it contains the constituents of a complete food in very satisfactory and rich proportion and in an easily assimilable state."

An analysis made by the Canadian Government some time ago shows that Grape-Nuts contains nearly ten times the digestible elements contained in ordinary cereals, and foods, and nearly twice the amount contained in any other food analyzed.

The analysis is familiar to practically every successful physician in America and London.

We print this statement in order that the public may know the exact facts upon which we stake our honor and will back it with any amount of money that any person or corporation will put up.

When you hear a cooking school teacher or any other person assert that either Postum or Grape-Nuts are made of any other ingredients than those printed on the packages and as we say they are made, send us the name and address, also name of two or three witnesses, and if the evidence is clear enough to get a judgment we will right that wrong quickly.

Our business has always been conducted on as high a grade of human intelligence as we are capable of, and we propose to clear the deck of these prevaricators and liars whenever and wherever they can be found.

Attention is again called to the general and broad invitation to visitors to go through our works, where they will be shown the most minute process and device in order that they may understand how pure and clean and wholesome Grape-Nuts and Postum are.

There is an old saying among business men that there is some chance to train a fool, but there is no room for a liar, for you never can tell where you are, and we hereby serve notice on all the members of this ancient tribe of Ananias that they may follow their calling in other lines, but when they put forth their lies about Grape-Nuts and Postum, we propose to give them an opportunity to answer to the proper authorities.

The New York girl wisely said that if a person would lie about one item, it brands the whole discourse as absolutely unreliable.

THE BEER STEIN VS. THE COFFEE POT

Theine and caffeine—the active alkaloidal principles of tea and coffee—are in no respect foods.

Acting as a temporary stimulant, their use is usually followed by a more or less depressing reaction dependent on one's physical condition.

The malt of pure beer has definite food-value, and imparts permanent tonicity to the entire human body.

Silver Top Beer

Free yourself from the bondage of tea and coffee by drinking Duquesne Silver Top Beer at meal times. Its purity is absolute. Order a case sent home.
